ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shree Mahalaxmi Cotton Mills, P.O. Bengal Enamel, Palta, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Shree Mahalaxmi Cotton Mills Employees' Union, P.O. Bengal Enamel, Palta, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-200/62.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Niren Dey, Counsel, and Shri S. K. Bhanja Chowdhury, Labour Adviser.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, Shri M. M. Saha, Advocate, and Shri Anil Das Chowdhury, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 6632-I.R./IR/8L-41/60, dated 29th November 1962, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Mahalaxmi Cotton Mills, P.O. Bengal Enamel, Palta, 24-Parganas (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Shree Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills Employees' Union, P.O. Bengal Enamel Palta, 24-Parganas (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Are the employees of the Shree Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills entitled to get any customary Puja bonus? If so at what rate and on what basis?

AWARD

The Union claims Puja bonus equivalent to one month's wages as a condition of service, on the plea that such bonus used to be paid in earlier years. The question of Puja bonus had been the subject in a previous reference beofre the Tribunal, and the Tribunal was pleased to hold that the workmen were entitled to two months' Puja bonus as a condition of service. The matter came up before the Labour Appellate Tribunal in June 1952 and it is reported in 1952 F.J.R. Vol. IV page 248. The Labour Appellate Tribunal upheld the view of the Industrial Tribunal. Then the matter came up before the Hon'ble High Court on a petition by the Company, and the High Court upheld the said decision but modified the quantum of bonus by allowing it equivalent to one month's basic pay. Since then the workmen have been enjoying the said Puja bonus as a condition of service. In 1960, 1961 and 1962 bonus had been paid to the workmen. Fifteen days' basic pay was given as bonus in 1962, while 20 days' basic pay was given as such during the other two years. The dispute with regard to one month's bonus was always maintained by the workmen, and it was ultimately referred to the Tribunal for decision.

The Company files a written statement challenging that the work are not entitled to any Puja bonus as a condition of service. The Company contends that the claim of the Union for Puja bonus as a condition of service is beyond the scope of the present reference, because the reference is in respect of customary Puja bonus.

The Company was originally named as Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills and it went into liquidation. Then the Hon'ble High Court appointed an Official Liquidator, and the Official Liquidator served notices upon the employees on 2nd April 1960 terminating their services with effect from that date. Thereafter, the workmen filed a petition before the Hon'ble High Court claiming pay in lieu of notice and gratuity at the rate of 15 days' pay for every year of service. On 2nd April 1960, the Official Liquidator under orders of the Hon'ble High Court sold the assets of the Mill to Messrs. Gajraj Pannalal Ltd. The condition of service of the workmen was changed by the new concern. The Union is not entitled to substantiate the workmen's claim of bonus as a condition of service, because the conditions of service prevailing in the old Company do not prevail in the new Company. Since 1960, when the new Company came into existence, no bonus had been paid. In 1960, 20 days' basic pay was given as advance and so also in 1962. In 1961, 15 days' basic pay was given as ex-gratia. The Company is not liable to pay any bonus to the workmen as a condition of service. The claim of customary bonus is unfounded and not justified. There is no payment of bonus by this Company and there is no custom proved by the Union regarding payment of bonus by the old Company. Moreover, customary bonus cannot be pressed against the new Company, for custom terminates with the old employer.

Decision

The first and foremost argument advanced on the side of the Company is that the Union's claim of one month's Puja bonus as a condition of service as made out in the written statement need not be considered by the Tribunal, in view of the fact that it is beyond the scope of the reference. The reference is in the following terms:

"Are the employees.....entitled to get any customary Puja bonus?"

The reference undoubtedly makes mention of the customary Puja bonus. The case of the Union is Puja bonus and not customary bonus. It is claimed as a condition of service in clear and unambiguous term. The learned Counsel for the Company draws a distinction between four types of bonus, namely, production bonus, profit bonus, customary or festival bonus and bonus as a condition of service or implied contract. These four types of bonus had been discussed in the Supreme Court decision reported in 1961 L.L.J. 1 page 521. The relevant discussion occurs at page 526. It is now argued that since there are four types of bonus, and the reference is in respect of customary bonus, the Tribunal should not consider the question of bonus as a condition of service. It is true that there are four types of bonus, but there is no authority for the proposition that the Tribunal while entering into the bonus issue must confine itself to the particular type of bonus without looking into the other types. The issue undoubtedly is Puja bonus. It may be customary or it may be rested on express or implied agreement. Simply because the reference mentions about the customary bonus, the Tribunal should not negative the Union's claim of Puja bonus as a condition of service. The issue formulated in the reference mentions about Puja bonus as well. I cannot, therefore, accept the learned Counsel's contention that the Tribunal cannot enter into the question of bonus claimed as a condition of service. It is significant to note that the learned Advocate for the Union does not emphatically press the claim of customary bonus. The claim is of Puja bonus as a condition of service. It is an undisputed fact that there had been a previous reference where the issue of bonus was referred to the Tribunal. In that case the Tribunal decided that the workmen were entitled to two months' wages as Puja bonus as a condition of service. There was an appeal by the Company to the Labour Appellate Tribunal, and the judgment of the Labour Appellate Tribunal is reported in 1952 F.J.R. IV page 248. The Labour Appellate Tribunal upheld the decision of the Industrial Tribunal and this was in 1952. Admittedly, there was an application to the Hon'ble High Court by the Company. The Hon'ble High Court upheld the claim of Puja bonus as a condition of service, but scaled down the same to one month's basic pay. The reference of 1952 therefore settled the matter of dispute between the Company and its workmen. It was Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills at that time. The Company was one month's basic pay as Puja bonus as a condition liable under the said award to pay to its workmen of service. This position cannot be assailed.

On the side of the Company it is argued that the workmen cannot claim the said bonus against the new concern, namely, Shree Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills started by Gajaraj Pannalal Ltd. The following circumstances are pleaded to defeat the claim of the workmen. It is first of all argued that the old Company went into liquidation, and an Official Liquidator was appointed by the Hon'ble High Court, and as such there was termination of service of the workmen of the old Company. This position has got to be looked into, whether it is a fact or not. The question whether the services of the workmen were terminated by the Official Liquidator is a point of fact, and must be decided as such. Shri P. K. Pal was appointed as Official Liquidator on 25th January 1955. It is significant to note that the business of the Company continued as before, and the employees continued to work there under the same conditions as before. Exhibit 6 is a letter, dated 20th August 1958, from the Official Liquidator on the question of annual puja bonus, and it reads as follows:

> "The Court granted one month's basic pay as Puja bonus for the last three years since the Company went into liquidation. Before the Liquidation, the employees used to get Puja bonus and the Appellate Tribunal adjudicated that Puja bonus was a condition of service. The Liquidator recommends payment of Puja bonus and asks for necessary orders from the Court."

From the above letter, it follows that Puja bonus as a condition of service used to be enjoyed by the workmen before the liquidation proceeding, and after the Official Liquidator took over charge of the Company, it was paid for three years. There was no notice to the workmen terminating their services by the Official Liquidator. The learned Counsel for the Company places before me an order, dated 30th July 1956 (Ext. N), and it is to the effect that the workers represented by an Advocate accepted the position of termination of employment of the workers and recommended as preferential creditor two months' salary as gratuity. The acceptance of this position by the Advocate will not prejudice the claim of the workmen. In fact, the workmen did not receive two months' salary or gratuity or accepted the position of termination of service. It is not a fact that the services of the workmen were terminated or retrenchment benefits were given to them by the Official Liquidator.

The Hon'ble High Court gave leave to the Liquidator to sell the Mill, and the Order is Ext. M, dated 6th July 1959. Exhibit B is the Sale Dead by which the Official Liquidator sold the Mill to Gajaraj Pannalal Ltd. On behalf of Gajaraj Pannalal, who purchased the Mill on 2nd April 1960, it is pleaded that he did not purchase the mill as a going concern, but he purchased only the assets and machineries of the mill, and started a new business. The services of the workmen were terminated by the new employer, and there is no continuity of service under the new management. The Sale Deed (Ext. B) may be looked into in this respect. It shows that the Official Liquidator was appointed to carry on the business of the Mill..... so that the Mill may be run as a going concern and be sold as such. The above words clearly indicate that the Mill was run by the Official Liquidator, and was sold as a going concern to Gajaraj Pannalal. Gajaraj Pannalal obtained possession of the Mill on 2nd April 1960. This is recited in the Sale Deed, which was executed in September 1960. The learned Counsel for the Company draws my attention to the notice of the Official Liquidator (Ext. C), dated 2nd April 1960, by which formal possession was given to the Company formed by Gajaraj Pannalal Ltd. That notice recites that the services of all employees employed by the Official Liquidator would cease. This is said to be the termination of service of all the workmen. I am unable to accept the contention that this notice serves as a termination of services of all the workmen. It only recites the fact that the employees were no longer in the service of the Official Liquidator, but they would be in service of the purchaser Company. Thereafter the Company gave a notice (Ext. 4), dated 5th April 1960, to say that the Mahaluxmi Cotton Mill would start its working on 6th April 1960 and the employees were requested to join their respective departments. This notice is just a call to all employees to continue in service. It cannot be interpreted as new appointments being given to the employees of a closed concern which was being started anew. Exhibit A is a simple application for employment. It only shows the name of the employee, his present address, father's name and the job or position he wanted in the Company. This application is dated 6th April 1960. On the strength of this application it is argued that the Company gave new employment to the workmen. The application form (Ext. A) itself belies such a case. On behalf of the Union, the evidence is that the Company got such application signed much later than the date given thereon, and it was not a new application for employment. It was signed while the worker was continuing in service as before. The application form has several column, but all those columns are not filled in. From the very appearance of the application, it is clear that this was not a new application for new employment. The employees were working as before without any interruption, but they were asked to sign and fill up only the relevant columns as token of their continuance in employment. These applications are sought to be utilised as applications for new employment, but from the very nature of the application form, such a case must be negatived. One Abhimanyu Das applied for himself and on behalf of other employees for payment of one month's pay in lieu of notice and gratuity for every year of service. In fact, there is no evidence that any such payment was made to the workmen. From this application, I am reluctant to infer that the workmen accepted the position of termination of their service. There is also no evidence that any workman signed that application, or that Abhimanyu Das was so authorised on behalf of the workmen. From the evidence discussed above, the irresist conclusion would be that there was no termination of service of the workmen either by the Official Liquidator or by the new Company, and the workmen continued in service without break as before in the running business, which had no break either at the time of liquidation or at the time when the new Company took over it.

Now I will come to a discussion of the legal position. The question whether the new Company would be a successor-in-interest of the old Company in consequence of the transfer need not be considered academically, and this had been the observation of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Dahingapara Tea Estate reported in 1958 II L.L.J. page 498. The issue involved in that case was whether the transfer of management of the Dahingapara Tea Estate consequent on its sale as a going concern to the respondent, put an end to the services of the members of the staff, and the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that it was an abstract question and cannot be answered as such. The Supreme Court, however, in view of the finding taken on the facts of the case, thought it unnecessary to express any opinion on that question. A similar question came up before the Hon'ble Supreme Court in another case, namely, Kays Construction Co. Ltd. reported in 1958 II L.L.J. page 660. That question was not decided in this reported case as well, and it was found on fact that the concern taken over was the same business under a changed name.

The matter was then argued with particular reference to section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act in the light of the decision reported in 1962 L.L.J. II page 621 of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. It is first of all argued that since the ownership is transferred, every workman who had been in continuous service for not less than one year in the previous undertaking, shall be entitled to notice and compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F, as if the workman had been retrenched under the provisions of section 25FF. In view of the provisions of the above section, the workman becomes entitled to notice and compensation in the manner provided in section 25FF and as such the service of the workman stands terminated on such transfer. There is a proviso to that section which runs thus:

> Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to a workman in any case where there has been a change of employers by reason of the transfer, if—
> (a) the service of the workman has not been inturrupted by such transfer;
> (b) the terms and conditions of service applicable to the workman after such transfer are not in any way less favourable to the workman than those applicable to him immediately before the transfer; and
> (c) the new employer is, under the terms of such transfer or otherwise, legally liable to pay to the workman, in the event of his retrenchment, compensation on the basis that his service has been continuous and has not been inturrupted by the transfer.

The case reported in 1962 II L.L.J. page 621 does not throw much light upon our case. It was a case of claim for re-employment. The workmen received compensation under section 25FF and wanted re-employment under section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Hon'ble Supreme Court held that if the transferee was by Statute required to pay retrenchment compensation to his workmen, it would be anomalous to suggest that the workmen who received compensation, were entitled to claim immediate re-employment in the concern at the hands of the transferee. In the reported case, the workmen received compensation in terms of section 25FF, and after they were retrenched in that manner, they claimed re-employment under section 25H as retrenched workers. The workmen whose service was terminated under section 25FF were entitled to receive compensation, as if they had been retrenched, but they were not to be called "retrenched workers" within the meaning of section 25H. That is the burden of decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. To the instant case, the reported case has no application at all. In the present case, the services of the workmen were never terminated, and they did not claim or receive any compensation under section 25FF. The workmen in the instant case come within the proviso of section 25FF, as their services had not been inturrupted by the transferee. The terms and conditions of their service after such transfer were not in any way less favourable to them than the terms and conditions applicable to them immediately before the transfer. From this, the continuity of service of the workmen may be inferred. It may be said that the new employer is legally liable to pay to the workmen, in the event of their retrenchment, compensation on the basis that their service has been continuous and has not been interrupted by the transfer of ownership of the business. The continuity of service and service conditions must be inferred from the proved facts and circumstances. The business was a running concern and the workmen were employed in it all through. There was no interruption in the working of the Mill when Gajaraj Pannalal took over it, and the services of the old employees continued as before under Gajaraj Pannalal without any new service condition being introduced or imposed, or break or change in the service or the service condition of the workmen. The case of the workmen clearly falls under the purview of the proviso to section 25FF of the Act. I have already discussed the facts leading to the above conclusion on the evidence recorded. Bonus used to be paid to the workmen as a condition of service, and the said condition of service was continued by the Official Liquidator and was not even altered by the new concern. It is true that the new concern did not pay any Puja bonus as a condition of service, but that does not matter. Under the old conditions of service which are available against the new concern as well, the claim of bonus can be maintained as a condition of service by the workmen. I accordingly find that the workmen are entitled to one month's basic pay as Puja bonus as a condition of service.

This is my award, and the Company is directed to implement it within one month of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

This dispute was previously referred to the First Labour Court by Order No. 2517-I.R./IR/9L-16/59, dated 4th June 1959, for adjudication which has been replaced by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under Notification 3115-I.R./IR/3A-6/59, dated 21st June 1960, and has in consequence been abolished by Notification No. 3508-I.R./IR/3A-9/59, dated 11th July 1960.

The Schedule

Whether the dismissal of Sarbashree Baldeo Naik, Gangaram Routia and Dobraj Uroan was justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

AWARD

Both parties filed a joint petition of compromise on 27th May 1964 stating that the disputes outstanding between the parties had been amicably settled out of Court. The parties also prayed for an award. It appears that the Company agreed to reinstate the three workmen involved in this case with a lump sum compensation of Rs. 1,000 and the period of their unemployment from the date of dismissal till the date of their reinstatement, i.e., up to 7th June 1964 will be treated as leave without pay in each case. The terms of the compromise appear to be fair and reasonable.

I therefore pass an award in terms of the petition of compromise which do form part of the award as Annexure "A".

Issue

Whether the termination of services of the following workmen was justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Rankanath Maharana.
(2) Bairagi Sain.
(3) Wakil Singh.
(4) Sri Gopal Mali.
(5) Ramnath Singh.
(6) Shew Mongal.
(7) Matilal Majhi.
(8) Harisankar Singh.
(9) Adhikari Bahara.
(10) Kartick Pashi.
(11) Shyamsundar Rawal.

(13) Khelari Pashi.
(14) Godabari Paul.
(15) Krishna Ch. Paul.
(16) Nakul Maharana.
(17) Mrittunjoy Paul.

The issue relates to the termination of services of 17 workmen named therein. Regarding the merits of the termination of services of these workmen, it appears from the written statements filed by the Union that the services of all these workmen were not terminated on the same ground and at the same time, but the termination of services of different workmen was effected on different grounds and at different times. The specific cases of the parties regarding the termination of services of different workmen named in the issue will be stated and discussed when I will take up the merits of the issue.

Before going into the merits of the issue, I am to dispose of a preliminary legal objection raised on behalf of the Company. The legal objection is that this concerned Union being a stranger Union and not a Union exclusively of the workmen of this Company is not legally competent to raise this industrial dispute on behalf of the concerned workmen and consequently this dispute raised by some workmen through this Union is not an industrial dispute and as such it is not referable for adjudication and this Tribunal cannot also adjudicate upon it. It has also been faintly alleged that the concerned Union is not also a Union of workmen of the general industry carried on by this Company and other companies.

It has transpired in evidence that quite a substantial number of workmen of this Company are members of the concerned Union, Wood Products Mazdoor Union. P.W. 1 Shri Nakul Maharana has testified that 70 or 80 per cent. of about 200/250 workmen employed by this Company are members of this Union and there is no other Union of the workmen of this Company except this Union. In cross-examination he has made the point clear by saying that out of the entire body of workmen, more than 150 are members of this Union. P.W. 3 Shri Provakar Rawal, a present workman of this Company, and who is not one of the concerned workmen, has also stated that about 100 to 75 workmen of this Company are members of this Union and there is no other Union in this workshop. He has also proved the membership applications made by some workmen of this Company to this Union (vide Ext. 25 series). This witness is the Secretary of this Union. The concerned workmen were all workmen of the bobbin manufacturing section of this Company. It is an undisputed position that this Company produces wooden bobbins. There are indications in the evidence itself that wood is used for work in the bobbin section. It is in the evidence of the Company's Manager, Shri Ojha (O.P.W. 3), that the concerned workman No. 5 Ram Nath Singh was employed for the work of removing mango logs and stacking the planks. This clearly indicates that wood is used for production of finished goods by this Company in the bobbin section. It may thus quite properly be said that this Company is also engaged in manufacturing wood products. So, the general union of the workmen engaged in the industry of manufacturing wood products is quite competent-to legally represent the workmen of this Company, which is also engaged in similar industry. But this legal competence will arise only if it is proved that quite a large and substantial number of workmen of this Company are members of this Union. This fact has been clearly proved by the evidence already referred to above. I may state here that there is no counter-evidence on this point on the side of the Company. In fact, none of the Company's witnesses has made any statement denying the evidence of some witnesses on the Union's side, referred to above, that quite a large and substantial number of workmen of this Company, to the tune of 70/80 per cent. of the total number of workmen, are members of this Union and asserting that no workmen of this Company, nor any appreciable number of workmen of this Company, are members of this Union. In view of this nature of evidence on this point, I hold that it has been satisfactorily proved that the concerned Union is a Union of the general industry carried on by this Company and quite a large and substantial number of workmen of this Company, about 70/80 per cent., are members of this Union. In view of this factual position, it must be held that this concerned Union, though not a Union exclusively of the workmen of this Company, is still legally competent to raise an industrial dispute on behalf of the workmen of this Company by reflecting a concerted demand of quite a large and substantial number of workmen of this Company who are members of this Union. Accordingly, I reject the preliminary legal objection raised on behalf of the Company and hold that this Union is legally competent to raise the present industrial dispute and as such the dispute is capable of legal adjudication under the Industrial Disputes Act on reference to this Tribunal.

I will now go into the merits of the issue.

Before taking up the case of each particular workman, I should briefly state the general case of the Union regarding all these workmen. It is that all these workmen were victimised by illegal and unjustified termination of services on some pretext or other because the Company got annoyed with them for their joining the present Union some time in 1961, when the Union was formed. It is further alleged by the Union that in pursuance of this vindictive attitude of the Company, it discharged eight workmen, some of whom are among the concerned workmen of this case, some time before December 1960, and the Union raised a dispute regarding the discharge of these workmen, which was taken up for conciliation by a Labour Officer and it was agreed at the conciliation on 21st December 1960 that all these workmen would be allowed to resume duty on and from the next date, on their reporting for duty. But this agreement was not respected by the Company and the workers who reported for duty on 22nd December 1960 were not taken in on that date, but finally they were allowed to resume their work. The Company's case regarding this plea of the Union is that the Company did not adopt any vindictive attitude against the workmen because of their joining the Union and the eight workmen, referred to above, were not discharged by the Company, but they themselves deserted service and fled away after taking some advances from the Company to meet their urgent needs when there was flood in their home district in Orissa and these advances were not re-paid. The conciliation proceeding is admitted and it is also admitted that it was agreed that all these eight workmen would be allowed to resume their duties on 22nd December 1960, but it is alleged that they did not report for duty on that date. However, ultimately they all reported for duty and were taken in and the matter thus ended. The aforesaid cases of the Union and the Company do not directly bear upon the merits of the issue except by way of background facts and the Union's case is that the discharge of the eight workmen, referred to above, clearly shows animus and mala fides of the Company against the workmen for joining the Union and that spirit of the Company also governed the action taken against the concerned workmen of the present case. I have considered the evidence adduced by the parties on this background position and I am of the view that there is no sufficient ground for holding that the Company became hostile and vindictive against the workmen simply because they joined the Union and the discharge of the eight workmen, referred to above, was nothing but their victimisation for joining the Union. The fact of taking advances from the Company by the workmen whose home district, Cuttack in Orissa, was affected by floods, is admitted. This clearly appears from the cross-examination of P.W. 1 Nakul Maharana. He says "I took some advance from the Company when there was flood in our home district in 1960. * * * The Company gave advance to all workers on account of the flood. All workers whose home district was Cuttack took advances from the Company, the amount being the same as in my case." He has, of course, denied the Company's suggestion that these workmen left the Company's service after taking the advances and without repaying the amounts. O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha, the Manager of the factory, has stated in his evidence the whole of the Company's case regarding this matter. Apart from this oral evidence, the Company has produced the loan application of Mrittunjoy Paul, the concerned workman [Ext. Z(1)]. P.W. 9 Kesto Chandra Paul, one of the concerned workmen, has also admitted that he took some loan from the Company in 1960, on account of flood in his home district. He has, however, denied that he ran away with the money and did not come back to work. It may, therefore, be taken to be an admitted position that the eight workmen who were discharged previously had taken loans from the Company when there was flood in their home district. It cannot be believed that after granting loans to these workmen, the Company discharged them from service, as alleged by the Union. The very fact of granting loans to these workmen clearly betrays a sympathetic attitude on the part of the Company towards its workmen affected by the flood. Why should then the Company suddenly discharge them? Such discharge was likely to prejudice the Company's interest in that there would be little chance of recovering the loans advanced. After considering the entire evidence on this point in the light of surrounding circumstances and probabilities, I accept the Company's case that these workmen did not report for duty of their own accord after going away with the loan moneys. It is to be noted in this connection that in the conciliation proceedings, the Company did not raise any objection against their reinstatement but fairly agreed to their reinstatement and their ultimate reinstatement is an admitted fact, though there is dispute as to whether they really reported for duty on 22nd December 1960. I, therefore, reject the Union's plea that the Company became hostile and vindictive towards all these workmen simply because they joined this Union some time in 1961. The background facts alleged by the Union and relied on by it to show that the Company became hostile and vindictive towards the workmen do not certainly point conclusively to that conclusion when viewed in its proper perspective and the conduct of the Company as indicated above.

Now I will take up the case of each workmen or each batch of workmen where there is a common case in respect of a batch.

I. Shri Wakil Singh (No. 3) and Shri Gopal Mali (No. 4).

At the opening of the case, it was clearly submitted on behalf of the Union that it did not press the cases of workers Nos. 3 and 4 Wakil Singh and Shri Gopal Mali. As the dispute in respect of these workmen is given up by the Union, their cases are to be disposed of by a "no dispute" award on the basis that the dispute in respect of them has ceased to exist. Accordingly, I at once make a "no dispute" award in respect of these two workmen, No. 3 Wakil Singh and No. 4 Shri Gopal Mali.

II. Harisankar Singh (No. 8), Adhikari Behara (No. 9), Kartick Pashi (No. 10), Shyamsundar Rawal (No. 11), Sridhar Bishai (No. 123, Khelari Pashi (No. 13), Godabari Paul (No. 14), Krishna Ch. Paul (No. 15) and Nakul Maharana (No. 16).

The admissions of the parties in regard to the relevant case in respect of these workers lead us to the following position. All these nine workers were charge-sheeted on 15th July 1961. The charge against each of them was that he along with the other aforesaid workmen and some others surrounded Shri Kapildeo Singh and assaulted him near the main gate of the factory on 14th July 1961 at about 5-30 a.m. I here reproduce below one of the charge-sheets:

> "We have to inform you that on 14th July 1961 at about 5-30 a.m. you along with Shri Godabari Pal, Shri Adhikari Behera, Shri Khelari Pashi and Shri Hari Shanker Singh and others surrounded Shri Kapil Deo Singh and assaulted him near the main gate of the factory.
> You are to send your explanation within forty-eight hours."

The Company has exhibited all the charge-sheets and these are Exts. A to I. The Union has exhibited eight of the charge-sheets. These are Exts. 7, 8, 20, 22, 24, 30, 33 and 38. Some of the nine charge-sheeted workmen submitted replies to the charge-sheets, but not all. Thereafter, notices of a domestic enquiry proposed to be held regarding these charge-sheets were issued to all workmen and it was notified that the enquiry would be held at 9 a.m. on 24th July 1961 in the Works Office. The Company has exhibited all the nine notices and these are Exts. K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R and S. The Union has exhibited eight of the notices and these are Exts. 4, 5, 19, 23, 28, 32, 35 and 37. Among the nine charge-sheeted workmen, only No. 11 Shyamsundar Rawal did not appear at the enquiry. Here, the general admissions of the parties regarding the charge-sheets, replies, notices of enquiry and the enquiry itself end. There is a dispute between the parties as to which of the workmen actually submitted replies to the charge-sheets, though it is the general admission that all of them did not submit replies. According to the Company, only two workmen, No. 14 Godabari Paul and No. 16 Nakul Maharana, submitted the joint reply, Ext. J, and no other charge-sheeted workman submitted any reply. The Union's case, on the other hand, is that No. 9 Adhikari Behara, No. 10 Kartick Pashi and No. 11 Shyamsundar Rawal also submitted a joint reply. The Company has denied having received any such joint reply. Exhibit 18 is said to be a copy of the joint reply of these three workmen. There is no receipt of the Company in respect of this letter. It is significant to note in this connection that Ext. 6 is a copy of the admitted joint reply of Godabari Paul and Nakul Maharana to their charge-sheets and it is accompanied by a receipt, dated 18th July 1961, given by the Company. This letter was also dated 18th July 1961. We do not find any such receipt in respect of the alleged joint reply of Shyamsundar Rawal, Kartick Pashi and Adhikari Behara, dated 20th July 1961 (Ext. 18), which is denied by the Company. I do not see any reason why the Company should deny receipt of this joint reply if it was really given. The reply would not affect the interest of the Company in any manner because it is an admitted position that a domestic enquiry was held in respect of all the charge-sheeted workmen after service of notice on them. Exhibit T/ Exhibit 27 is a letter from workman No. 13 Khelari Pashi stating that he would produce Harisankar Singh as his witness at the enquiry. Exhibit U is a letter from No. 14 Godabari Paul, No. 8 Hari Sankar Singh, No. 15 Krishna Ch. Paul and No. 16 Nakul Maharana stating that they would attend the enquiry with three witnesses Uccha Barik, Mrittunjoy Paul and Bhikhari Sura. Both these letters, Exts. T and U, are admitted. The Company's case is that no other defence witness was cited by any other charge-sheeted workmen. The Union's case, however, is that No. 9 Adhikari Behara, No. 10 Kartick Pasi and No. 11 Shyamsundar Rawal wrote a letter to the Company stating that they would examine some defence witnesses. Exhibit 17 is said to be a copy of that letter. The Company has denied this letter and its case is that no such letter was received. The Union has not produced any receipt granted by the Company for such a letter. The letter purports to be dated 21st July 1961. The Union representative has stated that Ext. 56 is the certificate of posting relating to this letter. It is a certificate of posting, dated 22nd July 1961, and apparently it relates to a letter written by Adhikari Behara, Kartick Pasi and Shyamsundar Rawal. There is no reason to disbelieve this certificate of posting and it may be presumed from the certificate of posting that it relates to the letter Ext. 17 and this letter duly reached the Company. So, in this respect, I accept the Union's case. The position, therefore, is that it is proved that after receipt of the notices of enquiry, three letters were sent by three batches of workmen out of the charge-sheeted workmen cited as defence witnesses. It can be safely held from the above facts and circumstances that after the charge-sheets and after replies by some of the charge-sheeted workmen to the charge-sheets, the Company duly issued notices of domestic enquiry to these workmen intimating that the domestic enquiry would be held on 24th July 1961 at 9 a.m. in the Works Office and some of the workmen cited some defence witnesses for the enquiry. It is not disputed that all the charge-sheeted workmen except Shyamsundar Rawal appeared before the E.O. Shri Ojha. The Company's case is that Shri Ojha duly held the enquiry in presence of the charge-sheeted workmen who appeared and the Company's witnesses were examined in their presence and they were allowed every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses but they declined to cross-examine and all the defence witnesses produced by the charge-sheeted workmen were examined. It is further the Company's case that the statements of the charge-sheeted workmen present were also taken and they were asked to sign the recorded statements, but they declined. This whole case has been testified to by Shri Ojha, the Manager of the factory and the E.O. It is fully borne out by the recorded enquiry proceedings, Ext. W and the enquiry report, Ext. V. I find from the recorded enquiry proceedings that the Company's witnesses were examined first and thereafter the charge-sheeted workmen who were present were examined and the only defence witness cited by Khelari Pasi in his letter Ext. T/Ext. 27 Hari Sankar Singh (No. 13) and two of the three defence witnesses cited by No. 14 Godabari Paul, No. 8 Hari Sankar Singh, No. 15 Krishna Chandra Paul and No. 16 Nakul Maharana were examined and they were Uccha Barik and Bhikhari Sura, and the other witness named in this letter, Mrittunjoy Paul, was not examined. I also find that the witnesses named in the letter, Ext. 17 by No. 9 Adhikari Behara, No. 10 Kartick Pasi and No. 11 Shyamsundar Rawal were not examined. The Company's case in this respect is that the defence witnesses examined were only produced and no other defence witness was produced by the concerned workmen. Here, I should state the Union's case in respect of the enquiry. It is that no enquiry was really held at all, as the recorded enquiry proceedings, Ext. W, purport to show, but all that happened was that when the charge-sheeted workmen appeared before the E.O., he produced certain papers containing some English writings and asked them to sign the papers and when the workmen naturally refused to sign them, he asked them to go away. It is suggested that the recorded enquiry proceedings have been fabricated for the purpose of this case. Five out of these nine charge-sheeted workmen have given evidence in this case and they are P.W. 1 Nakul Maharana, P.W. 2 Adhikari Behara, P.W. 5 Khelari Pasi, P.W. 6 Kartick and P.W. 9 Kesto Ch. Paul. They have supported the case regarding the enquiry put forward by the Union. Besides them, P.W. 3 Provakar Rawal has given evidence stating that he was taken to the enquiry as a defence witness on behalf of Adhikari and others, but his evidence was not taken. P.W. 10 Bhikhari Sura has testified that he was produced for giving evidence as a defence witness at the enquiry by Godabari Paul, but the E.O. did not record his evidence. His further evidence is that the E.O. produced a paper and asked him to sign it and when he refused to do so, he was asked to go away. This is the whole evidence on the Union's side regarding the enquiry. I have carefully considered the entire evidence bearing on the holding of the enquiry produced by both sides. I have also given due consideration to the previous conduct of the parties and the surrounding circumstances and probabilities of the case. After doing all this, I am of the view that the Company's evidence should be accepted in preference to that of the Union. I am unable to believe that after having prepared for the enquiry with the utmost care by issuing notices to the workmen, the E.O. simply dismissed the workmen who appeared at the enquiry without holding any enquiry when they refused to sign some written papers produced before them. The whole story seems to be extremely unnatural and improbable. It is significant to note that there was no letter of protest making this allegation against the enquiry by the workmen or the Union, though it appears that the Union and the workmen were in the habit of frequently writing letters to the Company. The workmen are backed by a strong Union and it cannot be believed that had such a gross irregularity occurred in the matter of holding the enquiry, the workmen concerned would not have at once reported it to the Union and the Union would not have at once protested to the Company by a letter. In support of the position that the Company's witnesses were not examined in presence of the concerned workmen, the Union representative has drawn my attention to the statements made by the Company's witnesses, O.P.W. 1 Shri Purna Chandra Nayek and O.P.W. 2 Shri H. C. Pradhan to the effect that when they gave evidence at the enquiry two other persons, Kedar Babu and Kshitish Babu, were present. It is contended that these statements clearly indicate that the workmen were not present when the Company's witnesses were examined. I am unable to accept this position. These two persons were generally asked who else were present when they gave evidence and naturally they thought that they were being asked about outsiders and not parties and so they named two outsider witnesses, Kshitish Babu and Kedar Babu. They have nowhere stated that these two were the only persons present and none else was present. Upon such vague and loose statement, I am unable to discard the clear testimony of the E.O. P.W. 3 Shri Ojha and the enquiry proceedings and report, Exts. W and V. It appears from the enquiry proceedings that these two persons signed the recorded statements of every person examined at the enquiry under appropriate endorsements. Though it is not clearly recorded in the enquiry proceedings that the concerned workmen were asked to cross-examine each Company's witness after he was examined on behalf of the Company, this fact is testified to by the E.O. and is clearly recorded in the enquiry report which, according to his evidence, was prepared on that very day just after the enquiry. The enquiry report is dated 24th July 1961. As far as the defence witnesses are concerned, the enquiry report shows and it is also the evidence on behalf of the Company, that the witness cited by No. 13 Khelari Pashi in his letter, Ext. T/Ext. 27, Hari Sankar Singh was produced and examined and out of the three witnesses cited by Godabari (No. 14), Harisankar Singh (No. 8), Krishna Chandra Paul (No. 15), Nakul Maharana (No. 16), only two Uchhak Bari and Bhikari Sura were produced and examined, but the other witness, Mrittunjoy Paul, was not examined. Regarding the witnesses cited by No. 9 Adhikari Behara, No. 10 Kartick Pashi No. 11 Shyamsundar Rawal, in the letter Ext. 17, which, I have already held, was sent under the certificate of posting Ext. 56, the Company's case is that this letter was not received and no such witness was produced. I am satisfied from the evidence produced before me that though this letter was written and two of the concerned workmen, Kartick Pashi and Adhikari Behara, attended the enquiry, none of the witnesses named therein was produced for examination. Provakar Rawal, one of the witnesses cited in this letter, has given evidence and stated that he was taken to the enquiry as a defence witness, but his evidence was not taken. He is also a workman under this Company and has a vital interest in this case being the Secretary of the concerned Union. As against his evidence, I prefer to believe the evidence on the Company's side consisting of the testimony of O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha, the E.O., and the enquiry proceedings and the report and I hold upon this evidence that no witness named in Ext. 17 was produced. When it is seen that the E.O. actually examined some defence witnesses, there could be no reason why he should have refused to record the evidence of some other defence witnesses if they were really produced. I hold, therefore, that all the defence witnesses produced by the concerned workmen were examined and it is not true that some defence witnesses were produced but not examined. On the above findings, I reject all the three main points of attack against the domestic enquiry raised on behalf of the Union and these are (1) that all defence witnesses were not examined, (2) evidence of witnesses on the Company's side was not recorded in the workers' presence and (3) there was no enquiry at all but the charge-sheeted workmen present were only asked to sign papers containing some English writings but they refused and then they were asked to go away. On the other hand, I hold that there was quite a fair and proper enquiry in a bona fide manner and according to the principles of natural justice after due notices to the workmen and after giving them every opportunity to defend themselves against the charges by cross-examining the Company's witnesses who were examined in their presence and by producing witnesses on their own side.

There is another point of objection raised against the enquiry report and it is that the E.O. Shri Ojha was not an impartial man. I am unable to accept this objection also. It is quite natural that domestic enquiry should be held by an important officer of the Company and Shri Ojha was certainly such an officer. No doubt he signed the charge-sheets also. But according to the evidence on the record, he had no personal knowledge about the occurrence which constituted the subject-matter of the charge and he simply issued the charge-sheets for and on behalf of the Company. So, it is not a case where he issued charge-sheets upon his own knowledge of the occurrence and then held the enquiry himself. In such a case he would not certainly have been an impartial person to hold the enquiry. He simply formally signed the charge-sheets. It was not even suggested to him in cross-examination that he had a personal knowledge of the occurrence which constituted the subject-matter of the charge-sheet.

I have carefully considered the enquiry report. It is quite a comprehensive report giving not only the material details of the enquiry but also giving good and cogent reasons in support of the findings that all these workmen were guilty of the charge. He has also discussed the evidence in some detail. His finding against the workman is quite fair and reasonable according to the evidence produced before him and it cannot be said to be perverse or baseless.

The result of all the aforesaid decisions on the point of the domestic enquiry is that it is found that all these workmen were charge-sheeted for allegedly assaulting Kapildeo Singh, a Supervisor of the Company, on the morning of 14th July 1961 at about 5-30 a.m. at the factory gate and the charge-sheets were duly served upon the workmen, some of whom, but not all, replied to the charge-sheets, and thereafter notices of the proposed domestic enquiry were given to and served upon all the charge-sheeted workmen and some of them wrote letters citing some defence witnesses and thereafter the enquiry was held at the appointed day and time by Shri Ojha and the proceedings of the enquiry were quite fair and in consonance with the principles of natural justice and the Company acted throughout bona fide in holding the domestic enquiry and in this matter, there was no motive of victimisation or unfair labour practice and the E.O. acted reasonably and according to a plausible view of the weight of evidence in finding the workmen guilty of the charge and his finding was not baseless or perverse. After these findings regarding the enquiry itself, it is not open to this Tribunal to go behind the findings of the E.O. and give relief to the concerned workmen on the basis that they were not guilty. The charge itself was a serious one in that it related to an assault upon an officer of the Company by these workmen jointly. The offence was certainly a serious misconduct which merited the punishment of dismissal.

The Company has not produced any independent evidence to prove the occurrence underlying the charge against these workmen. Some evidence has, however, been produced on behalf of the workmen to prove that the occurrence was not as alleged in the charge-sheets, but it was just the contrary and the real occurrence was that Kapildeo Singh had assaulted Khelari Pashi, one of the charge-sheeted workmen, on that day and at that time. This evidence has been given by Khelari Pashi himself and some other witnesses examined on behalf of the workmen have tried to disprove the occurrence, as alleged by the Company in the charge-sheet. It is not permissible for this Tribunal to go into an independent investigation of the occurrence itself and come to a contrary finding or to sit in judgment over the findings of the E.O. as a court of appeal and set aside his findings in view of the decision about the nature of the enquiry and the findings of the E.O., already recorded above. I should here only refer to one very significant position. It is that admittedly there was some occurrence on the morning of 14th July 1963 at the factory gate. No doubt the factory was closed on that date on account of Ratha Jatra, but still there was an occurrence involving Kapildeo Singh and Khelari Pashi according to the admission of Khelari Pashi and the Union. There are, however, contrary versions of the occurrence. It appears that shortly after this occurrence, Khelari Pashi filed a criminal case against Kapildeo Singh and Janakdeo Singh, complaining that they had assaulted him and his petition of complaint was sent to the local police for enquiry and after considering the police report, the complaint was dismissed under section 203, Cr. P.C. [(vide Ext. G(1)]. So, the positive fact remains that after the occurrence, Khelari Pashi rushed to criminal court with a complaint against Kapildeo Singh and another, but the complaint failed. This is a position which goes against the Union's case and in favour of the Company's case. As already indicated above, this Tribunal is not competent to go into the merits of the charge against these workmen and give them relief on the ground that the charge was false and baseless. It must accept the enquiry report and hold that the workmen were reasonably found guilty of the charge after a fair and proper enquiry according to the principles of natural justice. It is proved and not disputed that these workmen were dismissed as a result of the domestic enquiry. Exhibits X, Y, Z, A(1), B(1), C(1), D(1), E(1) and F(1) are copies of the dismissal letters whereby these workmen were dismissed. Exhibits 1, 2, 15, 16, 26, 31, 32 and 36 are eight of the dismissal letters produced by the Union. The letters clearly point out the fact of their dismissal on the result of the domestic enquiry. The charge upon which they were dismissed certainly involved serious misconduct meriting the punishment of dismissal.

On all the decisions and for the reasons recorded above, I hold that these nine workmen were properly dismissed on a charge of gross misconduct after a fair and proper domestic enquiry according to the principles of natural justice and without any mala fides and any element of victimisation or unfair labour practice and their dismissals were, therefore, justified. They are consequently not entitled to any relief. The case of these nine workmen is disposed of accordingly.

III. Mrittunjoy Paul (No. 17)

The admitted facts relating to the case of this workman are these: This workman was charge-sheeted on 13th July 1961 for the offence of being absent from his machine during working hours and misbehaving with the Supervisor, Shri H. C. Pradhan, on being warned about such misconduct. Exhibit 51 is the charge-sheet. I reproduce the contents of the charge-sheet below:

> "It is reported by Shri H. C. Pradhan, Assistant Supervisor, Bobbin Section, that on 13th July 1961, you were absent from your machine between 8-45 a.m. to 9-05 a.m. and when he warned you not to leave your machine, you misbehaved with him on the shop-floor.
> Such types of leaving machine and misbehaving with the Supervisor amount to gross misconduct. You are, therefore, required to show cause within forty-eight hours why disciplinary action should not be taken against you."

This charge-sheet was duly received by the workman and he submitted his reply to the charge-sheet on 15th July 1961. Exhibit 50 is his reply to the charge-sheet. The charge was denied. After this reply, the Company issued notice to this workman informing him that a domestic enquiry regarding his charge-sheet would be held on 18th July 1961 at the main office. Exhibit 49 is the copy of the notice. This notice was also issued on 15th July 1961. After receiving this notice, this workman wrote a letter to the Company stating that he would appear before the proposed enquiry with three defence witnesses named therein and these were (1) Nakul Maharana, (2) Maguni Maharana and (3) Godabari Paul. Exhibit 48 is that letter. Up to this point, there is no dispute between the parties. But there is serious dispute regarding the holding of the enquiry. The Company's case is that the domestic enquiry was duly held on 18th July 1961 at the appointed time and the concerned workman was present with two of the three witnesses cited by him, viz. (1) Godabari Paul and (2) Nakul Maharana and the enquiry was held fairly and in consonance with the principles of natural justice and in the enquiry, the Company's witnesses were first examined and the concerned workman was given every opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses on behalf of the Company but he declined to cross-examine all the witnesses and thereafter the statement of the concerned workman was recorded and he was subjected to cross-examination and after him, two defence witnesses produced by him were examined and they were also cross-examined. It is the Company's definite case that the other witness named in the workman's letter, Exhibit 48, Maguni Maharana, was not produced and examined by the workman himself. The case put forward on behalf of the Union and the concerned workman is that no enquiry was held, as alleged by the Company, though the workman appeared with all his witnesses and all that happened was that when he appeared before the E.O. Shri Ojha, the Manager, the Manager only asked him to put his signature in a paper containing some writings without holding any enquiry, but as he refused to sign the paper, because no enquiry was held, he was asked to go away. It is definitely stated that no defence witness produced by him was examined. The Company's case regarding the holding of the enquiry is supported by the evidence of O.P.W. 2 Shri H. C. Prodhan, the Supervisor of the Bobbin Section, on whose complaint the charge-sheet was issued against Mrittunjoy Paul, and who gave evidence at the enquiry, O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha the Factory Manager who held the enquiry and Exhibit J(1) the recorded enquiry proceedings and Exhibit H(1) the enquiry report. As against this evidence on the Company's side, the evidence on the side of the Union and the concerned workman consists of the testimonies of P.W. 7 Mrittunjoy Paul, the concerned workman himself and P.W. 8 Shri Sibu Shou, who, according to the enquiry proceedings, was one of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company. I have carefully considered the evidence on both sides and I am of the view that the Company's evidence should be accepted. P.W. 8 Sibu Shou was, according to the enquiry proceedings, Exhibit J(1), one of the witnesses examined for the Company. He has admited his signature below his recorded evidence at the enquiry [Exhibit J(2)], but he has sought to explain it away by saying that he made the signature on the statement of their Head Mistri, Purna, that this was required for increment of his pay and the application for increment was written by Shri Hari Charan Pradhan, the Supervisor. The implication of his statement is that he made this signature in the belief that he was signing an application for increment. This story has been categorically denied by O.P.W. 1 Shri Purna Chandra Nayek, the Head Mistri, and O.P.W. 2 Shri H. C. Pradhan, the Supervisor. The explanation seems to me to be extremely unnatural and improbable and I am satisfied from the entire evidence produced before me that the explanation is not correct and that he really made this signature below his recorded statement at the enquiry. I am also unable to believe the plea of Mrittunjoy Paul that there was no enquiry at all but when he appeared with his witnesses, he was simply asked to sign some papers and on his refusal to do so, he was asked to go away. I accept the recorded enquiry proceedings as correct and bona fide and reject the suggestion made on behalf of the Union and the concerned workman that these have all been fabricated. My attention has been drawn by the Union representative to a statement made by Mrittunjoy Paul in his examination-in-chief that when he refused to sign the paper produced by the E. O., the latter asked him to make an endorsement saying that he would not sign and at the instance of his witness Maguni, he made such an endorsement in a paper in his mother tongue, Oriya. It is contended on the basis of this statement that as there is no paper in the enquiry proceedings showing such an endorsement by Mrittunjoy, it is to be inferred that the Company has withheld that paper and fabricated the proceedings of the enquiry, particularly the sheet containing the alleged statement of Mrittunjoy Paul without any such endorsement and signature. The above statement of Mrittunjoy Paul was challenged in cross-examination on behalf of the Company and he was shown the recorded enquiry proceedings and after seeing these, he said that the papers had been changed. There is no corroboration of this statement of Mrittunjoy Paul. His witness Maguni, at whose instance he is said to have made such endorsement and signature, has not been produced to support him in this respect and there is no explanation for this. No such statement is also to be found in paragraph 17 of the Union's written statement which covers the case of Mrittunjoy Paul. I have no hesitation to reject this belated statement of Mrittunjoy Paul as absolutely unreliable and unacceptable. Accepting the evidence adduced on behalf of the Company and rejecting the evidence of Mrittunjoy Paul and Sibu Shou, I hold that the domestic enquiry concerning Shri Mrittunjoy Paul was held by Shri Ojha in the manner as recorded in the enquiry proceedings, Ext. J(1), and this shows that there was a fair and proper enquiry according to the principles of natural justice and the concerned workman had every opportunity to defend himself at the enquiry by cross-examining the Company's witnesses and producing witnesses on his side and though he cited three witnesses, he produced only two, Nakul Maharana and Godabari Paul and did not produce Maguni at all. There is no reason why if that witness had been produced, the E. O. should have refused to examine him when it appears that he examined the other two witnesses. In the enquiry proceedings, it is recorded that Mrittunjoy Paul was asked to cross-examine other witnesses for the Company, but he declined. There are no materials upon the record upon which it can be held that the Company was actuated by any mala fide motive against this workman in the matter of charge-sheeting him and holding the domestic enquiry or that the Company was guilty of any spirit of victimisation or unfair labour practice against this workman in the matter of issuing charge-sheet to him and holding enquiry. No basic error is also to be found in the Company's action against this workman and the enquiry held was certainly not in violation of any principle of natural justice. I hold, therefore, that there was a fair and proper enquiry according to the principles of natural justice regarding the charge-sheet to this workman. Exhibit H(1) is the enquiry report. It is a full and comprehensive report. It appears that the E. O. considered the evidence produced before him and on the basis of the evidence, he came to the conclusion that the workman was guilty of the charge. This finding of the E. O. is quite reasonable according to the evidence produced before him and it cannot by any means be said to be perverse or baseless. The offence certainly constituted a serious misconduct because it consisted of leaving a running machine in his charge and then misbehaving with his Supervisor when asked about such conduct within the factory. Dismissal for such misconduct was certainly justified. He was dismissed by the Company's letter, dated 20th

July 1961 [Exhibit K(1)], on the basis of the aforesaid domestic enquiry.

Accordingly, I hold that this workman, Shri Mrittunjoy Paul, was charged with a serious misconduct and was dismissed after being found guilty of the charge in a fair and proper domestic enquiry, which was held after due notice to him and fully in accordance with the principles of natural justice and the Company acted quite bona fide in the matter. The dismissal of this workman was, therefore, justified and he is not entitled to any relief. The case is disposed of accordingly.

IV. Rankanath Maharana (No. 1) and Bairagi Sain (No. 2)

The Union's case regarding these two workmen is of the same nature. This case is stated in paragraphs 20 and 21 of the Union's written statement. It is alleged that on 13th July 1961 the Management refused employment to these two workmen without any notice and the Manager, Shri Ojha, told them that they would not be allowed to resume their duties unless and until they gave up membership of the concerned Union. The Manager also wanted an undertaking from them that they would give up the Union before allowing them to resume their duties. They were going to the factory every day since 13th July 1961, but they were not allowed to resume their duties. On 18th July 1961 and 22nd July 1961 the Management issued two letters to Bairagi Sain and Rankanath Maharana with some false and baseless allegations. Bairagi Sain and Rankanath Maharana submitted their replies on 20th July 1961 and 25th July 1961 and denied all the allegations but still the Management did not pay any heed to their replies and finally terminated their services on 28th July 1961 by way of victimisation.

The Company's case regarding these two workmen is contained in paragraph 12 of its written statement. This case is as follows: Both these persons surreptitiously started remaining absent from their duties from 13th July 1961 without any information. The Company addressed letters, dated 18/19th July 1961 to them and after drawing their attention to such unauthorised absence, asked them to join their duties within three days, but without any effect. On 22nd July 1961 the Company addressed further letters to them and pointed out therein that if they did not join their duties in time, they would be deemed to have leff the service of the Company of their own accord. There was no response to these letters of the Company. After all this, the Company, by its letter, dated 28th July 1961, confirmed that since these workmen did not act in terms of the Company's previous letters, their services had automatically terminated and directed them to collect their dues. Bairagi Sain wrote a letter in reply to the Company's letter, dated 22nd July 1961, without giving any date and without joining his duties and in this letter he made altogether false allegations. These allegations are refuted in the Company's letter, dated 28th July 1961.

So, according to the Company, both these workmen voluntarily left the Company's service by remaining absent from their duties without any intimation and without any permission. It is a case of their voluntary relinquishment of the Company's service.

The Company's case has been substantially proved by the evidence of O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha. None of these two workmen has come forward to pledge his oath in support of his case and in denial of the Company's case. I have considered the undisputed letters Exts. L(1), L1(a) and M(1), dated 19th July 1961, 18th July 1961 and 19th July 1961, respectively, in which these two workmen were informed that they had been absenting themselves from their duties without information since 13th July 1961, and they were directed to report for duty within three days from the receipt of these letters. According to the Company, there was no reply from Rankanath, but Bairagi Sain is said to have given a reply (Ext. 46) denying the charge and asking for permission to resume duty with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment. This letter is supported by a receipt. Exhibits 40 and 45, dated 22nd July 1961, are two further letters to Rankanath and Bairagi asking them to join their duties and informing them that in default they would be considered to have left the Company's service of their own accord. Exhibits N(1) and O(1) are the corresponding exhibits on the Company's side. Exhibit 44 is said to be a reply to this letter from Bairagi stating that he appeared at the factory gate on 20th July 1961 to resume his duties, but he was not allowed to work and was driven out. He again asked for being allowed to join his duties with compensation for forced unemployment. There is no receipt in support of this letter. After this, came the Company's letters, dated 28th July 1961 [Ext. 39/Ext. Q(1) to Rankanath and Ext. P(1) to Bairagi] stating that as they had not replied to the previous letters, they were considered to have left the Company's service of their own accord and accordingly their services were automatically dispensed with and they were asked to collect their dues from the Company on any working day. Exhibits 41 and 42 (both copies) purport to be copies of the replies sent by Rankanath Maharana to the Company's letter, dated 22nd July 1961. There is no receipt in support of this alleged reply. Even assuming that all the alleged replies of the workman, referred to above, were really sent, these would show nothing but some allegations of the workmen, but the allegations would not be proof of themselves when these are not admitted by the Company and the allegations must be proved. There is no proof in support of these allegations. None of the workmen has come forward to give evidence and no witness on the Union's side has given evidence in support of these allegations.

So, the sole question regarding these workmen is whether they were deliberately refused employment by the Company or they voluntarily relinquished the Company's service by continued unauthorised absence and not reporting for duty in spite of the Company's directions. After considering the letters along with the positive evidence of Shri Ojha that these workmen remained absent from 13th July 1961 and did not join their duties in spite of the Company's letters and also the fact that none of these two workmen who only can personally testify to the fact of his not having really deserted the Company's service by unauthorised absence and having reported for duty according to the Company's letters has appeared to pledge his oath, I accept the Company's case as proved without rebuttal and accordingly I hold that these two workmen unauthorisedly absented themselves continuously since 18th July 1961 and did not rejoin their duties in spite of the Company's requests and by such conduct, they voluntarily relinquished the Company's service and so it was not a case of termination of their service by the Company but a case of voluntary relinquishment of the service by them. True, no charge-sheet was issued to these workmen. But, when it is found to be a case of voluntary relinquishment of service and not a case of termination of service by the Company, no charge-sheet was necessary and the fact of voluntary relinquishment of service would not be affected in the least by non-issue of any charge-sheet and non-holding of any enquiry. In any case the fact of voluntary relinquishment of service by continuous unauthorised absence and non-reporting for duty in spite of the Company's request having been independently established, they are not entitled to any relief simply on the ground that no charge-sheet was issued and no enquiry was held. When there was no domestic enquiry, the Tribunal can decide the case on merits. Accordingly, I find in the case of these workmen that their services were not terminated by the Company but they voluntarily relinquished the Company's service and as such they are not entitled to any relief. They would, however, be entitled to their due wages for the actual service period and this was actually offered to them. That offer must still be held to be open and they would be entitled to come forward and the Company would pay them their unpaid wages and other dues, if any, for the actual period of their service on their making demands for the same within 15 days from the publication of the award. I dispose of the case of these two workmen and award accordingly.

V. Ramnath Singh (No. 5)

The case regarding this workman is contained in paragraph 23 of the Union's written statement and the Company's reply is contained in paragraph 13 of its written statement. The Union's case is that the Management terminated the service of Ramnath Singh on 5th July 1961 without any notice or showing any reason, by way of victimisation for his membership of the concerned Union. The Company's case is that this workman, Ramnath Singh, was employed as a casual labourer on daily rate basis for removing big mango logs which were lying outside the factory shed and stacking the planks cut from them and the job for which he was engaged was completed after about four months' work and as he was specially engaged temporarily for this job only, his appointment was terminated by a letter, dated 4th July 1961, but his name was kept on the waiting list. It is further alleged that he did not seek re-employment and he collected all his dues from the Company. It is not a case of dismissal, after a domestic enquiry. Hence I take up the merits of the case.

This workman also has not come forward to pledge his oath in support of his case of wrongful dismissal by way of victimisation and no other workman on the Union's side has also spoken about his case in evidence. On the Company's side, O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha, the Factory Manager, has proved the Company's case by his testimony. Exhibit R(1) is the Company's letter, dated 4th July 1961, whereby his services were terminated from 5th July 1961. It was clearly stated in this letter that he was employed on 26th February 1961 as a casual mazdoor and as the temporary work for which he was employed was finished, his services were terminated. In this letter, the Company also informed him that his name was kept on the waiting list and he would be considered for re-employment whenever necessary. He was also asked to collect his dues from the Works Office on any working day. The Union has produced an office copy of a letter, dated 17th July 1961 (vide Exhibit 56 series), in which the name of this workman is also given in the list of workmen whose services were alleged to have been terminated by way of victimisation. Anyway, upon the evidence produced before me, I cannot but hold that the Company's case that this workman was employed temporarily for a particular job as a casual worked and his services were terminated after the particular job had been completed has been proved by the positive evidence of Shri Ojha and without any contrary positive evidence on the Union's side. I have already referred to the fact that this workman has not himself come forward to give evidence, nor is there any other positive evidence on his behalf. Upon the facts proved, the Company was legally entitled to terminate his services on the completion of the particular job for which he was temporarily appointed. But at the same time, I must hold that as the job was not for a particular fixed period, the Company should have given him one month's notice or, in lieu thereof, one month's wages, for the purpose of dismissal. It is to be deemed to be a termination of service simpliciter without any motive, but in such case he would be entitled to one month's notice or in lieu thereof, one month's wages. Accordingly, I hold in his case that the termination of his service was justified, but he would be entitled to one month's wages in addition to the wages for the actual period of service and the Company shall pay him the additional wages for one month within a month from the publication of the award. I award accordingly in his case.

VI. Shew Mongal (No. 6)

The Union's case in respect of this workman is contained in paragraph 23 of its written statement and the Company's counter-case is contained in paragraph 14 of its written statement. The Union's case is simply that the Management terminated the service of this workman on 1st August 1961 without any notice or assigning any reason. The Company's case is this: He was working as a Durwan in the factory. Sometime in July 1961 his service was temporarily required at the Head Office for only two months. He was accordingly transferred to the Head Office of the Company from 14th July 1961. After working there for the rest of the month, he ceased to report for duty in the Head Office from 1st August 1961, without giving any information. Thus, he himself left the service of his own accord and it is not true that the Company terminated his service. After some time, the Company came to know that Shri Shew Mongal had been staying with one Ramdayal Sukul at the address of Messrs. Andrew Yule & Co., Calcutta. Shew Mongal owed some money to the Company on account of an advance of Rs. 150 taken by him from the Company on 21st June 1961 on the stipulation that he would repay the money by certain instalments. After getting the aforesaid address of this workman, the Company sent him a registered letter on 10th October 1961 demanding repayment of the money, but the money was not repaid. Thereafter, the Company sent another demand letter through its lawyer, but it came back as refused. This is not also a case of dismissal after a domestic enquiry. Hence I go into the merits of the case,

Coming to the evidence in respect of this workman's case, I find that there is practically no positive evidence on the side of the Union, but there is some positive evidence on the side of the Company. This workman has not come forward to pledge his oath in support of his case of alleged wrongful termination of service. None of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Union has also said a word about the case of this workman. The only evidence on the side of the Union is a letter of the Secretary, dated 21st August 1961, to the Labour Officer, Government of West Bengal, complaining about illegal and unjustified discharge of this workman on 1st August 1961. This letter is contained in Ext. 56 series. But there is no positive proof of the allegations contained in this letter. Allegations made in a letter cannot be accepted as ipso facto proof of the same. On the Company's side, O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha, the Manager of the factory, has given positive evidence in support of the Company's case in respect of this workman. Exhibit U(1) is the application for advance of Rs. 150 made by this workman to the Company. Exhibit S(1) is the office memo regarding the temporary transfer of this workman from the factory to the Head Office. Exhibit T(1) is the Company's letter to this workman addressed to the care of Ramdayal Sukul of Messrs. Andrew Yule & Co. Ltd., relating to the advance taken by him. It is supported by a returned acknowledgment. Exhibit T(2) is the second letter of demand sent by the Company through its lawyer. Exhibit Z(2) is the refused registered cover containing the original letter. Considering the evidence on both sides, referred to and discussed above, I hold that the Company's case in respect of this workman has been proved and he really deserted his service after working up to 31st July 1961 in the Head Office where he was temporarily transferred and the Company did not terminate his service at all. It clearly appears to me that he deserted his service under the Company after taking an advance of Rs. 150 and without repaying it. On this finding, I hold that the Company is not guilty of unfair or illegal termination of his service but he voluntarily relinquished his service under the Company and so he is not entitled to any relief. I award accordingly in his case.

VII. Matilal Majhi (No. 7)

The Union's case in respect of this workman is contained in paragraph 23 of its written statement and the Company's counter-case is contained in paragraph 15 of its written statement. In his case also, the Union's allegations are that he was on leave and after the expiry of his leave, he submitted an application to the Management for extension of his leave, but the Management ignored the application and terminated his service without notice and without assigning any reason.

The Company's counter-case is as follows: This workman went on leave and his leave expired on 30th June 1961, but he did not join his duty; nor was any intimation received from him regarding the cause of his unauthorised absence. The Company waited for some days, but when still nothing was heard from him, the Company, by its letter, dated 13th July 1961, sent under certificate of posting, informed him that since he had not resumed his duty, the Company had treated him as not interested in his service and had accordingly dispensed with his service. No reply to this letter was received by the Company. Thus, it was a case of this workman's voluntarily leaving the Company's service and so he is not entitled to any relief.

As this is not a case of dismissal after a domestic enquiry, I take up the merits of the case.

In this case too, there is no positive evidence in support of the Union's case while there is positive evidence in support of the Company's case. O.P.W. 3 Shri Ojha, the Manager of the factory, has proved the Company's case. There is practically no challenge to his evidence in this respect and there is no counter-evidence. This workman himself has not come forward to give evidence in support of his case and there is nothing in the evidence of the other witnesses examined on behalf of the Union in support of his case. Exhibit U(2) is the Company's letter, dated 13th July 1961, informing him that as he had not joined after the expiry of his leave on 30th June 1961, nor had he sent any information regarding his overstay, it was presumed that he was not interested in continuing his service under the Company and as such he was considered to have left the service of the Company of his own accord and accordingly his service was automatically dispensed with. He was also asked to collect all his dues from the Company, if any, during any working day. The letter is supported by a certificate of posting. No reply to this letter has been proved on behalf of the Union. Considering the above evidence on the Company's side, I hold that it has been proved without rebuttal that this workman voluntarily relinquished the Company's service by not joining his duties after the expiry of his leave and without assigning any reason and so the Company was justified in treating him as having left its service of his own accord, which amounted to automatic termination of his service In view of the proved fact, it does not matter that no charge-sheet was issued to him.

In the result, I award in his case that he voluntarily left the Company's service by not joining his duties after the expiry of his leave and this amounted to automatic termination of his employment and so he is not entitled to any relief.

This finishes my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Flour Mills Ltd., 32 J. B. Ghat Road, Sibpur, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Bengal Flour Mills Employees Union, 7 Jagat Banerjee Ghat Road, Sibpur, Howrah. (Government Order No. 5039-I.R., dated 11th December 1963.) (Case No. 310/63.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri N. B. Shamal, Joint Secretary of the Union.

For the Company: Shri R. Goswami, an officer of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act regarding a dispute between Bengal Flour Mills Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bengal Flour Mills Employees' Union (hereinafter described as the Union), arises out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5039-I.R./IR/11L-99(A)/63, dated the 11th December 1963. The issue is "Is the termination of service of Shri Dharamdeo Singh justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?"

In short, the case of the Union is that the Company dismissed its workman Shri Dharamdeo Singh, a durwan, out of malice and against that dismissal a reference was taken to this Tribunal. The Tribunal found that the dismissal was mala fide and that the workman was reinstated. According to this direction of the Tribunal, the Company reinstated the durwan on 27th June 1963 but again terminated his service on 1st July 1963 illegally and with ulterior motive. It has been alleged that this is a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice, and the prayer is that Shri Singh should be reinstated with full back wages.

In short, the Company has filed objection to say that Shri Singh was a temporary durwan. There was some reorganisation of labour force and, according to the scheme of reorganisation, some temporary hands were absorbed as permanent hands and the remaining temporary hands were removed. Shri Singh was a temporary hand and as his services were not required, the Company could not retain him. The Company stated that it was not a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. Better candidates were absorbed.

Several documents have been exhibited on both the sides and some witnesses have been examined by the parties. Admittedly, the previous dismissal of Shri Singh was found by this Tribunal to be illegal, and not bona fide. Shri Singh was, therefore, directed to be reinstated with back wages. The award of this Tribunal is Ext. C. The date of award was 26th April 1963. It was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of May 30, 1963. Shri Singh was reinstated on 27th June 1963 and his services were terminated by a letter, dated 1st July 1963, with immediate effect on the ground that there is no suitable vacancy and that his job was temporary. The admitted fact is that on 1st July 1963 two other temporary durwans, Ramkishan Singh and Hanumant Tewari, were made permanent. The contention put forward before me from the side of the Company at the time of argument was that on account of reorganisation of labour force, practically speaking, retrenchment was necessary and Dharamdeo Singh's services were terminated because two other temporary durwans were found suitable for making permanent. The Company, according to the reorganisation, was to abolish temporary hands. Let us see how far this contention can be accepted according to the evidence on record. It has been admitted from the side of the Company by Shri Goswami that practically it was a retrenchment. A chart, Ext. D, shows that there are three temporary durwans, Shri Dharamdeo Singh, Shri Ramkishan Singh and Shri Hanumant Tewari. The Company had two permanent vacancies to be filled in by two temporary durwans, and the remaining temporary durwan should be removed from service as he would be unnecessary. According to the Ext. D Hanumant Tewari started working as a temporary hand under the Company in 1961 and the total days he worked were 543. Dharamdeo Singh, of course, started working under the Company from 1956 and the total days of his service, according to the Company, up to 30th November 1962, are 1,180. Ramkishan Singh entered the service of the Company as temporary hand occasionally from January 1957 and up to 1st July 1963 he worked for 1,395 days. It should be noted that according to the award of this Tribunal Dharamdeo Singh was reinstated, and he was deemed to be in service after 30th November 1962. However, this much is at least clear that if the Company followed the principles to be adopted in case of retrenchment, in ordinary course Dharamdeo Singh ought to have found place for permanent vacancy. Instead the Company has confirmed Ramkishan Singh and Hanumantbir Tewari as permanent in the post of durwans with effect from 1st July 1963 on which date the services of Dharamdeo Singh were terminated. The Company wants to say that the Company found Ramkishan Singh and Hanumantbir Tewari very suitable to the post and more efficient than Dharamdeo Singh. Now let us consider the evidence of the Mill Manager who is the authority to recruit labourers and members of the staff. He is responsible for general supervision of their work. He is O.P.W. 2. According to this witness, of all the three temporary durwans already mentioned, he selected Ramkishan Singh and Hanumantbir Tewari for the appointment of permanent members of the Watch & Ward staff because he personally thought that Dharamdeo Singh did not possess all the qualifications to be a permanent durwan. He has admitted again that he cannot give specific reason for his not being selected as permanent durwan. He has stated simply that from his general appraisal of Dharamdeo Singh's qualifications he did not select him. He has denied the suggestion that this is a case of victimisation. O.P.W. 2 has stated that Dharamdeo Singh could not be appointed as a permanent hand when compared with Hanumantbir Tewari and Ramkishan Singh. The witness has said that in the matter of giving permanent appointment, he primarily considers the merits of the candidate. During the cross-examination he has stated that the length of service of the candidate cannot influence him aganist merits. From his evidence we also get that no special qualification is necessary for temporary hand to be made a permanent durwan. I put some questions, to the witness and in reply he has stated that in June 1962 he decided to make Ramkishan Singh and Hanumantbir Tewari permanent if any occasion would arise in future, that he never considered to see whether Dharamdeo Singh would be made permanent, that even after his reinstatement after the Tribunal's award, he did not consider whether Dharamdeo Singh would be made permanent, and that there is no note either that Dharamdeo Singh's service was unsatisfactory, If these statements of O.P.W. 2 alone are considered, it would be clear that the management never considered the case of Dharamdeo Singh to see whether he should be made permanent or he should be put into the permanent vacancy according to the reorganisation of labour force. This is not only surprsiing but shocking to one's conscience. It is not unreasonable to hold that the management acted without bona fides in not considering whether Dharamdeo Singh should be made permanent. In the circumstances of this case I do not think that the management really thought that Hanumantbir Tewari and Ramkishan Singh were better candidates than Dharamdeo Singh according to the merits or efficiency. The evidence shows that previously this Dharamdeo Singh was dismissed and against that dismissal this Tribunal decided that the said dismissal was illegal, and not bona fide According to the award of the Tribunal, the Company was compelled to reinstate Dharamdeo Singh and pay all back wages. Dharamdeo Singh was reinstated on 27th June 1963 and again on 1st July 1963 his services were terminated. Reason is not very far to explain the termination of Dharamdeo Singh's service. The management thought that Dharamdeo Singh was undesirable as the management was compelled to reinstate him with all back wages. From the evidence of O.P.W. 2 it is clear that he did not consider the case of Dharamdeo Singh for permanent vacancy, on the other hand, O.P.W. 2 placed in permanent posts two other temporary durwans who came later to serve the Company on temporary basis. The total number of days Dharamdeo Singh served under the Company was greater than any of the two other who were made permanent. As O.P.W. 2 has stated that no special qualification is required for a temporary hand to be made a permanent durwan and specially when Dharamdeo Singh was not declared to be inefficient, I fail to understand what other reasons can there be except the vindictive attitude which has prompted the authority to terminate the services of Dharamdeo Singh. I have considered, however, the evidence of other witnesses examined on the side of the Union and the Company and also the documentary evidence and I find that the termination of service of Dharamdeo Singh is a mala fide and improper one, and that it is a case of victimisation, and unfair labour practice. Even if it is a case of retrenchment, then also fair and just principles have not been followed.

The termination of service of Dharamdeo Singh is, therefore, unjustified.

The next question is what relief Dharamdeo Singh is entitled to in the circumstances of this case. From the evidence and circumstances of this case I am satisfied that the management is out to harass the workman. Admittedly, the management is trying to get rid of this workman and Dharamdeo Singh is also tired and distressed at the conduct of the management meted out to him. If Dharamdeo Singh is again reinstated by an award, certainly he will not be happy to work under the Company and the atmosphere will not be peaceful to him. The management will not be also happy at his presence. The atmosphere will be changed and ultimately this atmosphere will affect other workmen and it may also result in awful situation. I have suggested to the Secretary whether the workmen want that Dharamdeo Singh should be reinstated or whether they will be satisfied by reasonable compensation against the unlawful action of the Company. It has been submitted to me from the side of the workmen that the matter is left at the discretion of the Tribunal. The Union is not adamant to see that Shri Singh be reinstated. In order to create a peaceful atmosphere in the place of work and also to see that fair justice is done to the aggrieved, I feel that in the present case instead of ordering for reinstatement I should give relief to Shri Singh by awarding reasonable compensation. On this point, of course, Shri Goswami for the Company, does not protest. Rather, he has submitted that the Tribunal is at liberty to give compensation in suitable circumstances instead of ordering reinstatement. Giving my anxious consideration to the facts and circumstances of this case, I hold that twelve months' basic wages along with usual dearness allowance payable to Shri Singh from 1st July 1963, had he been in service, would be sufficient and reasonable compensation for the termination of the service of Shri Singh. I, therefore, award such compensation to Shri Dharamdeo Singh to be paid by the Company within a month from the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". In the circumstances of this case I also allow cost of this proceeding to be paid to the Union by the Company, and the said cost is assessed at Rs. 100 in lump.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bhartia Electric Steel Company Limited, 8 Swinhoe Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Bhartia Iron & Steel Workers' Union, 7/2A Jamir Lane, Calcutta-9. (Government Order No. 3596-I.R., dated 10th August 1962.) (VIII-125/62.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri S. Roy Chowdhury, Counsel.

For the Union: Shri Ram Sen.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of the Labour Department Order No. 3596-I.R./IR/10L-120/51, dated 10th August 1962, of the Government of West Bengal. The dispute is between Messrs. Bhartia Electric Steel Company Limited, 8 Swinhoe Street, Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bhartia Iron and Steel Workers' Union, 7/2A Jamir Lane, Calcutta-9 (hereinafter described as the Union). The issue framed by the Government is as follows:

> Whether all the workmen are entitled to get the benefit of the existing incentive bonus? If so, on what condition?

In short, the case of the Union is that the Company undertakes manufacture of axlebox, buffer casing, buffer plunger, bogie bolster centre wheel, heavy casting, bogie column, etc. The Company introduced production or incentive bonus schemes under which the workmen are required to give more production. The incentive bonus schemes were introduced in some departments, and some departments and some workmen have been deprived of the benefits of the scheme. Workmen of General Section, Store Section, Transport Section, Foundry Section and many others including clerical and subordinate staff and temporary hands are not getting any benefit of the incentive bonus scheme. These persons have been excluded by the Company although they are co-operating with other workmen in the matter of production. Many companies of the engineering industries have included the so-called non-productive workmen like those excluded the so-called non-productive workmen like those excluded in this Company in various incentive bonus scheme. The Union has claimed that the excluded persons may be allowed to enjoy the benefits of the incentive bonus scheme and that the scheme now in existence may be revised by fixing the rates of bonus.

The Company has also filed written statements. Its case is that the Company is primarily engaged in producing steel castings and ingots. The Company introduced on its own initiative and discretion various incentive bonus schemes in different departments and for different groups of workmen from time to time according to the nature of their duties. It has been alleged that the introduction or any subsequent extension of production or incentive bonus scheme is entirely a management function and the Company cannot be compelled to extend the scheme to all workmen. It is stated that the schemes were introduced in consultation with the Union and the workmen. The schemes are subject to certain specified conditions and have been tailored to suit the requirements of different production or maintenance departments or groups of persons. There is no practice in the Engineering Industry to extend the benefit of incentive bonus scheme to all the workmen as a rule. The excluded persons are not connected with the production and they cannot claim any incentive bonus. Moreover, the schemes now in existence meant for any particular department or groups of persons cannot be practically extended to the excluded workmen. The Company has, however, denied the material allegations made by the Union in the written statement. It has been further stated that the Company cannot be regarded as a highly prosperous and financially stable unit. It is clearly stated by the Company that the actual production turned out by the workmen in different firms where incentive bonus schemes were introduced was much below of the normal production capacity of the said department and as majority of the workmen were time-rated, the Company had no option but to introduce piece-rates and incentive bonus schemes in the production and maintenance departments with a view to increase the production to a satisfactory level. It has also been stated that the work of the excluded workmen cannot be measured. The submission of the Company is that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to revise the existing bonus scheme or the rates of bonus in the present reference and that the claim of the workmen for the incentive bonus has failed.

After considering the main contentions of the parties I should give the history of this case in a nutshell. The State Government sent a similar reference to this very Tribunal in the year 1957 with the same issue between the parties and the Tribunal did not give any relief to the workmen. Against that decision the workmen moved the Hon'ble High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, and the Hon'ble Court by its order, dated 11th July 1961, quashed the award of this Tribunal.

The State of West Bengal was, however, to place the dispute either before the same Tribunal or before any other Tribunal of its choice. Ultimately, however, the present reference before me was made by the Government. It may be mentioned in this connection that Mr. Justice Banerjee relying on the case of Burn & Co. Ltd. and others versus their employees reported in 1960, 3 S.C.R. p. 423 remarked that he was bound to hold that the Tribunal did not proceed on sound ground in refusing the extension of the scheme to the excluded workmen. In the instant reference I am to consider whether according to the principles laid down by the Supreme Court or other authorities the excluded persons should be entitled to get the benefit of the incentive bonus scheme.

Both the parties produced several documents which have been exhibited in this case. Some witnesses were also examined by both the parties.

At the time of argument Shri S. Roy Chowdhury, learned Counsel for the Company, has argued that no relief can be granted to the workmen on three grounds, viz., (i) the excluded persons meaning those who are not getting any benefit of any incentive scheme do not take any part in the actual production, (ii) there has been no increase in the workload of the excluded workmen and (iii) the incentive bonus scheme now in existence and followed by the Company cannot be extended to the excluded workmen. In this connection it has also been argued that the starting or extension of any incentive bonus scheme is a management function and, therefore, this Tribunal cannot interfere with the decision of the management in this respect, and that section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act is a bar to the maintainability to the present reference.

The evidence shows and it is admitted during the argument that the Company started the incentive bonus scheme long before the agitation made by the workmen regarding it. The evidence further shows that there are some schemes of incentive bonus in particular departments on the basis of nature of work of the employees, that some schemes were formulated regarding a particular group of persons according to the nature of work, and that there is also schemes concerning a single worker. In Ext. B we get the nature of incentive bonus schemes of the Company. It also appears that some of the schemes were based upon agreement between the Company and the Union. The admitted fact is that bonus is being paid according to the schemes now prevalent in the factory of the Company. I am also satisfied and there is no denial about the fact that all the workmen are connected with the works in the factory or workshop of the Company. The first question that arises for consideration is whether or not the excluded workmen contribute anything towards the production of the Company. In Ext. A we get a list of the excluded workmen mentioned from page 70 to page 82. In these pages, more or less, the particulars of the excluded workmen are given. We get the name of the department, the designation and the nature of the work of these persons. I have considered the case of each of these workmen and I am satisfied that they are indirectly connected with the actual works of production and works relating to the production. I have considered also the statements of the witnesses examined on behalf of the Union and the Company. The Union wants to say through the witnesses that the excluded persons are connected with the works of production and that there has been an increase in their workload. The Company, on the other hand, has tried to show through the witnesses that the excluded persons were not directly connected with the production and that there has been no increase in the workload. O.P.W. 3, the Chief Executive of the Company, has stated that the works of the Stores Department are not directly connected with the production but in a very general sense the men of the Stores Department contribute indirectly to the production because if they stop work the production will be affected. Similarly, the men of the Transport Department are indirectly connected with the production. This witness has admitted during the cross-examination that if the men of the departments mentioned in the statement of employment position at unmarked page 3 of Ext. D stop work, the production will be affected and the work of the factory will be dislocated. Similar is the case of the Canteen Department. The third unmarked page of Ext. D shows the position of the employees excluded from the incentive bonus scheme in different departments. In this connection I have considered three important cases decided by the Supreme Court. The first case is Burn & Co. Ltd. versus their employees reported in 1960, L.L.J. Vol. II, at page 261. In that case the Company introduced incentive bonus for manual workers including Sirkars and Checkers but there was no provision for incentive bonus to the clerical and subordinate staff. The workmen claimed that these two categories should also be given incentive bonus like the manual workers. The Company resisted the claim on the ground that the clerical staff got the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's dearness allowance which was higher than the dearness allowance paid to the manual workers and that the clerical staff and the subordinate staff did not actually produce anything. The learned Tribunal found no substance in the first contention and it was conscious of the fact that although the clerical staff and the subordinate staff did not directly produce goods but, in its opinion, there is no jurisdiction for their total exclusion when other comparable concerns were paying incentive bonus to the clerical and subordinate staff also. The Tribunal therefore ordered that the Company should extend the scheme of incentive bonus to the clerical and subordinate staff also and lay down the rates and conditions for the same. The Hon'ble Supreme Court considered the contention in that case and upheld the decision of the Tribunal. It has been pointed out by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the following words:

> "But there can be no doubt that economically speaking clerical and the subordinate staff also take part in the production and there is no reason therefore for excluding them altogether from the scheme of the incentive bonus. Besides, as the Tribunal has pointed out in other comparable concerns incentive bonus is being paid to the clerical and subordinate staff. The fact that the dearness allowance was paid to the clerical staff at a higher scale is also, in our opinion, no reason for depriving them altogether of the benefits of the incentive scheme."

With regard to the workload it has been stated in the same judgment as follows:

> "It is however difficult to accept that there will be no increase in the work of the clerical staff in particular and also of the subordinate staff because of higher production, though it may be accepted that the increase may not be in proportion to the increase of production".

Ultimately, the decision of the learned Tribunal was upheld.

The next case is National Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. versus their workmen and another reported in 1962 L.L.J. Vol. II, at page 752. In this case the Company was running a steel mill at Belur having several departments including direct productive department and non-productive department. In that case the question was whether indirect productive department should be paid incentive bonus at the same rate at which the workmen of the productive department were paid. The case of Burn & Co. Ltd. was considered in the case of National Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. and the principles laid down in the former case was approved. It was stated in the judgment of the National Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. that the Tribunal would do well to ascertain whether in view of the increased production there has been a rise in the workload with regard to non-productive workmen.

Next we get the case of between Western India Match Co. Ltd. versus their workmen reported in 1963, L.L.J. Vol. II, at page 459. In this case the Company engaged in manufacture of matches was having one of the factories at Bareilly. The Company is also having a separate sales office at the same place to look after the sales of the goods manufactured at their factory. The question was whether the benefit of the incentive bonus scheme should be extended to the staff employed at the sales office. On consideration of the position of the salesmen beyond the limits of the factory in relation to the finished goods coming from the factory, it was found in the judgment of the Supreme Court as follows:

> "Therefore, it would be unreasonable to say that though those who make the matches are 'producing', but those who sell them are not".

On consideration of the principles laid down by the highest Tribunal of this country and the evidence and circumstances appearing before me, I hold that the excluded persons are making contribution towards the production of the company though indirectly and that they are certainly connected with the works of production.

The next question is whether there has been any increase in the work-load of the excluded workmen. It has been argued from the side of the Company that from comparative study there has been no increase in the production after 1956 when compared to the production of 1956. In this connection it has been argued that after 1956 there has been addition to the strength of the employees and although there has been an increase in the number of employees in different departments, there has been decrease in the production. In these circumstances it has been submitted that there has been no increase in the workload and, as such, the question of incentive bonus to the excluded persons does not arise. The second page of Ext. D relates to the statement of production. Mere employment position in the next page cannot prove that there has been less production after 1956. There is no statement regarding the working days in each year. There is no statement either to show as to how many persons were employed each day covering so many years for production. There may be various factors for the decrease in the production in the subsequent years. All those details are not before me. Moreover, the admitted position is that in spite of the decrease in production the Company is paying incentive bonus to certain other employees. If really the Company decided to pay incentive bonus on the basis of workload, certainly incentive bonus should not have been paid to those persons who are now getting bonus. If those persons are getting the bonus, why should the excluded persons be deprived of the benefit? The evidence shows that the incentive bonus was introduced in order to encourage the workmen to produce more. Admittedly again, some persons are getting incentive bonus and on account of the introduction of this system there has been at least some increase in the production. As a result thereof there must be some increase at least in other departments connected with the production. The evidence shows that with the introduction of the incentive bonus scheme several forms are to be filled in, and naturally raw materials are to be brought in large quantities and there has been certainly some increase in the finished goods, which require to be despatched from the factory to their destination. In these circumstances, I cannot concede, for a moment, that with the increase of production there cannot be increase in the works of other departments connected with the factory. With the increase in the production, workers of all the departments must be more busy and their work must be increased to some extent at least. Of course, the increase in the workload may not be to the same extent as in case of the actual producers. The workload of the excluded persons must have, therefore, increased but not to the same proportion as in the case of workers connected directly with the production.

Another fact should be considered in this connection. The Industrial Disputes Act has been enacted for maintaining good and balanced relation between the employees and employers. The intention of the legislation is to stop exploitation of the labour by the employer and also to see that the production of the country may not be disturbed or set back by any indisciplined worker. In the most cases, however, the manual labourers of the lower grade are uneducated and helpless and in many cases taking the advantages of the poverty of the labourers the employer wants to take undue advantage. It is to be remembered that for maintaining good relation between the employer and the employees, peace and harmony in the field of production should prevail with the progress of the industry. It should be seen that fair play both on the side of the employer and on the side of employees is being practised in the industry. It should also be remembered that the employer should have human feelings and to act on humane consideration. The employer should also remember that the employees are all members of human family and that they should be treated with sympathy and affection. The employer should act with good conscience and with the principles of impartiality. I think that the position of the managerial authority is that of Pater familias looking after the interest of the workmen with a benevolent gesture. On the other hand, the emloyees should also be disciplined and faithful and sincere workers doing their duties to the best of their abilities. Unless the labourers are disciplined and faithful, it cannot be expected that the employer should also look after their interest. There must be reciprocity of action, rights and duties. There must be mutual and sincere co-operation in the field of industry. One party must feel the difficulty of the other. In this connection the employer should note that if there be any unfair labour practice, or impartiality shown towards the workmen, the confidence of the workers cannot be gained and as a result thereof there will be chaos and rapture in the industry. There must be fair play on the parts of the employer and the employees and in that case alone there will be happy, sincere and peaceful atmosphere in the field of production. In the case before me the Company wants to say that there has been decrease in the production every year after 1956. Why then did the Company start incentive bonus for some selected workmen although there has been no increase in the workload in general? It has been stated that the incentive bonus was introduced in order to get increase in production. If that is so, then certainly the Company should have considered the concomitant variation in the workload of the other departments. The Company should have considered that the incentive bonus scheme should be extended to all the workmen so that there may not be any grievance in the mind of any workman on the ground that some of them are being excluded. This sort of practice, I think, is not a fair practice. I do not say that in this case the Company had any malice towards the excluded persons. I say that the Company should have done well if they did extend the benefits of the incentive bonus scheme to the excluded persons. In that case the workmen would have felt that there had been no partiality from the side of the Company and that the workmen, all in a body, would have been happy. However, as I have already indicated earlier, I find that there has been an increase in the workload of all the excluded workmen on account of the introduction of the incentive bonus scheme and the increase in production.

The evidence shows that some other engineering companies are paying incentive bonus to all the workmen including the clerical staff and the subordinate staff. In some cases the scheme was the result of agreement and in some cases the Company of their own accord formulated the schemes. However, the fact remains that in some of the concerns incentive bonus is being paid to the workmen in general. I have considered the incentive bonus schemes of some other companies exhibited in this case, and on consideration of all the facts I am of the opinion that two categories of workmen at least should be excluded. They are badli workers and trainees or apprentices. Badli workers cannot get any incentive bonus because they are purely temporary and casual workers without any stability and practically having no substantial right in the service under the Company. The trainees or apprentices are taken by the Company in order to give training. I do not think that they should be entitled to get any incentive bonus. All other persons excluded by the company should be entitled to get incentive bonus.

The next argument from the side of the Company has been that the incentive bonus scheme now in operation in the Compnay cannot be extended to the persons excluded because according to the principles laid down in those schemes the works of the excluded persons cannot be assessed for the purpose of giving bonus. I have considered the scheme referred to in Ext. B. It is true that the schemes already in existence cannot be applied to the excluded workmen because they were not framed for them. O.P.W. 3 has given certain essentials for the introduction of incentive bonus scheme. The witness has stated that he could not frame incentive bonus scheme for the excluded persons because the works of the excluded persons could not be measured and that was his difficulty. His contention was that persons directly connected with the actual production can be grouped together for bringing them under an incentive bonus scheme. He has stated categorically that the incentive bonus scheme cannot be extended to the clerks and other excluded workers. I think his opinion cannot be accepted because, in fact, several other concerns have formulated incentive bonus scheme to give the benefit to clerks and other persons. An attempt has been made to say that in a general incentive bonus scheme all categories of workmen can be given benefit of the incentive bonus but in that case also there cannot be any precise standard for fixing the rates of bonus payable to the excluded categories of workmen. It is easier no doubt to fix rates for the works of the direct producers but although it is not possible to measure the works of the clerks and other groups of persons for the purpose of incentive bonus on account of their being connected indirectly with the production, the Company in all fairness should find out some standard or criterion for the assessment of incentive bonus as has been done in other concerns. The principles or standard may not be the same but the employer should find out some reasonable and just standard for assessment. It depends upon the just discretion of the employer.

In connection with this branch of argument Shri Roy Chowdhury for the company has submitted that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to direct the Company to set up some other incentive bonus scheme for the excluded persons. The ground assigned is that, according to the issue framed the Tribunal is only to see if incentive bonus scheme prevalent in the Company can be extended to any of the excluded workmen and if the scheme is applicable, only in that case the Tribunal can give benefit to the workmen concerned. It has been suggested from the side of the Company that the Tribunal cannot direct the management to start incentive bonus scheme and this matter is a managerial function. Let us now see what the issue is. As I have already mentioned earlier, the issue has been framed in the order of reference in the following words:

> "Whether all the workmen are entitled to get the benefit of the existing incentive bonus? If so, on what condition?"

Admittedly, some of the workmen of the Company are getting benefits of certain incentive bonus schemes. This position is admitted. The position therefore is that some workmen are getting the benefit of some incentive bonus payable by the Company and some have been excluded. According to the clear language of the issue the Tribunal is to enquire and decide whether all the workmen without any exception or exclusion of the excluded workmen are entitled to get the benefit of the incentive bonus which is being paid by the Company to some of them. There is no question as to whether or not the incentive bonus schemes now functioning are applicable to the workmen. Rather, in plain language the question arises whether all the workmen of the Company can claim incentive bonus. The exclusion of some workmen from the benefit of incentive bonus is the question for decision. I cannot therefore hold that simply because the existing scheme set up for some categories of workmen cannot be extended to the excluded workmen, no benefit can be extended to the excluded workmen. In view of my decision the management should consider to formulate appropriate schemes so that the workmen entitled to the benefit of the incentive bonus should get such bonus. The formation of such schemes are certainly matters of the management. I agree that this Tribunal cannot direct the management to set up or introduce incentive bonus scheme for the first time but when the Company has already introduced certain incentive bonus schemes for some categories of the workmen, this Tribunal can for ends of just decision and fair dealings direct the management to extend the benefit of incentive bonus to the excluded persons by taking suitable steps . In that case it cannot be said that the Tribunal has directed the Company to introduce incentive bonus scheme for the first time. In this connection the case of Burn & Co. Ltd. already referred to may be considered. In that case the Company already introduced incentive bonus scheme for manual workers including the clerical and the subordinate staff. The claim of the Union was to extend the benefit of the incentive bonus to the clerical and the subordinate staff and the Tribunal ordered that the Company should extend the scheme of the incentive bonus to the clerical and subordinate staff also and lay down the rates and conditions for the same. The Supreme Court held in the judgment as follows:

> "We can see no reason why where an incentive bonus is in force in a concern for the majority of its workmen, the Tribunal should not be able to extend the same to the remainder of the workmen".

Following the principles laid down by the Hon'ble Judges of the Supreme Court, I therefore hold that I can direct the employer to extend the benefit of incentive bonus to the excluded workmen by appropriate scheme.

An endeavour was made from the side of the Company during the argument to submit that in view of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act the workmen cannot claim any change regarding the incentive bonus scheme unless the workmen give notice of an intention to terminate the agreement made between the Company and the workmen regarding the incentive bonus scheme. I do not think that this argument has any sound basis. The evidence shows that at first the Company in its own motion introduced the incentive bonus scheme. Thereafter there had been some agreements between the workmen and the Company regarding some further schemes. The evidence shows that some of the schemes were approved by the workmen in the form of agreement and there were some incentive bonus schemes which were not on the basis of agreement at all. It should be remembered in this connection that after the introduction of incentive bonus scheme by the Company the workmen from time to time agreed with the Company for some additional benefit to the workmen or extension of the benefit of the incentive bonus scheme to some other workmen. In these circumstances, therefore, there cannot be any question of settlement between the Company and the workmen over the introduction of the incentive bonus scheme or exclusion of any workmen upon any agreement. This line of argument is therefore of no avail.

Lastly, it was argued that the schemes of the incentive bonus, exhibited on the side of the union in this case, are not in the same line with those existing in the Company and, therefore, the excluded persons though included by some other companies in their scheme cannot get any benefit. We are not concerned here with the frame work or details of the incentive bonus schemes. We are concerned with the principles of law and fair treatment towards the workmen according to the accepted cannons of honesty, good conscience and sincerity. It has been found by me that except badli workers, trainees and apprentices all other workmen should get the benefit of incentive bonus and, therefore, the Company is to provide such benefit as far as practicable according to the good conscience and just decision. The variations regarding the structure of the schemes do not matter. I think that the Company should take necessary step to extend the benefit to the workmen concerned. In the present case before me, a case has been made out by the workmen to get some benefit.

In view of my findings above, I, therefore, find that all the workmen except badli workers, trainees and apprentices should be entitled to get the benefit of the existing incentive bonus payable by the Company as indicated in the body of my award. The Company should therefore extend the benefit of incentive bonus to those persons by appropriate scheme or schemes and lay down the rates and conditions for the same. The fixation of the rates and the conditions for incentive bonus are left to the management because these are primarily the functions of the management and also because the parties did not produce before me any material, sufficient and reasonable, for the purpose. The Company is to implement this award and the benefit should be extended to the workmen before the expiry of the year 1964.

For Appellant: Mr. P. S. Basu, Mr. Surath Chandra Chakraborty, Mr. Siba Pada Mukherjee.

For Respondent No. 1: Mr. Krishnabinode Roy, Mr. Prasanta Kumar Bandopadhyay.

Chatterjee, J:

This is an appeal under section 116(A) of the Representation of People Act of 1951 against the order of a tribunal under that Act.

The petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu was a candidate from the Singur Constituency of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly in the district of Hooghly in the last general election. The appellant is Provakar Pal who was elected from the said constituency as the petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu was found to secure 28,822 votes whereas the appellant Provakar Pal secured 28,853 votes according to the declaration made by the Returning Officer.

The petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu claimed that the appellant Probhakar belonged to the Mahishya community in a constituency where Mahishyas constituted a very large number of the voters; he appealed to them for votes on the ground of caste. Further that certain leaflets were distributed whereby the appellant must be considered to have exercised undue influence within the meaning of section 123(2), proviso (a) (ii) of the said Act. The leaflet in question was marked Ext. 1 and the printed leaflet shows that the said leaflet was published by Shri Benoy Roy, Secretary to the Publicity Sub-Committee, West Bengal Provincial Congress Committee, and printed at the Jupiter Printing Works. The leaflet is a compilation of extracts from various newspapers including the "Ananda Bazar Patrika," "Jugantar," "Lok Sevak" and "Paygam". The extract from the Paygam, dated the 10th February 1962, is attached; it is stated that Bejoy Roy, a person in the position of an agent of the appellant, caused the document to be published so as to attract the religious feeling of the Muslims who constituted a fairly good number of voters.

The election was also vitiated because certain ballot papers, which should have been rejected, were accepted in favour of Pal. That is stated in paragraphs 14 and 16. It was also alleged in paragraph 18 that the result of the election so far as Pal was concerned, was materially affected by non-compliance with the provisions of the Constitution and/or of the Representation of the People Act and/or orders framed thereunder. In paragraph 19 of the petition it was alleged that postal votes were irregularly accepted on behalf of Pal and they should have been cancelled. In paragraphs 20 and 21 it was stated: "that the counting of the ballot papers including the postal ballot papers may be made." It is clear, therefore, that the petitioner applied for declaring the election void because of the grounds which come within sections 100(b) and 100(d). The petitioner further claimed that the petitioner be declared as duly elected in terms of section 101 of the Representation of People Act.

Provakar Pal filed his objection. But he did not move a notice for recrimination as under section 97 of the Representation of People Act nor did he furnish within the time limited by section 97 the required security. Thereafter, the case was heard and evidence was adduced on behalf of both the parties. The Returning Officer Shri P. Ghosal examined himself but he did not prove the reports of the Presiding Officer of several booths. A petition was filed on the 24th June 1963 by the petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu saying that the Returning Officer admitted certain incidents at Khosalpur and Gandarpukur and his evidence is based on the reports of the Presiding Officer and he gave oral evidence about those matters after perusing those reports. But the Returning Officer did not adduce them in evidence in support of his case; he was examined as the witness of Pal. The petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu, therefore, prayed that the report of the Presiding Officers of Khosalpur and Gandarpukur might be marked as Exts. on admission as those had been filed by the respondent No. 3 in support of his case. This petition was strongly objected to by Probhakar, the appellant. Having heard the lawyers for both the parties, the tribunal ordered on the 24th June 1963 by order No. 20 as follows:

> "Let the two reports of the Presiding Officers be marked exhibits on petitioner's side as admitted by the petitioner subject to objections by respondents. Documents filed by the respondent No. 1 be also marked exhibits after objection."

The objection in this case was, as it is even now, that the Presiding Officers should have been examined to prove their reports and this was not done.

Various issues were raised before the Election Tribunal. It is not necessary for our present purpose to refer to all of them. The Election Judge found that there was no corrupt practice and that the postal votes were properly accepted. He also found that there was no corrupt practice so far as the appeal to religion as in the "Paygam" nor appeal to the caste as stated by the petitioner, was proved. The only point on which the Judge has set aside the election is the ground that the appellant did not file a notice for recrimination as under section 97. According to the Judge, the petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu applied for scrutiny and counting of those votes which had been improperly accepted in favour of Probhakar, the elected candidate, and improperly rejected as against the petitioner Basu. The Judge considered such votes and found that on taking account of such votes which were improperly rejected against the petitioner Basu and improperly accepted in favour of Probhakar Pal, the relative position of the parties would be that Probhakar Pal got 28,829 votes and the petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu got a total of 28,879 votes and, therefore, the election was liable to be set aside. But while considering the question as to whether the petitioner should be declared elected or not, the Judge found that the petitioner had not got the majority of all the valid votes and, therefore, he could not be declared elected.

Mr. Bose, who has appeared on behalf of the appellant, urged that if Probhakhar had got the majority of the valid votes, the election could never have been set abide and the Judge when he considered as to whether the election should be set aside or not, should have considered the position as to who obtained the majority of all lawful votes, that is to say, the majority of all valid votes. The Judge did not take that matter into consideration for purposes of section 100 of the Representation of People Act on the ground that no notice for recrimination on behalf of Probhakar was filed and as no notice of recrimination was filed, the Judge could not take into account the votes which were improperly accepted so far as the petitioner Ajit Kumar Basu is concerned and improperly rejected so far as Probhakar is concerned. Mr. Bose had challenged this proposition of law and urged that no petition under section 97 was at all necessary in a case which comes under section 100(1)(d) of the Representation of People Act.

Mr. Roy has appeared on behalf of Ajit Kumar Basu who is the respondent in this Court. Mr. Roy has urged that he is entitled not merely to support the judgment but also entitled to challenge those findings which the Election Judge made against him because of the provisions of Or. 41, Rule 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure. He has further filed a cross-objection on behalf of Ajit Kumar Basu to the effect that Ajit Kumar Basu should have been declared elected. Mr. Bose on behalf of the petitioner has challenged the rights of the respondent No. 1 Ajit Kumar Basu to challenge the findings arrived at by the Election Judge without filing an appeal against the same. He has further urged that the cross-objection is not maintainable, because Basu has not complied with the provisions of law nor has he furnished the security concerned.

Mr. Roy referred to Or. 41, Rule 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure and also to the relevant sections of the Representation of People Act and, according to Mr. Roy, he can challenge the findings of the Election Judge on all points on which the Election Judge held against him and was also entitled to file a cross-objection and the question of security would not arise as the same has not yet been provided either in the Act or in the rules framed by this Court.

Mr. Roy supported the Judgment of the Election Judge on the ground that the appellant not having filed a notice under section 97 recriminating the petitioner Basu, he is not entitled to demand any scrutiny so far as the votes which have been improperly accepted for Basu and improperly rejected for Probhakar Pal. He further submitted that the postal votes should have been rejected on the ground that the address of the sender was not given. He further referred to the leaflets, Ext. 1, and said that appeal was made on ground of religion and, therefore, corrupt practice had been adopted. Mr. Roy further referred to Exts. 8 and 8A and said that the candidate Pal created commotion and disorderly conduct which required the intervention of the police and which further required voting to be stopped for sometime, the result of which was to threaten the voters and this would be undue influence within the meaning of section 123(2), proviso (a)(i) of the Representation of People Act.

The first point of Mr. Bose on behalf of Pal, the returned candidate, is that no notice for recrimination need have been made under section 97 of the Representation of People Act and the Judge was wrong in holding that a notice for recrimination would still be necessary. According to Mr. Bose, when there is a question of scrutiny or counting, the scrutiny or counting must include the scrutiny and counting of all lawful votes and there is nothing like a scrutiny or a counting of votes in favour of one or the other. Scrutiny does not mean that nor does it imply partial scrutiny. Therefore, no notice of recrimination would be necessary.

Section 97 is as follows:

"(1) When in an application petition a declaration that any candidate other than the returned candidate has been duly elected is claimed, the returned candidate or any other party may give evidence to prove that the election of such candidate would have been void if he had been the returned candidate and a petition had been presented calling in question his election:

Provided that the returned candidate or such other parties as aforesaid shall not be entitled to give such evidence unless he has, within 14 days from the date of the commencement of the trial, given notice to the tribunal of his intention to do so and has also given the security and the further security referred to in sections 117 and 118 respectively.

(2) Every notice referred in sub-section (1) shall be accompanied by the statement and particulars required by section 83 in the case of an election petition and shall be signed and verified in like manner."

Therefore, section 97 demands a notice under sub-section (1) within a period of 14 days together with furnishing of security and matters referred to in section 117 or 118 of the Act. There is no doubt that there was no notice within the meaning of section 97 within the stipulated period nor security as under sections 117 and 118 was furnished. Therefore, if section 97(1) applies, Pal would not be allowed to give evidence to prove that the election of such candidate would have been void if he had been the returned candidate and a petition had been presented calling in question his election. The marginal note on section 97 which is in the Chapter III relating to trial of election petitions is "Recrimination when a seat is claimed ". The word "recrimination" means "accusation in return". When a petitioner files an election petition, he accuses, i.e., criminates the opposite party, of corrupt practice and all things like that. The other party may also in such circumstances say that even if the petitioner had been elected and the returned candidate had presented a petition calling in question his election, his election would have been void or, in other words, if the petitioner makes charges against the returned candidate, the returned candidate can also make counter-charges. The idea behind it is that if the charge of any of the parties is substantiated, then the election goes and if any of these charges was proved, questions relating to counting, scrutiny and others would not arise. Halsbury's Laws of England, 3rd Edn., Vol. 14, page 299, may be considered. Article 541 which refers to recriminatory cases is as follows:

"When recriminatory evidence may be offered. On the trial of a petition complaining of an undue election and claiming the seat or office for some person, the respondent may give evidence to prove that that person was not duly elected in the same manner as if he had presented a petition against the election of that person."

This is section 122(5) of the Representation of People Act, 1949, in England. But on an election petition a recriminatory case may be made which is different from a case for scrutiny or a case for recounting. With reference to scrutiny and recriminatory case Art. 55a at page 306 is as follows:

"Where the election petition makes charge of corrupt or illegal practices, the practice is to take the recriminatory case before the scrutiny. The reason is that if both the petitioner and respondent are disqualified, it would be a waste of time to go into a scrutiny. Where, however, the petitioner only claims the seat without alleging any corrupt or illegal practice on the part of the respondent, the practice has been to take the scrutiny first."

The idea, therefore, is clear that scrutiny and recriminatory case are completely different matters. As an election may be set aside on charges of corrupt practices, it may also be set aside on scrutiny. But these are different. A recriminatory case, as it is understood in England, appears to me to be a case regarding corrupt or illegal practice and does not include a case for scrutiny or recount. But the question that we have to consider here is not what the law in England is but what the law in our country is. It may be that we have derived our law from the English common law or English statute in the Representation of People Act, 1949; but the real question is not what the English law is; the real question is what our own law is. The reference to English common law and to the Representation of People Act in England is only a reference for the purpose of appreciation or our own law.

Section 97 may be considered in three parts, namely, (i) when in an election petition a declaration that any candidate other than the returned candidate has been duly elected is claimed, (ii) the returned candidate or any other party may give evidence to prove that the election of such candidate would have been void, (iii) if he had been the returned candidate and a petition had been presented calling in question his election.

Section 100(1) refers to the grounds on which an election can be declared void. Section 101 refers to the grounds for which a candidate other than the returned candidate may be declared to have been elected. Hence, the first part of section 97 shows that notice for recrimination is necessary only in those cases in which a claim is made as under section 101 that any candidate other than the returned candidate has been duly elected. So far as this condition is concern, this part is satisfied in the present case on the ground that there is a claim for a declaration as referred to in the first part of section 97. The next part of section 97 is that the returned candidate may give evidence to prove that the election of such candidate would have been in the same manner void. Section 100(1) says what are the grounds on which the election could be declared to be void, but section 97 does not make any reference to section 100(1) of the Act. Section 100(1) makes an election void under various circumstances. Some of the grounds referred to in section 100(1) make an application void if that ground is found to exist. It also refers to the avoidability of the election on some other grounds, but those grounds by themselves do not make the election void. If we refer to section 100, we find that the grounds referred to in (a), (b) and (c) make the election void without any further condition attached to it and the election becomes void if any of the three matters referred to in (a), (b) and (c) occurs. But the grounds referred to in (d) stand on a different footing. In a case under cl. (d) the candidate is to prove not merely the existence of any or more of the conditions referred to in (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) but also that the result of the election (taken as a whole) must also have become materially affected because of the existence of the conditions referred to in (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv). Therefore, section 100(1) makes the election void (unconditionally) if grounds as in (a), (b) and (c), occur, whereas on proof of matters referred to in clauses (i) to (iv) the election does not become void by itself; something more has to be found, namely, the result of the election (as a whole) has been materially affected because of the conditions referred to in (i) to (iv). Hence, on mere proof of any condition in (i) to (iv) the election becomes voidable. The Legislature in section 97 could have inserted the phrase "on any of the grounds referred to in section 100" after the word "void" and before the word "if". But the Legislature has not done that. No reference has been made to the entirety of section 100, but to those grounds which make it void and not avoidable. I would, therefore, be inclined to hold that section 97 refers to any of those grounds which may make the election void by itself, i.e., those referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c). But circumstances as under (d) are not to be considered in section 97. We now consider (iii) of section 100(1); if the returned candidate wants a scrutiny, is he required to file a recriminatory notice? Scrutiny is a ground for setting aside an election. The petitioner Basu has referred to that ground and has asked for setting aside the election after scrutiny. But he has added that the scrutiny must be made with regard to votes which have been improperly rejected so far as the petitioner Basu is concerned and improperly accepted so far as the returned candidate Pal is concerned. Does the law recognise such a scrutiny? The word "scrutiny" has not been defined under the Act. In Halsbury's Laws of England 'scrutiny' is dealt with in Art. 543 and it is stated, "It has been stated previously that on a petition complaining of an undue election the petitioner may claim that the successful candidate was not elected by a majority of lawful votes and demand a scrutiny. The object of a scrutiny is to ascertain by striking off votes or adding votes which candiate had the majority of lawful votes." 'Scrutiny,' therefore, means the scrutiny of all lawful votes. There is nothing like a scrutiny of votes in favour of one party and scrutiny against the other. 'Scrutiny' means scrutiny of all lawful votes. If we refer to section 100(1)(d)(iii), we get the same thing. Clause (d) (iii) is as follows:

> "That the result of the election, in so far as it concerns a returned candidate, has been materially affected—
> * * * * *
> (iii) by the improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote or the reception of any votes which is void."

Whenever any candidate wants to rely on grounds (d) (iii), he must have a scrutiny of all votes which were improperly received, which were improperly refused or which were improperly rejected and also scrutiny of all votes which were void. These are the four matters which have to be considered and this evidently refers to improper reception, refusal or rejection or the reception of any void vote taking into account all lawful votes. Mr. Roy says that if he refers to the opening words of clause (d), it would mean improper reception, refusal, rejection of any vote or the reception of any vote which is void so far as it concerns a returned candidate. He interprets clause (d) as follows:

> "that the result of the election * * has been materially affected * * (iii) by the improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote or the reception of any vote which is void so far as it concerns the petitioner."

According to Mr. Roy, the clause "so far as it concerns a returned candidate" refers "to any vote" in (iii). But the clause "so far as it concerns a returned candidate", refers to "the result of the election" does not refer to "any vote". Further, the word "vote" in (iii) is qualified by the word "any". We cannot say that the word "vote" is qualified by the words "in so far as it concerns the petitioner". On the other hand the word "vote" is qualified by the word "any" and not by the word "some" or nor by the phrase "votes so far as it concerns the petitioner". The word "any" refers to all votes actually cast and does not refer to some of them. "Any vote", which has been cast, will have to be scrutinised and that is how all the votes have to be scrutinised.

Then again there would be no meaning in saying that the result of an election has been materially affected by improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote so far as it concerns a returned candidate. This would mean that there would be no scrutiny so far as the votes of the petitioner are concerned. This is absurd. Mr. Roy's argument is, in cases where a recrimination notice has not been given, no evidence can be given and no scrutiny can be made of all those votes which were improperly rejected against the returned candidate or improperly accepted on behalf of the petitioner. There again we do not agree with Mr. Roy. Section 97 bars the reception of evidence or as the section is worded 'giving of evidence', but there is no question of giving evidence so far as the improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote actually cast is concerned. The ballot papers constitute parts of the record in election case and there is no question of "giving evidence" with regard to them. They are already in evidence. Section 97 merely bars "giving evidence" but does not bar exclusion of all things which automatically are on record. All ballot papers are evidence by the nature of it and there is no further question of "giving evidence" so far as the votes actually cast are concerned. Mr. Ray has referred to a decision of Hidyatullah, C.J., as His Lordship then was in the Madhya Pradesh High Court, in a case between Inayatullah Khan vs. Diwanchand, 15 Election Law Reports, page 219. His Lordship had occasion to construe section 97 and His Lordship came to the conclusion that section 100(1) gives a general provision, but section 97 is a special provision and His Lordship found that the special provision of section 97 must prevail over the general provision of section 100(1). To this extent I respectfully agree but according to His Lordship, unless recriminating notice has been served, evidence should not be allowed to be given with reference to any matter referred to in section 100(1). With very great respect to His Lordship, I am afraid, I cannot agree with the observations made by His Lordship, then in the Madhya Pradesh High Court. I do agree that section 97 is a special provision and I do also agree that section 100 is a general provision and, therefore, the special provision will exclude the general provision. To this extent I do most respectfully agree with the views expressed by Hidyayetullah, C.J. then in the Madhya Pradesh High Court. But the question is, how far does it go, how far does section 97 exclude section 100? This matter was not considered nor urged before their Lordships in the Madhya Pradesh High Court and there was no occasion for their Lordships to go further into the point as it was neither urged nor pressed. If we examine the question as to how far section 97 would prevail over section 100(1), we should come to the conclusion that it would relate only to "giving evidence" on matters which make the election void by itself. That means (i) giving evidence of extrinsic matter, (ii) relating to the election taken as a whole, and (iii) evidence which make the election void and not merely voidable.

There is no question of "giving evidence" so far as the ballot papers are concerned. It is merely a question of finding out which votes are valid and which votes are not valid. Section 97 bars evidence —evidence extraneous to the case, not matters intrinsic in the case. Ballot papers are intrinsic matters and not external matters on which evidence is to be given. Matters relating to corrupt practice are extrinsic evidence in the case, because they are not intrinsic in the case, but they have to be adduced, they have to be proved by oral evidence and documents have to be proved in such a case. What section 97 bars is "giving evidence" and not cancellation of matters already on the record of the case. In an election case the ballot papers are the subject-matter of the case and form part of the records of the case, because there can be no election without them. Finally, a reference to section 101 would also make the same thing clear. Section 101 provides as follows:

> "If any person who has lodged a petition has, in addition to calling in question the election of the returned candidate, claimed a declaration that he himself or any other candidate has been duly elected and the tribunal is of opinion—
> (a) that in fact the petitioner.....received a majority of the valid votes:
> * * * *
> the tribunal shall after declaring the election of the returned candidate to be void declare the petitioner or such other candidate, as the case may be, to have been duly elected."

Stress must be given to the phrase "in fact..... received a majority of the valid votes". Hence, it is all the valid votes which are to be considered and not some. If it was the intention of the legislature that only some valid votes in favour of the petitioner are to be taken into account, the statue would have made it clear. Section 101 refers to the majority of the valid votes. That means the majority of all the valid votes and that again is qualified by the phrase "in fact". Actually a large number of votes are cast, some of which may be rejected, some of which may be accepted, on scrutiny some of which may be found to be void. This may happen to each one of the candidates. Therefore, the law provides not for consideration of the majority of votes "actually" obtained by a candidate but majority of votes which are "in fact" valid. The statute recognises "actuality" to be different from "factuality" and the legislature was aware of that. They, therefore, provided for consideration of the valid votes which were, in fact, obtained—not which were actually cast. Section 100(1)(2) directs consideration of all votes actually cast and section 101 directs consideration of all votes "factually" obtained as found after scrutiny and counting.

Finally, I have referred to the marginal note "recrimination", I have also referred to the context of recrimination. The Representation of the People Act, 1951 (India), is on the same line as the Representation of the People Act, 1949, in England and has reference to common law. Therefore, in order to understand the context I have referred to Halsbury's Laws of England as well as to the English statute. We find that recrimination means countercharges or counter-accusation; crimination or accusation is referred to in section 95, it may be with regard to corrupt practices of a candidate; recrimination is against the petitioner and the reference here is to the candidate and not to the Presiding Officer. A Presiding Officer may bona fide make a mistake and accept an invalid vote as valid or reject a valid vote as invalid or accept a void vote. But when these votes are taken into account for purposes of scrutiny and counting, it cannot be said there is any question of recrimination therein, because no body wants to countercharge the Returning Officer. Considering all these various aspects of the matter, we are of opinion that no notice for recrimination is necessary so far as the grounds referred to in section 100(1)(d). For all the reasons aforesaid, I would most respectfully differ from the views of the Madhya Pradesh High Court, the view which the trial court accepted. The view that we are taking in the matter is a view which was accepted in the Allahabad High Court in a case between Lakshmi Shankar Yadab vs. Kunwar Sripat Singh & Ors. reported in Vol. 22, Election Law Reports, page 47.

The next ground urged by Mr. Roy is that regarding the postal votes, the sender's name was not given in the cover as in form No. 13C and he says that it is for this reason that the votes should be rejected. We would refer to rule 62 of the statutory rules and order of the Representation of the People Act. Rule 62 relates to scrutiny and counting of postal ballot papers. Rule 62(6) is as follows:

> "The returning officer shall then place all the declarations in form 13A which are found to be in order in a separate packet which shall be sealed before any cover in form 13B is opened and on which shall be recorded the particulars referred to in sub-rule (5)."

It has been urged that the declarations in form 13A and the covers in form No. 13B were kept separate in one sealed packet. That means that sub-rule (6) was not obeyed. Sub-rule (6) provides that declarations should be kept in a separate packet before any cover in form 13B is opened. But as the declarations in form No. 13A and the covers in form 13B are to be found together in a separate packet, the declarations were not sealed in a separate packet before the covers in form No. 13B were opened. There is no doubt that on the evidence we must come to that conclusion. But the next question is, does this act under the postal votes liable to be rejected. Sub-rule (6) does not by itself say that if it is not complied with, all votes shall be rejected. Sub-rule (8) refers to a postal ballot paper and the circumstances under which it shall be rejected and those circumstances do not include the circumstance which has happened here in not complying with the provisions of sub-rule (6). Sub-rule (9) also shows under what condition a postal ballot paper is to be rejected. Sub-rule (10) shows under what circumstances a postal ballot paper may not be rejected. Ordinarily the word "shall" means "shall" and not "may". But it is also equally known that the word "shall" in some cases has been considered to mean merely "permissive" or directing and in other cases it has been found to mean "mandatory". The question is whether under this rule it should be considered directory, i.e., permissive or mandatory. Mr. Roy has urged that it must be considered to be mandatory unless we can find good reasons to hold that it was not intended to be mandatory. Therefore, we have to refer to sub-rule (6) to find out what the intention of the legislature is. We find that there is no provision as to what would happen if sub-rule (6) is not complied with; there is no penalty attached if the rule is violated. On other hand, sub-rules (8) and (9) show the circumstances under which a postal ballot paper may be rejected and that does not include violation of sub-rule (6). Sub-rule (2) is another rule which says under what circumstances a vote should be rejected and sub-rule (2) provides if the returning officer receives any cover in form No. 13C after the expiry of the time fixed, no vote contained therein shall be counted. Therefore, it is the intention of the legislature that for certain cases non-compliance of the provision the vote shall be rejected; it has been specially provided, so in sub-rules (2), (8) and sub-rule (9) and sub-rule (10) provides that it shall not be rejected even if there is some amount of non-compliance. Sub-rule (10) is: if the mark is indistinct or made more than once, the postal ballot papers shall not be rejected merely on that ground. Therefore, the sub-rules in rule 62 completely provide in what circumstances a vote is to be rejected, a vote is to be accepted and in what circumstances the cover should not be counted at all. Violation of sub-rule (6) does not imply a penalty. Therefore, I must hold that it was not the intention of the legislature that on violation of the provision of sub-rule (6) a vote must be rejected. Hence, the trial court was not in error in accepting those postal votes. This point of Mr. Roy must be overruled.

The third point of Mr. Roy was regarding the statements in the leaflet which contained an extract from the Paygam, i.e., Ext. 1. It is stated by Mr. Bose that Ex. 1 was not proved by a competent person. It mentions the name of one Benoy Roy. Whether it was truly the compilation by Benoy Roy or not, we do not know. Therefore, the document should not have been marked an exhibit. That is the argument of Mr. Bose on behalf of the Appellant in answer to the argument of Mr. Roy that Ex. 1 shows corrupt practice adopted by the returned candidate Pal. Before I go into the merits of the matter I would consider whether this point as to the admissibility of Ext. 1 is of any substance. P.W. 1 Ajit Kr. Bose was examined in part on 13th May 1963. Documents, Exts. 1, 2 and 3, were marked. A petition was filed objecting to the marking of the booklet as Ext. 1. The Judge merely said that the objection would be considered at the time of the argument. I am afraid, the Judge was wrong. The question was whether the P.W. 1 could prove the document, namely, it was actually prepared by the said Benoy Roy who acted on behalf of the party for which Pal was a candidate. If such an objection is taken for admitting a document, it should be decided at once and if the document is not properly proved, opportunity should be given to the party aggrieved for proving the document. The judge observed that the contents of the pamphlet, Ext. 1, have not been legally proved. If that was so, the judge should have given an opportunity to the petitioner to have it proved in the proper manner, but that was not given by the judge. We asked Mr. Bose if he insisted on his objection regarding the manner of proving Ext. 1, we would in that case be compelled to send the matter back and give the petitioner an opportunity to prove the document properly. But Mr. Bose considering the merits of the matter did not press the point. It may be observed that the point though urged in the trial court might not have been urged very seriously, because the Judge even though he has said that the document is not legally proved, has still allowed the document to remain as an exhibit in the case. If the party wants to press his objection regarding the admissibility of the document, he cannot at the same time challenge the merits of the same, until it is properly proved and even if a party has a right of making an alternative argument, the court cannot find the document to be not legally proved and, therefore, no evidence in the case but yet consider the merits of the case on the said document. As the merits of the case on the document was considered in the trial court without much objection and as the merits of the case on this point has been urged before us, we do find that the objection regarding the admissibility of Ext. 1 was not and has not been seriously pressed. If we now refer to the compilation itself, the only paragraph, which is strongly objected, is the last portion of the extract from the "Paygam", dated the 10th February 1962. That extract is as follows:—

> "Having known the real object-principles of communism the Muslim masses and intelligentsia will surely come to this conclusion that the sooner the communist party is exterminated from the political field of our country the better for us. Come, let each of us, religious Muslims, go ahead with the firm and noble vow of exterminating the communists from our country, with our united effort by using in the next election the weapon of destruction we have in our hands in the form of the ballot paper."

"Communism" as they have understood in the said document is, Islam minus God. The question is whether in the context of the entire extract is there any corrupt practice within the meaning of section 123 (2), proviso (a)(ii). Proviso (a)(ii) says, "Induces or attempts to induce a candidate or an elector to believe that he, or any person in whom he is interested, will become or will be rendered an object of divine displeasure or spiritual censure". The statement was not aimed at any particular voter and we have no evidence that any particular voter was in any way influenced by the statement; the "Paygam" does not say that if you vote for the Communist party, you would incur displeasure of the God or spiritual censure. All that is stated is that communism conforms to the principles of Islam but the only difference is that they do not believe in God. It is nowhere stated if a Muslim votes for a communist, he would incur divine displeasure. The whole idea is that, as the communist do not believe in God, let that party be exterminated. We do not think that there has been undue influence within the meaning of section 123, sub-clause (2)(a)(ii). This point of Mr. Roy must be overruled.

The fourth point also relates to corrupt practices. It appears from a document, which is marked Ex. 8A, that the returned candidate Pal forcibly entered into the polling booth in an agitated manner with a section of the crowd and the result was that some of the waiting voters did not cast their votes between 1-10 p.m. and 2-15 p.m. although the polling station was open all through. The sector police on receiving information from the Presiding Officer intervened and polling was completed without any major incident. According to the Presiding Officer, the crowd assembling outside was, however, aggressive and even had the intention to commit bodily injury to the party members. Their grievance, as the Presiding Officer could collect, was that the 4th Polling Officer Gosta Behari Dutta was directing the voters in such a manner as to influence their votes. The first question is whether this document is admissible in evidence and the second question is whether this document is any evidence of any corrupt practice as stated hereinbefore. With regard to the question of admissibility we find the Judge making the same mistake as before. The reports of the Presiding Officers were filed but none of them was at all proved by any witness. We find from order No. 72, dated the 24th June 1963, that the two reports of the Presiding Officers were marked as exhibits on the petitioner's side as admitted by the petitioner subject to objection by the respondent and documents filed by the respondent were also marked as exhibits after objection. These documents were marked exhibits after evidence was closed on 21st June 1963 and 24th June was fixed as a date for argument. When the Judge considered the document, Ex. 8A, the Judge observed that this document was marked for the petitioner on his own admission, but it was not admitted by Pal. The Presiding Officer, who purported to have written his report, was not examined as a witness. The Judge having considered that, found that the contents of the report was not admissible in evidence against Pal, but the Judge did not give the petitioner an opportunity to call the Presiding Officer and to have the documents proved. He found the same in his judgment and no opportunity was given to the petitioner to prove the same. The Judge was wrong here again. If it was his intention not to admit the document, he should have given the petitioner an opportunity to prove it because the petitioner could have called the Presiding Officer and have it proved by him. But this opportunity was not given. Neither was this document struck out nor arguments were disallowed on this document but the Judge arrived at his finding with regard to this document. The same thing happened here as well. We asked Mr. Bose on that point very definitely as to whether he wants to press his objection on that point and if he wants to press his objection on that point, we must give the petitioner an opportunity to prove the document properly. But having considered the matter carefully, Mr. Bose was not inclined to object to the reception of the document in evidence. Therefore, we shall proceed to consider the document and Mr. Bose has proceeded to argue the matter on merits. From the document, Ex. 8A, it is clear that there was some trouble and even some acts of violence by the crowd. But it was aimed not against the candidate but against the polling officers. Not a single voter has been examined to prove that because of this violence he was prevented from voting. The question is whether such a matter comes within the corrupt practice as under section 123(2), proviso (a) (i). That proviso is as follows:

> "(a) without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of the clause any such person as is referred to therein who—
> (i) threatens any candidate or any elector, or any person in whom a candidate or an elector is interested, with injury of any kind including social ostracism and ex-communication or expulsion from any caste or community;

shall be deemed to interfere with the free exercise of the electoral right of such candidate or elector within the meaning of this clause."

There is absolutely no evidence that any voter was scared away. All that we get is that voting was stopped for sometime. There is no evidence that any particular voter was threatened nor there is any independent evidence to show that any person interested in the election was threatened by the appellant or his agent. But there was a general violence aimed at a particular polling officer and may be against the agent of the candidate Basu; but there is no evidence that Pal or his agents threatened the agents of Basu. The crowd threatened the agents of Basu. This, I am afraid, is not corrupt practice within the meaning of law, if we refer to the Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol. 14, Art. 388, we get as follows:

"It is the undue influence upon individual voters and not general rioting or violence which constitutes the corrupt practice, though the election may also be avoided on the latter ground".

In this case, as I have stated above, there is no evidence to show that any particular voter was prevented from voting. Reference has been made to Election Petitions—O 'malley' Hardcastle—Vol. 1, where Mr. Baron Martin referred to Corrupt Practices Act, 1854, and observed as follows:

"According to the true construction of that section, in my opinion, it means the personal direct intimidation of the voter, and does not at all refer to a general intimidation like that alleged in the fourth averment of the petition."

The fourth averment was violating in the town on the polling day to such an extent that the persons entitled to vote were prevented from voting. This case is at page 245 of the said volume. The same view was taken in another case reported at page 62 of that very volume. Mr. Bose referred to a decision of the Orissa High Court in Vol. 17—Election Law Reports, page 427, between Dharanidhar Mahapatra vs. Pradipta Kishore Das and ors. where the same view, as in the case of Borough of Nottingham's has been followed. The statute also refers to intimidation to an elector and that again must be on evidence. There is no evidence that any voter was actually threatened. The evidence is on the basis of Ext. 8A that there was trouble on the polling booth for sometime and the police restored order thereafter and the record shows that a very large number of people voted. Hence, this objection of Mr. Roy must also be set aside.

The other points, which remain to be considered, are objections of Mr. Bose regarding the right of Mr. Roy to challenge the finding which has been arrived at by the court below against him. The election has been set aside on the question of not filing recriminatory notice as under section 97. On all other points the Election Judge found against the petitioner. Mr. Roy challenges these findings. The question is whether those findings could be challenged without filing any appeal or any cross-objection. The Right to appeal is provided by section 116(A) where it is provided that "an appeal shall lie from every order made by a Tribunal under section 98 or section 99 to the High Court of the State in which the Tribunal is situated." Sub-section (2) is as follows:

"The High Court shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, have the same powers, jurisdiction and authority, and follow the same procedure with respect to an appeal under this chapter as if the appeal were an appeal from an original decree passed by a civil court situated within the local limits of its civil appellate jurisdiction:

Provided that where the High Court consists of more than two Judges every appeal under this chapter shall be heard by a Bench of not less than two Judges."

The result, therefore, is that Or. 41 of the Code of Civil Procedure is attracted because of section 116A(2) and Or. 41, Rule 22(1) states as follows:—

"Any respondent, though he may not have appealed from any part of the decree, may not only support the decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the court below, but take any cross-objection to the decree which he could have taken by way of appeal, provided he has filed such objection in the appellate court within one month from the date of service on him or his pleader of notice of the day fixed for hearing the appeal, or within such further time as the appellate court may see fit to allow."

Hence, Or. 41, Rule 22 provides for two things, namely, (i) that the respondent may support the decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the court below and (ii) may also file a cross-objection. Because of section 116A(2), Or. 41, Rule 22 is attracted. Because Order 41, Rule 22 of the Code is attracted, the respondent Basu in this Court has the right to support the decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the court below. This objection of Mr. Bose is overruled.

The second objection of Mr. Bose on behalf of the returned candidate is that security in terms of an appeal was not filed. There is no provision for filing security with regard to a cross-objection either in Act or under the rules and if that is the only ground, Mr. Roy on behalf of the respondent has expressed his willingness to deposit the money as soon as we shall direct him to deposit the security provided it was necessary. As there is no provision regarding furnishing security in respect of the cross-objection, we do not make any direction on that matter. Mr. Bose has referred to the judgment of Hidyatullah, C.J. of the Madhya Pradesh High Court on that point. Mr. Bose referred in this connection to the same judgment of the Madhya Pradesh High Court in 15 E.L.R. 219 where it has been held that, since the making of security for purposes of costs is a condition for an appeal, it must be taken to be a condition for the cross-objection also, and their Lordships further observed that when a new party is joined, it is more desirable that costs should be deposited. So far as the present case is concerned, the petitioner before the trial court has filed the cross-objection. He has deposited the sum there. Finally, he was willing to deposit the sum if we were inclined to hold that deposit of such sum was necessary. In the aforesaid case as well, the time for acceptance of security was extended under the provisions of Or. 41, Rule 22. It may be desirable that security should again be furnished, but unless there is specific provision for that, we cannot say that the furnishing of security is a condition for a cross-objection as well. If the legislature has not paid it, we cannot compel the parties to do things which the legislature thought that they were not required to do. I do agree that it may be very desirable to provide for the same, but unless the statute concerned is amended to remove the difficulty, we cannot hold that the cross-objection should be defeated for not furnishing the security.

Art. 119A provides for security for costs of appeal. It says as follows:

> "Every person who prefers an appeal under Chapter IVA shall enclose with the memorandum of appeal a Government Treasury receipt showing that a deposit of five hundred rupees has been made by him either in a Government Treasury or in the Reserve Bank of India in favour of the Election Commission as security for the costs of the appeal."

There is no corresponding provision for the cross-objection and it is not within our power to add the word "cross-objection" after the word "appeal" and before the words "a Government Treasury". I must, therefore, hold that furnishing of security is not a condition precedent to the filing of a cross-objection. It is not a condition under the rules regarding an appeal under Chapter IV. I, therefore, overrule the objection of Mr. Bose that Rs. 500 as security for costs should have been deposited. In any case, the respondent cross-objector as petitioner has already deposited the sum of Rs. 500 while filing the petition before the Election Judge.

The result, therefore, is that on the finding arrived at by the Election Judge, which have not been challenged before us, stands, out of the total valid votes the appellant Pal got a total of 28,875 votes and the respondent Basu got a total of 28,857 votes. The result is that the election should not be set aside as the appellant Pal secured the majority of all valid votes. I may note here that the trial court found, following 15 Election Law Reports, page 219, that while considering the question whether the petitioner is to be declared elected or not, all valid votes have to be taken into account. But while considering whether the election should be set aside or not, all valid votes would not be considered as the respondent Pal did not file a recriminatory notice. This view again is inconsistent with the provisions of sections 100(1) and 101. The condition laid down in section 101 does not come into operation unless the condition referred to in section 100 is complied with or, in other orders, unless the election becomes void, the question of claiming that the petitioner should have been declared elected does not arise. But the Court below held that while scrutinising votes as under section 100 (1) (d) (iii) all lawful votes should not be taken into account but only some of them unless a notice for recrimination is filed. But while considering section 101, all lawful votes will have to be taken into consideration. This, in our opinion, is not the intention of the legislature. Section 101 is dependent on section 100(1) and there is nothing in the language either of section 100(1) or of section 101 that in scrutinising votes for purposes of section 100(1) something is to be done and something else is to be done in scrutinising the votes for purposes of section 101. Section 100(d)(iii) directs a scrutiny of "any vote" which has been improperly received or improperly refused or improperly rejected or any vote which is void has been accepted. It makes no distinction as regards votes in favour of the petitioner or in favour of the returned candidate or in favour of any other person. The word "any" is not qualified by saying "any vote on behalf of the petitioner" or "any vote on behalf of the person who has given a notice for recrimination". If we understand section 100 in that way, we have to qualify "any vote" by adding "any vote in favour of the petitioner or the returned candidate who has given a notice of recrimination"; in that case the result would be if there is a third party who is neither the petitioner nor the returned candidate, votes in his favour, would not be taken into consideration in declaring as to whether the election is void. It may be that on scrutiny it would be found that neither the returned candidate nor the petitioner has got the highest votes, but a third candidate, who has neither filed an objection nor a petition for recrimination, got the highest votes, even then the returned candidate would still remain returned, because by the said interpretation his (the third candidate's) votes will not be taken into account. It is needless to consider the matter further, as we have considered it in details while considering the interpretation of section 97. But the trial court found for purposes of section 101 that all lawful votes have to be taken into account. I agree with him, though I do not agree with him that all lawful votes are not be taken into consideration while considering section 100(1)(d)(iii).

The result, therefore, is that we must accept the findings of the trial court that the petitioner Basu got 28,857 votes and the appellant Pal, who was respondent before the Election Judge, got 28,875 votes. The result, therefore, is that there was absolutely no reason for setting aside the election and we must set side the order of the Election Judge and allow the appeal and dismiss the petition and dismiss the cross-objection.

None of the parties challenged before this Court the finding of fact arrived at on various points by the courts below. The questions that were urged were all questions of law. The reason why the Election Judge found against the returned candidate in his interpretation of section 97 which is supported by a judgment of the Madhya Pradesh High Court reported in 15 Election Law Reports, page 219. The law on this point cannot be said to be very much settled, particularly in view of the fact that the Madhya Pradesh High Court took one view of the matter and the Allahabad High Court took a contrary view with regard to section 97(1). The view of the Allahabad High Court with which we have agreed in substance is reported in 22 Election Reports, 47, between Lakshmi Shankar vs. Kunwar. There is no decision of our High Court on this point. Therefore, I cannot blame either of the parties and cannot award costs against either of the parties.

The result, therefore, is that each party will bear his costs both in this Court as well before the Election Judge. The order for costs of the Election Judge is also set aside.

Let the substance of the decision be communicated to the Election Commission and to the Speaker of the State Legislature and an authenticated copy of the decision be sent to the Election Commission in terms of section 116, Rule 6.

The appeal is accordingly allowed and the cross-objection dismissed without any order as to costs.

A. C. SEN, J:

A. C. SEN, J:

The present appeal arises out of an election petition filed under section 80 and 81 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951. The said petition was filed by Ajit, the respondent No. 1, against the appellant, Pravakar and the respondents Nos. 2 and 3. The respondent No. 2 was the third candidate for election who withdrew his candidature by a notice in writing to the Returning Officer. The respondent No. 3 is the Returning Officer. The petition was allowed in part. Election of Pravakar was declared to be void. Hence Pravakar has preferred the present appeal. Ajit's prayer to be declared elected however was rejected. Hence Ajit has preferred a cross-objection. The appeal and the cross-objection have been heard together and my judgment relates to both.

Ajit and Pravakar were candidates of the Communist and Congress Party respectively for election to the West Bengal Legislative Assembly from the Singur Assembly Constituency at the General Election held in February 1962. The polling took place on 21st February, 1962. As a result of the counting of the ballots including postal ballots, Ajit, the Communist candidate, was found to have secured 28,822 votes and Pravakar, the Congress candidate, was found to have secured 28,853 votes. Accordingly, Returning Officer, respondent No. 3, declared Pravakar as duly elected on 26th February, 1962.

Ajit filed his election petition on 25th May, 1962 praying (i) for the appointment of the Election Tribunal (ii) for a declaration that the election of the returned candidate was void, (iii) for a declaration that the election of the returned candidate was void and that the petitioner had been duly elected, and (iv) for order or further orders as to the Tribunal might seem fit and proper.

According to Ajit, the election of Pravakar is void and invalid on the ground that serious corrupt practices were committed by Pravakar by seeking vote for himself on the basis of his caste and/or community. It is not disputed that Pravakar is a Mahisya and Ajit is a Kayastha, and that a large number, several thousands, of electors are Mahisyas by caste. Ajit alleges that Pravakar himself made fervent appeal for votes on the ground of his caste and asked the voters to refrain from voting for Ajit as he is a Kayastha. Ajit's further case is that in a public meeting held on the 26th January, 1962, at about 4 p.m. at the Borai South School compound situated in an area where the Mahisyas predominate Pravakar, as one of the speakers, urged the Mahisyas to vote for him as he was a Mahisya. A similar appeal according to Ajit, was made by Pravakar in another meeting held on 29th January 1962 in a village predominantly inhabited by Mahisyas.

In paragraph 10 of the petition it is stated that in a public meeting held under the auspices of the Hooghly District Congress Committee at Singur Bazar held on the 16th February 1962 at about 7 a.m. Pravakar urged the voters not to vote for Ajit as he was an enemy of religion. The audience were told, "Ajib Babu is a Communist and is determined to destroy all religion. To vote for Ajit Babu is to go against God and religion." It is further stated in the said paragraph that in support of his appeal Ajit quoted copiously from a pamphlet published by Shri Benoy Roy of the Publicity Committee of West Bengal State Congress Committee, and that the said pamphlet, being annexure C to the petition, was widely distributed in that meeting and throughout the constituency on various dates by Pravakar and his workers and agents. This pamphlet in the opinion of Ajit, contained a clear appeal to vote and refrain from voting on the ground of religion.

Ajit's further case is that Pravakar resorted to corrupt practice by means of posters, pamphlets and leaflets; and exercised undue influence on and interfered with the free exercise of electoral right of the voters by calling upon them to oust the communist party from the political field with the help of the ballot box and by invoking divine displeasure on communism and the Communists.

Ajit challenges the election of Pravakar also on the ground that the results of the election were materially affected by serious illegalities and or irregularities in the matter of ordering the counting of votes. His grievance is that neither he nor his polling agent was allowed to be present at the time of actual counting in violation of section 64 of the Representation of the People Act, and that during the progress of the counting at the counting tables his counting agents were not always allowed to check up the first number and the last number of the ballot papers issued at a particular booth. Many ballot papers, according to Ajit, should have been rejected and he asserts that there being no counting according to law the result of the election was materially affected.

In paragraph 17 of the petition have been mentioned the names of seven voters, who, it is stated, were dead. In paragraph 18 have been given several instances of non-compliance with the provisions of the Constitution and/or the Representation of the People Act, 1951, and Rules framed thereunder. In Khosalpur Polling booth, it is alleged, Provakar and his workers and supporters started a row at about 2-30 p.m. and threatened the intending voters with physical violence with the result that polling remained suspended from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. and many voters left out of fear without voting. A similar incident it is stated, took place in Ganderpukur polling booth. Pravakar and his agents and supporters destroyed the camp of Ajit and threatened the intending voters that their life would be in jeopardy if they stayed on to cast their votes with the result that polling remained suspended for some time and many voters went away. It is also pointed out as an illustration of the infringement of the law that many electors were recorded as voters in more than one constituency and that they actually exercised their franchise in more than one booth. The supporters of Pravakar, it is alleged, took out a procession with a motor vehicle bedecked with National flags within 100 yards of the polling booth. Numbers of several ballot papers alleged to have been improperly rejected or accepted have been given in support of the allegation that the Act and the Rules have been violated.

In paragraph 19 of the petition Ajit has given reasons why the acceptance of 83 postal ballot papers in favour of Pravakar and the rejection of 22 ballot papers in favour of Ajit were illegal and improper.

Ajit concludes that the results of the election so far as Pravakar is concerned was materially affected by the reception of void votes, by the improper and illegal acceptance of invalid votes, by the improper and illegal rejection of valid votes and by the contravention of the provisions of the Act and the Rules. He asserts that a recounting of the ballot papers will show that Ajit received a majority of the valid votes and that Pravakar was illegally and improperly declared elected.

As already pointed out Ajit not only asked for a declaration that the election of Pravakar was void, but also for a declaration that he was duly elected.

Pravakar in his written statement has denied the allegations contained in the election petition. He has denied the charges of corrupt practices made against him. He admits that he addressed a Congress election meeting held on 26th January 1962 at 4 p.m. in the compound of the Borai South School, but he denies that he solicited votes on the ground that he is a Mahisya. He further asserts that though he addressed another meeting on 26th January 1962 he did not ask the audience to vote for him because of his caste. As to the meeting at Singur Bazar held on 16th February 1962 he denies to have read out from or distributed any pamphlet at the said meeting as suggested in the election petition. He is positive in his assertion that there was no illegalities and or irregularities in the matter of and during the counting of votes as alleged by Ajit. In the matter of counting and scrutiny of ballot paper, says Pravakar, all that was done was fair and aboveboard, and there was no violation of section 64 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951. He has denied the allegations of Ajit (1) that many ballot papers liable to be rejected were not rejected, (2) that there was no counting according to law with opportunity to Ajit and his counting agents to be present at the time of the counting and (3) that the counting of votes was done in such a way that the result of the election was materially affected. His case is that counting was made in strict compliance with the Act and the Rules thereunder. He has stoutly denied that many voters were prevented from voting by reason of the disturbance caused by him and his followers in the polling booths at Khosalpur and Ganderpukur. The allegations as to double voting and the taking out of a procession within 100 yards of the polling booth at Chhutipur have also been denied by Pravakar. As to the postal ballot papers he asserts that 83 ballot papers were accepted and 22 rejected in accordance with law. According to him, there was no improper acceptance or rejection of ballot papers. He asserts that his election is legal and valid and that the result of the election was not affected by illegality or irregularity as suggested by Ajit or in any other way.

As many as 16 issues were framed: they are briefly indicated below:

1. Whether the application is vague.
2. Whether there was appeal to caste, community or religion in the election meetings, if so, whether the election has been affected thereby.
3. Whether election was affected for appeal to voter's religion.
4. Was there undue influence or coercion? Is the charge vague?
5. Whether the election has been affected due to coercion and highhandness of Pravakar and his supporters at Khosalpur and Ganderpukur.
6. Was polling suspended at Khosalpur and Ganderpukur? If so, has it materially affected the results of polling?
7. Whether election has been affected by the acceptance of votes of dead persons.
8. Whether voters enlisted in different polling booths of the same constituency were allowed to vote twice.
9. Whether any procession was taken within 100 yards of the booth at Chhutipur.
10. Whether there has been any improper counting of votes.
11. .....
12. .....
13. Whether any votes were improperly rejected or accepted; if so; what is the number of valid votes polled by Ajit.
14. Whether the procedure relating to postal votes were properly followed. Whether any postal ballot was improperly accepted or rejected.
15. Whether the result of the election was materially affected because of irregularities.
16. To what relief Ajit is entitled.

On the 4th July 1963 Pravakar filed a petition praying that the votes of Ajit improperly accepted be rejected and that the votes of Pravakar improperly rejected be accepted. Pravakar stated in the said petition that it was open to him to make such prayer as Ajit had not only challenged Pravakar's election but had also asked for a declaration that he Ajit, had been duly elected. He supplied two lists, one, a list of votes which, according to him, were improperly accepted on behalf of Ajit, another, a list of votes cast in his favour which, according to him, were improperly rejected.

As many as 22 witnesses on behalf of Ajit and 30 witnesses on behalf of Pravakar were examined.

The learned Member of the Tribunal, on an elaborate examination of the oral evidence on record came to the following conclusion on issue Nos. 2 and 3: "Considering all the evidence, I must hold that the petitioner has failed to establish the charge of corrupt practices alleged by him and the issues must be answered in the negative."

Issues Nos. 4, 5 and 6 too were found in favour of Pravakar. The learned Member held that Ajit had failed to prove intimidation or undue influence. There were no doubt disturbances at Khosalpur and Ganderpukur resulting in the suspension of voting for some time, but, in the opinion of the learned Member, the result of the election was not materially affected.

Issue No. 7 as to whether any vote was recorded in the name of a dead person has been answered in the negative.

As to issue No. 8 the finding of the Tribunal is that two voters, Sudhansu and Sitangshu, cast vote twice; accordingly these four votes have been held to be void. The learned Member says that these four votes were cast in favour of Ajit, but in fact they were cast in favour of Pravakar and that is admitted by both sides. This will also be clear from the learned Member's finding on issue No. 13.

Issue No. 9 as to whether a procession was taken out by Pravakar and his followers within 100 yds. of the polling booth has been answered in the negative.

In deciding the issue No. 10 as to irregularities in the matter of the counting of votes the learned Member of the Tribunal considered the written statement as well as the deposition of the Returning Officer, respondent No. 3 in the present appeal, the depositions of the several witnesses examined by Ajit and Pravakar and also examined the ballot papers. His conclusion on these three issues is as follows: "On an examination of the ballot papers it was found that two ballot papers of Memari Constituency were counted for the petitioner as valid. These should have been rejected as spurious..... It was also found that two ballot papers in favour of respondent No. 1 (Pravakar) were counted for the petitioner. Furthermore it was found that 57 ballot papers in favour of the petitioner and 44 ballot papers in favour of the respondent No. 1 were improperly rejected and 22 ballot papers in favour of the petitioner and 20 ballot papers in favour of the respondent No. 1 were improperly accepted.... I am, therefore, inclined to believe that although the rules regarding counting of votes were generally followed the scrutiny was imperfect. .... There may be some truth in the allegation of the petitioner that his counting agents did not get full opportunity to inspect the ballot papers which were rejected. In some of the rejected ballot papers there appear mark of the stamps, although faint, to indicate for whom the vote was cast. There was a recounting of votes at the instance of the petitioner, but at that time also barring a few corrections, no proper scrutiny was made. It must be held, therefore, that some of the provisions of rule 54 were not properly complied with....."

In deciding issue No. 13 as to whether votes were improperly rejected or accepted the learned Member examined all the ballot papers in the presence of the lawyers of both the contesting parties. His finding is that 57 votes cast for Ajit were improperly rejected, 20 votes cast for Pravakar were improperly accepted, 44 votes cast for Pravakar were improperly rejected and 22 votes cast for Ajit were improperly accepted. But the result of the examination, according to him, is as follows: "From a result of my examination above, it will thus appear that the petitioner (Ajit) received (28,822+57) 28,879 votes and respondent No. 1 (Pravakar) received (28,853−20) 28,833 votes. I have also found four of his votes void. So, his total vote would be 28,829." No doubt four votes cast in favour of Pravakar are void on the ground of double voting. But the learned Member in calculating the total votes secured by Pravakar, the successful candidate, has not taken into consideration the 44 votes cast for Pravakar that, according to the learned Member himself, were improperly rejected. Having found that Pravakar obtained only 28,829 votes as against 28,879 votes obtained by Ajit the learned Member has declared the election of Pravakar as void. It has been argued before us on behalf of Pravakar, the appellant, that the finding of the learned Member that Pravakar all told obtained only 28,829 votes is wholly unwarranted and erroneous on the face of it. The argument, on the other hand, in support of the cross-objection is that the learned Member having found that Ajit in fact obtained 28,879 votes should have declared Ajit duly elected. I shall presently discuss the validity of these rival arguments after noting the finding of the learned Member on the rest of the issues.

Issue No. 14 relates to the postal ballots. That issue too has been found in favour of Pravakar. Out of 105 postal ballots, 22 were rejected and the remaining 83 were declared to be valid votes in favour of Pravakar by the Returning Officer. The learned Member has upheld the action of the Returning Officer. He has pointed out that though rule 62(6) has not been strictly complied with the procedure for receiving postal ballot has been substantially complied with and that no postal ballot was improperly accepted or rejected. On the other hand he thinks that two postal ballots in favour of Pravakar were improperly rejected.

In deciding issue No. 15, that is to say, in deciding whether the result of the election has been materially affected because of irregularties the learned Member came to the following conclusion: "It will thus appear that the petitioner has secured 28,879 votes as against 28,833 votes of respondent No. 1 (Pravakar). It must be held, therefore, that the result of the election has been materially affected because of the irregularities in the matter of counting and for this, the election of respondent No. 1 is liable to be set aside." The learned Member has taken the view that Pravakar, as he did not file any recrimination petition under section 97 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, was not entitled to show that some of his votes were improperly rejected and some of the votes of the petitioner were improperly accepted.

But in deciding issue No. 16 that is to say, whethe Ajit is entitled to be declared duly elected the learned Member thinks that the votes improperly accepted or rejected either in the case of Pravakar or in the case of Ajit are to be taken into consideration. It must be held, he says, that Ajit did not get majority of the valid votes and he cannot, therefore, be declared elected.

Naturally both the candidates are dissatisfied with the decision of the Tribunal. I would like first of all to take up the appeal preferred by the returned candidate Pravakar. Thereafter I propose to deal with the cross-objection filed by the defeated candidate, Ajit.

It is contended on behalf of the appellant, Pravakar, that even without filing any recrimination petition under section 97 of the Act of 1951 he is entitled to show, by way of defence to the election petition, that some of his votes were improperly rejected, and some of the votes of Ajit were improperly accepted. In the written statement originally filed by Pravakar there was no allegation that some of the votes cast in his favour were improperly rejected or that some of the votes cast in favour of Ajit were improperly accepted. Consequently no such issue was framed by the Tribunal. The issues were framed by the Tribunal on 24th June 1962. It is on 4th July 1963 that Pravakar raised this question by filing an additional written statement, as stated above.

It may be pointed out that the question of improper rejection or acceptance of ballot papers was raised by Ajit himself in his election petition long before the filing of the additional written statement by Pravakar. Paragraph 18(V) of the election petition runs thus: "During counting a large number of ballot papers where votes were cast in favour of the petition were illegally and improperly rejected while ballot papers with similar condition and mark casting votes in favour of respondent No. 1 were illegally and improperly accepted." In paragraph 20 of the election petition it is stated that the result of the election so far as the respondent No. 1 is concerned was materially affected on the ground of reception of void votes, improper and illegal acceptance of invalid votes, improper and illegal rejection of valid votes and contravention of the provisions of the Act and the Rules. There is a request in paragraph 21 for counting the ballot papers including the postal ballot papers because the result of the examination, according to the petitioner, would show that the election of Pravakar was void.

Pravakar denied in paragraph 26 of his written statement that any ballot papers were either improperly rejected or accepted, and in paragraph 32 of his written statement he asserted that the result of the election was not materially affected by improper reception or rejection of ballots.

On these pleadings the following issue, being issue No. 13, was framed: "Whether any votes were improperly rejected or accepted? If so, what is the number of valid voates polled by the petitioner?"

It is therefore clear that Ajit called in question the election of Pravakar, amongst other, on the ground stated in section 100(1)(d)(iii) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951. Section 100(1)(d)(iii) provides as follows:

> "Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2) if the Tribunal is of opinion that the result of the election, in so far as it concerns a returned candidate has been materially affected by the improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote or the reception of any vote which is void, the tribunal shall declare the election of the returned candidate to be void."

In paragraph 20 of his petition Ajit has quoted almost verbatim the language of section 100(1)(d)(iii).

Now, if by an election petition the Tribunal is asked to declare the election of a returned candidate void under section 100(1)(d)(iii), the Tribunal must form an opinion as to whether the result of the election has been materially affected by the improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote or the reception of any vote which is vote. Sub-clause (iii) speaks of any vote, not necessarily the votes cast for the returned candidate. If that be so it is the duty of the Tribunal, in order to ascertain whether the result of the election has been materially effected, to see whether any vote either in favour of the returned candidate or in favour of any other candidate has been improperly rejected or accepted. Of course, the petitioner must make out a prima facie case that certain votes have been improperly rejected or accepted. The petitioner naturally will say that some of his votes have been improperly rejected and that some of the votes of the respondent have been improperly accepted where, as in the present case, the petitioner not only seeks avoidance of the election of the successful candidate but also asks that he should be declared elected. Even in a case like this there is nothing in section 100 which enjoins upon the Tribunal to take note of only such votes of the petitioner as were improperly rejected and such votes of the returned candidates as were improperly accepted even though on an examination of the ballots it is found that certain votes of the petitioner were improperly accepted and certain votes of the returned candidates were improperly rejected.

If the petitioner fails to make out a prima facie case that any vote has been improperly rejected or accepted the Tribunal may not exercise its discretion under rule 93, that is to say, may not pass any order for scrutiny and recount. In that case the election of a returned candidate cannot be declared void under section 100(1)(d)(iii). In the instant case Ajit's prayer for scrutiny and recount has been granted and the ballots were in fact examined to ascertain the number of votes improperly rejected or accepted in respect of both the candidates. The learned Member of the Tribunal has found as a fact that Ajit did not receive a majority of votes, and it is for this reason that Ajit's second prayer to be declared duly elected was rejected. The first prayer of Ajit asking for avoidance of Pravakar's election was however allowed on the ground that the result of the election had been materially affected by the improper rejection or acceptance of votes. In arriving at this conclusion for avoiding Pravakar's election the learned Member took into consideration only the votes of Ajit improperly rejected and the votes of Pravakar improperly accepted. As already indicated, according to the finding of the Tribunal, 57 votes of Ajit were improperly rejected, and 20 votes of Pravakar were improperly received and four votes of Pravakar were void. The learned Member thinks that in order to ascertain whether the result of the election has been materially affected or not, 57 votes are to be added to 28,822 votes, which, according to the Returning Officer, were obtained by Ajit; and 24 votes are to be deducted from 28,853 votes, which, according to the Returning Officer, were obtained by Pravakar. By this method Ajit's total votes amount to 28,879 and Pravakar's total votes amount to 28,829. If this is the correct method for ascertain whether the result of the election has been materially affected, then, it must be said, the learned Member was justified in avoiding the election of Pravakar.

But, is there anything in section 100(1)(d)(iii) which justified this artificial method of computation? The learned Member has left out of account 22 votes of Ajit improperly accepted and 46 votes of Pravakar improperly rejected. If these two figures are taken into account, the total number of valid votes secured by Ajit comes to (28,879−22) that is, 28,857 and the total number of valid votes secured by Pravakar comes to (28,853−24+46) that is 28,875. Therefore, it cannot be said that the result of the election was materially affected by improper acceptance or rejection of votes or by reception of void votes, unless the Tribunal is precluded from taking note of the votes of Ajit improperly received or the votes of Pravakar improperly rejected. There is nothing in section 100(1)(d)(iii) that precludes the Tribunal from doing so.

But the learned Member has left out of account the 22 votes improperly received in favour of Ajit and the 46 votes improperly rejected to the prejudice of Pravakar, because he thinks that section 100 is controlled by section 97.

Section 97 in so far as it is material for our purpose is set out below:

> "Section 97. (1) When in an election petition a declaration that any candidate other than the returned candidate has been duly elected is claimed, the returned candidate..... may give evidence to prove that the election of such candidate would have been void if he had been the returned candidate and a petition had been presented calling in question his election:
> Provided that the returned candidate.....shall not be entitled to give such evidence unless he has, within fourteen days from the date of commencement of the trial, given notice to the Tribunal of his intention to do so and has also given the security and the further security referred to in sections 117 and 118, respectively."

In the instant case no notice by way of recrimination was filed within the period mentioned in the proviso. Pravakar undoubtedly is not entitled to give evidence to prove that the election of Ajit would have been void if Ajit had been the returned candidate and a petition had been presented calling in question Ajit's election. But, does it necessarily follow that the Tribunal in order to form the opinion as to whether the result of the election, in so far as it concerns Pravakar, has been materially affected by the improper reception, refusal or rejection of any vote or the reception of any vote which is void, is not to give full effect to the result of its scrutiny and recount of the ballot papers simply because no notice by way of recrimination has been given by Pravakar? The answer cannot but be in the negative. At least there is nothing in section 100 that compels the Tribunal to do so.

The learned Member of the Tribunal thinks, and it is also contended on behalf of Ajit, that inasmuch as the proviso to section 97 disentitles Pravakar from giving evidence that the election of Ajit would have been void if he had been returned, and inasmuch as improper reception or rejection of votes is one of the grounds for avoiding election, therefore, the Tribunal even for the sake of ascertaining how far the result of the election has been affected by improper reception or rejection of votes, cannot take note of the 22 votes improperly received in favour of Ajit and of the 46 votes improperly rejected to the prejudice of Pravakar: "In my opinion" says the learned Member, "in the absence of any recriminatory petition or any plea in the written statement, respondent No. 1 (Pravakar) is not entitled to show that some of his own votes were improperly rejected."

It may be pointed out that Pravakar by a petition filed on 4th July 1963 more than one year after the filing of the election petition raised this plea, viz., that some of Ajit's votes were improperly received and some of his own votes were improperly rejected. The learned Advocate for Pravakar began his argument on 24th June 1963 and the said petition was filed while the argument was in progress. On the said petition the learned Member that very day passed the following order: "This is a matter for argument." In the written statement filed on 19th June 1962 there was no such plea. Paragraph 2 of the said petition filed on 4th July 1963 gives the reason why Pravakar thought that he was entitled to take this plea. Paragraph 2 runs thus:

> "That in order to succeed in the second prayer the petitioner has to prove that he acquired a majority of valid votes and that in that event it is open to the respondent No. 1 to take up the plea, which the respondent No. 1 hereby does, that some of the respondent No. 1's votes were improperly rejected and some of the votes of the petitioner were improperly accepted."

The learned Member too has taken the view that before declaring Ajit duly elected the Tribunal must see how many votes of Pravakar were improperly rejected and how many votes of Ajit were improperly accepted.

Now the question is whether this is to be done also for the purpose of ascertaining how far the result of the election has been materially affected by improper reception or rejection of votes.

It may be noted that it is Ajit who filed a petition on 10th May 1963 praying for permission to inspect the ballot papers after breaking the sealed cover, and Pravakar put in an application next day raising objection against Ajit's application for inspection of the ballot papers. On 25th May 1963 the learned Member permitted the lawyers for Ajit and Pravakar and the Returning Officer to inspect the ballot papers in his presence. The inspection continued till 30th May 1963.

The inspection of the ballot papers was in substance inspection by the Tribunal with the assistance of the lawyers of the parties, and it is as a result of this inspection that the Tribunal found that 57 votes of Ajit were improperly rejected and 22 of his votes were improperly received; and that 46 votes of Pravakar were improperly rejected and 24 of his votes were improperly received. It was not necessary to lead any evidence either by Ajit or by Pravakar to enable the Tribunal to come to this finding.

The following passage is to be found in Halsbury's Laws of England, Third Edition, Volume 14 at page 308:

> "It would appear that an order may be made for the inspection of tendered ballot papers since there is an inherent jurisdiction in the Court to order inspection of ballot papers except where it is otherwise provided by statute."

In my opinion in India too the Tribunal has an inherent jurisdiction to order inspection of ballot papers except where it is otherwise provided by statute. This inherent jurisdiction has not been curtailed either by the Representation of the People Act, 1951, or by any other statute. The inherent power of the Tribunal to order inspection may also be inferred from section 90 of the Act, which provides that subject to the provisions of this Act and of any rules made thereunder, every election petition shall be tried by the Tribunal, as nearly as may be, in accordance with the procedure applicable under the Code of Civil Procedure to the trial of suits. Like a Civil Court, the Tribunal too, in my opinion, can exercise inherent powers for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of its process.

If the Tribunal orders inspection of ballot papers, it is bound to reject a ballot paper tainted with any of the defects mentioned in clauses (a) to (h) of sub-rule (2) of rule 56 of the Conduct of Election Rules, 1961, if not already rejected by the Returning Officer. Similarly the Tribunal is bound to receive as one valid vote any ballot paper improperly rejected by the Returning Officer. For such rejection or reception it is not necessary for any party to the election petition to give any evidence. Therefore the provision to section 97 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, can have no application where the petitioner claiming a declaration that he himself or any other candidate has been duly elected calls in question the election of the returned candidate solely on the ground that the result of the election of the returned candidate has been materially affected by the improper reception or rejection of ballot papers, because in such a case there is no necessity for giving any evidence by either party that the result of the election has been materially affected by improper reception or rejection of any vote. The Tribunal itself shall ascertain the position suo motu on an inspection of the ballot papers. In Lakshmi Shankar Yadav v. Kunwar Sripal Singh, 15 E.L.R. 97 their Lordships of the Allahabad High Court observed as follows:

> "A plea by the elected candidate that some of his votes were wrongly rejected or some of the other candidates wrongly accepted is a plea which, we think, falls outside the ambit of sub-section (1) of section 97 of the Act."

I respectfully agree with this view.

Therefore I cannot agree with the views expressed by their Lordships of the Madhya Pradesh High Court in Inayatullah v. Dewan Chand A.I.R. 1959 M.P. 58 that where a petitioner claims that he should be declared elected instead of the returned candidate the Tribunal is to ignore, in the absence of a notice by way of recrimination the votes improperly received on behalf of the petitioner for the purpose of avoiding the election of the returned candidate. The Tribunal in the instant case has relied upon the ruling in Inayatulla's case in declaring the election of Pravakar void.

In Inayatulla's case the petitioner, Mahajan, received 115 and the returned candidate, Inayatulla received 107 votes recorded in ballot papers without the distinguishing marks. Their Lordships of the M. P. High Court rejected the 107 votes given to Inayatullah and deducted them from the total arrived at by the Returning Officer; but the 115 votes suffering from the same defect cast in favour of Mahajan were not so deducted from Mahajan's total recorded by the Returning Officer. By this process their Lordships came to the conclusion that the result of the election was materially affected, because the difference between the two candidates, according to the Returning Officer, was only 80.

Their Lordships adopted this course, because in their opinion, Inayatulla, who did not file a recrimination, could not ask that the unmarked ballot papers of Mahajan should be cancelled. "If Inayatulla desired", observed their Lordships, "that.....votes of Mahajan suffering from a like defect should be eliminated he had, in our opinion, to comply with the provisions of s. 97 and file a recrimination bringing in the question whether the votes cast in favour of Mahajan should also be excluded in the light of the defect discovered. Unless he did so, the proviso to s. 97 would apply and he would be estopped from giving evidence in the case.

.....In our opinion, the provisions of s. 97 being of a special character will cut down the general provisions of s. 100(1)(d) and to that extent the special law will prevail. In view of the fact that Mahajan had claimed to be the returned candidate instead of Inayatulla. Inayatulla had to take recourse to the law of recrimination to bring into question the votes polled by Mahajan. If he did not do so, and if he only defended his own votes, he could not asked that the votes of Mahajan to be looked into, and, in our opinion, the Tribunal ought not to have looked into that evidence."

Their Lordships think that as there was no recrimination by Inayatulla, "the Tribunal ought not to have looked into that evidence". By the expression 'that evidence' their Lordships evidently mean the votes polled by Mahajan. In my opinion there is nothing in the provision to section 97 which precludes the Tribunal from considering the votes of Mahajan, especially when Mahajan asked the Tribunal to exclude the 107 votes of Inayatulla recorded in unmarked ballot papers. Undoubtedly Mahajan asked for a scrutiny and recount and thereupon the Tribunal passed an order for the inspection of the ballot papers. There is nothing in the proviso to section 97 that suggests that scrutiny is to be confined to the ballot papers cast in favour of the returned candidate, if no recrimination is filed by him. Mahajan could not have been declared elected unless the Tribunal was satisfied as a result of the scrutiny that Mahajan in fact obtained a majority of the votes, neither could the Tribunal form the opinion that the result of the election had been materially affected by improper reception or rejection of votes without scrutinising all the votes cast either in favour of Mahajan or in favour of Inayatulla.

Their Lordships think the votes of Mahajan should not have been scrutinised, and this will be evident from the following passage:

> "It will be noticed that the Election Tribunal got the votes of Mahajan scrutinised merely because it was at that moment not quite clear whether s. 97 applied or not. Imagine a position in which the Election Tribunal or this Court has not before it the ballot papers of Mahajan and the question arose on the statement of Mahajan that he should be declared the returned candidate in preference to Inayatulla by excluding these 107 votes cast in favour of Inayatulla. In answer to this, Inayatulla, if he wanted that such a declaration would not be given, would have been required to file a recrimination under s. 97 and unless he did so, he could not lead evidence in support of his contention."

In my opinion, Inayatulla certainly could have asked the Tribunal by way of defence that his election should not be set aside without first ascertaining that the result of the election was materially affected by the reception of these 107 votes; and the onus of proving that the result had been materially affected undoubtedly lay upon Mahajan. It is for the purpose of discharging this onus that Mahajan asked the Tribunal to scrutinise the ballot papers, and Mahajan could not have discharged the onus by asking the Tribunal to scrutinise only the ballot papers of Inayatulla. In my opinion, it was the duty of the Tribunal to scrutinise the ballot papers of Mahajan also, no matter whether there was or was not any recrimination by Inayatulla. Therefore it cannot be said that the Tribunal ought not to have scrutinised the ballot papers of Mahajan. On the other hand, in my opinion, the Tribnual made a mistake by not giving full effect to the result of scrutiny. Moreover, there was no question of leading any evidence by Inayatulla, because the ballot papers were materials on record and Inayatulla could have defended his position by reference to the materials on record without himself leading any evidence.

The hypothetical case suggested by their Lordships could not have prevented the Tribunal from scrutinising the ballot papers of Mahajan as well. "Imagine a position", observed their Lordships, "in which the Election Tribunal or this Court has not before it the ballot papers of Mahajan and the question arose on the statement of Mahajan that he should be declared the returned candidate in preference to Inayatulla by excluding these 107 votes cast in favour of Inayatulla." Even in such a case it would have been the duty of the Tribunal, on the statement of Mahajan himself, to scrutinise his ballot papers to see if some of his votes were liable to be rejected, and no question of leading any evidence by Inayatulla would have arisen.

In the instant case, there is not only the question of excluding 24 votes from the votes of Pravakar but also the question of adding 46 votes. The learned Member thinks that in the absence of recrimination Pravakar is not entitled to show that some of his own votes were improperly rejected. Inayatulla's case does not throw any light on this point, because no such question arose in that case. Proviso to section 97 disentitles the returned candidate from giving evidence that the election of any other candidate if he had been the returned candidate, would have been void, but it does not disentitle him to show that some of his votes were improperly rejected. Therefore in my opinion the Tribunal in the present case was not justified in refusing to add the 46 votes of Pravakar improperly rejected by the Returning Officer. But even if these 46 votes are added after deducting the 24 invalid votes, Pravakar cannot maintain his election unless after adding to the votes of Ajit 57 votes improperly rejected the 22 votes improperly received are deducted. I have already given my reason why these 22 votes improperly received on behalf of Ajit should be deducted from his votes. I, therefore, hold that Ajit has not been able to make out a case that the result of the election was materially affected by improper reception or rejection of any vote. Hence, in my opinion, the Tribunal was not justified in declaring the election of Pravakar void on the ground of improper reception or rejection of votes or the reception of void votes. It may be noted that the Tribunal rejected the other grounds taken by Ajit for avoiding the election of Pravakar.

I now propose to take up the cross-objection filed by Ajit. It is contended on behalf of Ajit that as there was no recrimination by Pravakar, the Tribunal should not have deducted the 22 votes of Aijt found to be invalid in ascertaining under section 101 whether in fact a majority of the valid votes has been received by Ajit. The Tribunal having found, it is argued, for the purpose of section 100(1)(d)(iii) that Aijt has secured 28,879 votes as against 28,833 votes of Pravakar, Ajit should have been declared duly elected under section 101. I have alredy given my reason why the argument on behalf of Ajit cannot be accepted. The Tribunal was perfectly justified in refusing Ajit's prayer to be declared elected as in fact the valid votes of Ajit are less than the valid votes of Pravakar. Clause (a) of section 101 provides as follows: "If any person who has lodged a petition, has, in addition to calling in question the election of the returned candidate, claimed a declaration that he himself or any other candidate has been duly elected and the Tribunal is of opinion that in fact the petitioner or such other candidate received a majority of the valid votes the Tribunal shall after declaring the election of the returned candidate to be void declare the petitioner or such other candidate, as the case may be, to have been duly elected." Only the valid votes are to be considered and that both for the purpose of declaring the election of the returned candidate to be void as well as for the purpose of declaring the petitioner or such other candidate referred to in section 101 as duly elected. The Tribunal is required to form its opinion on the basis of valid votes. This clearly shows that the Tribunal was not justified in counting some of the invalid votes of Ajit for the purpose of declaring the election of Pravakar void under section 100(1)(d)(iii). I may mention here that no attempt was made either on behalf of Ajit or on behalf of Pravakar to show that the finding of the Tribunal—that 46 votes of Pravakar were improperly rejected, 20 votes of Pravakar were improperly received, 4 votes of Pravakar were void, 57 votes of Ajit were improperly rejected and 22 votes of Ajit were improperly received—was not in accordance with law. In other words the validity of the above finding was not challenged. The dispute between the parties is as to the inference to be drawn from this finding.

It was next argued on behalf of Ajit in support of the cross-objection that the election of Pravakar should have been declared void on the ground that corrupt practice had been committed by Pravakar, his election agent and by his supporters. A reference was made to the conduct of Pravakar at Khosalpur booth and reliance was placed on

Ext. 8(a), Report of the Presiding Officer of that station. The material portion of the said Report is as follows:

"I beg to report the following:

(a) Description of poll—Polling started at 7-30 a.m. and closed sharply at 4-30 p.m. Voters waiting at the closing hour were accommodated and they finished casting within 4-45 p.m. Heavy polling. Male and Female voters almost equal.

(b) .....

(c) Law and order—It was seriously disrupted. A section of crowd forcibly entered into the polling booth house in an agitated manner under the leadership of Shri Pravakar Pal, a candidate, as a result of which some of the waiting voters did not cast their votes between 1-10 p.m. to 2-15 p.m. although the polling station was open all through. The sector police, receiving information from me, intervened and polling was thereafter completed without major incident....."

It appears that even between 1-10 p.m. and 2-15 p.m. the polling station was open. Then again, according to this report, the polling was heavy. The result sheet (Ext. D) shows that the percentage of vote at Khosalpur was 90 per cent. At no other station except Ganderpukur was the percentage so high. Not a single witness came forward to say that he could not cast his vote at Khosalpur or that he would have cast his vote in favour of Ajit if not prevented by the alleged disturbance.

It is contended on behalf of Ajit that the Report [Ext. 8(a)] is sufficient to establish the corrupt practice of undue influence within the meaning of section 123(2). I cannot accept this contention. There is nothing in Ext. 8(a) to show that Provakar and others entered the booth with a view to interfering with the free exercise of any electoral right. The grievance of the crowd is thus described in the said Report:

"Their grievance, as I could collect, was that the 4th Polling Officer (Shri Gostha Behari Dutta) was instructing the voters in such a measure as to influence their respective voters.....The 4th P.O. (Polling Officer) was therefore changed to another place to satisfy the grumblers."

So from Ext. 8(a) it cannot be said that Pravakar and his followers directly or indirectly interfered or attempted to interfere with the free exercise of any electoral right. On the contrary they made demonstration with a view to ensuring the free exercise of electoral right. They are not hit by either of the two paragraphs in proviso (a) to section 123(2). Therefore, in my opinion, Ext. 8(a) does not establish the charge of the corrupt practice of undue influence as against Pravakar. Oral evidence on this point has been discarded by the Tribunal, and I think, rightly so. We were not asked to scan the oral evidence adduced on behalf of Ajit. This ground in the cross-objection therefore fails.

It is next argued that the election of Pravakar should be set aside for adopting the corrupt practice of undue influence at the polling booth at Ganderpukur. The oral evidence on this point has rightly been discarded by the Tribunal. But stress was laid on Ext. 8, Report of the Presiding officer at Ganderpukur. In the said Report under the heading "Law and order" the Presiding Officer says this:

"It was difficult to maintain law and order from 10 a.m. So I informed O/C of Singur police-station to help me through the police No. K-1943 and I got his help."

The report was concluded as follows:

"Law and order can be only maintained with the help of O/C, Singur station, when he arrived after 4-30 p.m. Poll concluded smoothly at 8 p.m."

This Report Ext. 8 is too vague to establish the charge of undue influence as against Pravakar or his supporters. Moreover it is in evidence that in this area 90 per cent. of the voters cast their votes and the percentage of voting at Ganderpukur and Khosalpur was the highest among all the polling stations. Even if it be assumed that the corrupt practice of undue influence was committed in the interest of Pravakar, there is no evidence to show that the result of election was materially affected. I am therefore of opinion that this argument too, on behalf of Ajit, fails.

Our attention was drawn on behalf of Ajit to Annexure C to the Election Petition in proof of corrupt practice committed by Pravakar by inducing voters to vote by invoking divine displeasure or spiritual censure and by soliciting votes on the ground of religion. Annexure C to the petition is the same as Ext. 1. The allegations relating to Annexure C, a pamphlet containing extracts from various newspapers, are contained in paragraph 10 of the petition, the gist of which has been given towards the beginning of my judgment. On a consideration of the evidence on records the Tribunal came to the following conclusion: "Considering the evidence on record, it is difficult for me to believe that any appeal was made on the ground of religion at Singur Bazar meeting. I am also unable to believe that respondent No. 1 read out extracts from the pamphlet (Ext. 1) or he and his supporters distributed copies of the same." No attempt was made on behalf of Ajit to show that this conclusion of the Tribunal is not supported by the evidence on record I too do not find any reason to disagree with the Tribunal on this point.

Extracts were read out to us from this pamphlet, and our attention was specially drawn to the extract from the newspaper "poygam" under the caption "Communism in the eyes of Islam" to convince us that Pravakar committed corrupt practice by asking the voters to vote for him and refrain from voting for Ajit on religious ground. In view of the above finding of the Tribunal, accepted by me, I do not think it necessary to consider the effect of the aforesaid pamphlet (Ext. 1). This ground too in the cross-objection fails.

An objection was taken on behalf of Ajit to the postal ballots cast in favour of Pravakar. I may point out that no such objection has been taken in the grounds of cross-objection. I, however, agree with the Tribunal that the said postal ballots in favour of Pravakar are not liable to be rejected. It seems sub-rule (6) of rule 62 was not strictly complied with. Covers in Form 13B were opened by the Returning Officer before sealing the declarations in Form 13A. There is nothing to show that this has in any way interfered with the secrecy of the ballot. In my opinion failure to strictly comply with sub-rule (6) of rule 62 on the facts and circumstances of the case is of little or no consequence. The postal ballots in favour of Provakar cannot be rejected for this. Grounds for rejecting postal ballots are to be found in the various sub-rules of rule 62, and non-compliance with sub-rule (6) is not one of them. Besides, in my opinion sub-rule (6) is directory and not mandatory. This objection is therefore overruled.

No other grounds were pressed before us on behalf of Ajit. I am therefore of opinion that the cross-objection cannot succeed.

Before finishing my judgment I should like to state that a preliminary objection was taken on behalf of the returned candidate Pravakar as to the maintainability of the cross-objection. As I am not prepared to allow the cross-objection even in part I do not propose to pass any opinion on this preliminary objection.

The result is that the appeal of Provakar succeeds and the cross-objection by Ajit is dismissed. The order of the Tribunal declaring the election of Pravakar void is set aside. As to costs I fully agree with the direction given by my learned brother.

By order,

V. RAGHAVAN,

Under Secy. to the Election Commission, India.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

This industrial dispute arising out of the Labour Department Order No. 4699-I R.|IR|4L-29|63, dated 21st November 1963, of the Government of West Bengal between Messrs. Walford Transport Limited, 71 Park Street, Calcutta-16, and their workmen represented by Automobile Sales Staff Association of West Bengal, 13 Circus Row, Calcutta-17, has been sent to this Tribunal with the issue regarding gratuity.

Both the parties duly appeared and submitted their written statements. At the hearing stage of the proceeding, the parties, however, amicably settled the dispute and filed on 13th June 1964 a joint petition of compromise containing the terms of settlement. I heard on the petition of compromise and on consideration of the terms of settlement I find that they are reasonable, legal and voluntary. The joint petitio of compromise is marked Annexure "A" which shall form part of the award which I hereby pass. The case is disposed of on the terms of settlement mentioned in the said petition.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Union Paper & Board Mills Ltd., 59 Kalicharan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-50, and their workmen represented by Union Paper and Board Mills Mazdur Union, 90 B. T. Road, Calcutta-2. (Case No. VIII-315 63.)

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 5157|I.R. IR 11L-472|63, dated the 17th December 1963.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified?

1. Shri Hasai Jaiswarh.
2. Shri Kunner Kurmi.
3. Shri Abdul Karim.

To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

After the parties had filed their respective written statements and necessary preliminary proceedings had been taken, the case was fixed for fixing a date of hearing and filing lists of documents, if any, by the parties on 12th June 1964. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out therein the terms upon which the dispute under reference had been amicably settled between them and praying for an award in terms of the settlement.

I have heard the representatives of the parties and considered the terms of settlement. The terms appear to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide amicable settlement of the dispute in terms of the joint petition of compromise. Accordingly, I would make a compromise award in those terms, as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties on 12th June 1964, a copy thereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

The issue framed for adjudication in this case runs as follows:

Bonus for the year 1962-63.

AWARD

The Union claims bonus for the year 1962-63 at the rate of six months' total wages. The Company submitted a written statement challenging that the claim of the workmen was not justified on the available surplus calculated according to the Full Bench Formula. The Company agrees to pay bonus at five months' basic salary for workmen earning up to Rs. 100 (basic) per month, and three and half months' basic salary for other workmen. The terms are fair and reasonable and may be accepted. I accordingly make an award in terms of the petition of compromise which will form part of the award as Annexure "A". ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Avery Company of India (P) Ltd., Avery House, 28/2 Waterloo Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Union of Avery Employees, Sramik Bhawan, 177 B Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-14. (Case No. VIII-259/63.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser of Indian Engineering Association.

For the Union: Shri Nikhil Ranjan Roy, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, Order No. 4513-I.R./IR/11L-322(B)/62, dated 6th November 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Avery Company of India (P) Ltd., Avery House, 28/2 Waterloo Street, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by the Union of Avery Employees, Sramik Bhawan, 177 B Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-14 (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issues framed in this case for adjudication are as follows:

1. Grades and scales of pay.
2. Privilege leave and sick leave.

AWARD

This is a reference arising out of a dispute between the clerical and subordinate staff of the Company working in the Head Office and the Area Office located in Waterloo Street and British Indian Street in Calcutta on the one hand and the Company on the other. The Company is engaged in the manufacture of weighing machines and servicing the same as also various types of weighing and testing machines. It is complained by the Union that the workmen do not receive wages on the need-based minimum. The existing wage structure of the different categories of workmen is shown in Annexure A to the Union's written statement. The report of the Fair Wage Committee laid down the principles on which minimum wage is to be fixed. The need-based minimum for working class cannot be less than Rs. 210.97 nP. The need-based minimum for the middle class family would be higher by 80 per cent., and it would be Rs. 378.97 nP. The present scale of the different categories of workers is far short of the fair wage. The claim of the Union is embodied in paragraph 15 of its written statement.

The Union further claims revision of the privilege leave and sick leave, and the claim in this respect is embodied in paragraph 19 of the written statement.

The Union placed before the Tribunal for comparison the scales of pay of Voltas Ltd., Brooke Bond Ltd., India Tyre & Rubber Company, Bird & Co., Andrew Yule and Co., Shaw Wallace and Co. and Imperial Chemical Industry in Annexure B to its written statement.

The Union also shows the leave facilities enjoyed by the workmen of some other concern of the same region.

The Company filed a written statement stating that the grades and scales of pay and basic wages of the workmen of this Company were fixed by an award of Shri Sarkar published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 21st July 1960, and that the Union is not entitled to claim revision of the said award within such a short time. The Company maintains wage scales which are fair and adequate and they compare favourably with those prevalent in other industries in the region. The Company also contends that the concerns listed in Annexure B to the Union's written statement are not comparable concerns with the present Company, and the wage scale of this Company can only be considered on region-cum-industry basis.

The Company also contends that the leave facilities enjoyed by the workmen of this Company also compare favourably with those available to the workmen employed in similar establishments in the vicinity.

Decisions

Issue No. 1—Grades and scales of pay

The existing pay structures for the different categories of workmen involved in this dispute are as follow:

Clerical staff junior grade (non-graduates and typists) - Rs. 70—5—100—10 150—E. B.—10—170.

Junior grade, i.e., Grade I (graduates and typists) —Same as above with the modification that the initial start is at Rs. 90 instead of Rs. 70.
Senior Grade, i.e., Grade II—Rs. 170 10 250.

The Union claims higher scale for the junior grade clerks, though the starting remains the same according to that claim, the grade claimed by the Union on this score being Rs. 70 5 100- 10—200- -15- -260. The Union's claim for Grade II staff is Rs. 170--10--270--15—420.

In the case of stenographers, bearers, drivers, sweepers, durwans, etc., the claim is made at a higher scale and the initial pay remains the same except in the case of stenographers and sweepers.

A comparative wage chart can be found in Ext. A filed by the Company, and it is admitted to be correct. Now the question is whether the existing scale is to be revised and fixed at a higher stage as claimed. The Company objects to the revision of the scale of pay firstly on the ground that Shri Sarkar made an award on the same issue in July 1960 and he decided that the scale should not be revised. Fixation of scale of pay is a long term affair and revision thereof should not be undertaken so soon. The law on this point can be found in the case of Balmer Lawrie reported in F.L.R. 1964(8), page 112. Technical consideration of res judicata cannot be allowed to hamper the discretion of the Industrial Tribunal because of the special characteristic of industrial adjudication. If the paying capacity of the employer increases or the cost of living shows an upward trend, or there are anomalies, mistakes and errors in the award fixing the wage structure, or there had been rise in the wage structure in comparable industries in the region, industrial employees would be justified in claiming for re-examination of the wage structure. In the present case, the Union has shown that there has been some rise in the cost of living since the award of 1960 was made. Shri Sarkar in his award observed as follows:

> "The adequacy of a pay scale should be judged on regional basis by comparison with the pay scales of similar concerns in the neighbourhood, and the pay scales of the engineering industries as settled by the award of the Third Major Engineering Industries Tribunal should be taken as the prevailing standard rates in this region."

This view of Shri Sarkar is attacked on the side of the Union. The Union argues that Shri Sarkar ignored the fact that there are few concerns similar to the present Company (Messrs. Avery Company of India Pvt. Ltd.) manufacturing weighing scales in the particular region, and that in making comparison of the clerical staff of this Company, greater emphasis should be put on the region aspect on industry-cum-region formula. Obviously, Shri Roy, learned representative for the Union, invites reference to the Greaves Cotton's case reported in 1964 I L.L.J., page 342. In that reported case, the following observations were made by their lordships of the Supreme Court after referring to the two cases of the Supreme Court, namely, Hindusthan Motors and French Motor Car Company's cases:

> "The principle, therefore, which emerges from these two decisions is that in applying the industry-cum-region formula for fixing the wage scales, the Tribunal should lay stress on the industry part of the formula, if there are a large number of concerns in the same region carrying on the same business; in such a case, in order that the production cost may not be unequal and there may be equal competition, wages should generally be fixed on the basis of the comparable industries, namely, industries of the same kind. But where the number of industries of the same kind in a particular industry is small, it is the region part of the industry-cum-region formula which assumes importance particularly in the case of clerical and subordinate staff, for as pointed out in the French Motor Car Company's case, there is not much difference in the work of this class of employees in different industries."

In the reported case, the Tribunal leaned more on the region part of the industry-cum-region formula, and this was approved by the Supreme Court. The Industry-cum-Region Formula has been laid down in the Express Newspapers case reported in A.I.R. 1958, S.C. page 578, and the principle of fixation of wages had been discussed therein. The question of capacity of the industry to pay is to be considered on an industry-cum-region basis after taking a fair cross section of the industry. In the case reported in 1959 I L.L.J. S.C. page 431, the law with regard to the principle of fixation of wages was discussed at page 442. The Crown Aluminium case was referred to as laying down the principle of social welfare and common good. The Express Newspapers case was also discussed in the reported case as well as in the present case. The question is not one of payment of living wages. The Union does not claim raising of the minimum wage. It is a case of payment of fair wages which still fall short of the living wages. For payment of fair wages, the financial capacity of the industry is undoubtedly a relevant consideration. The question of capacity of the industry to pay a fair wage has been considered in the Express Newspapers case. Normally, therefore, in deciding the question of capacity of the industry to pay, one is called upon to consider the wage structure of similar industries, i.e., industries manufacturing weighing machines in the same region. In the present case, the Company's witness Shri Ayenger stated in his evidence that there is another Company, namely, Indian Machineries Company of Dasnagar, Howrah, which also manufactures weighing machines and its Head Office is at Strand Road, Calcutta. No other Company could be cited by him as being engaged in the manufacture of weighing machines. It must, therefore, be said that there are very few standard similar industries. It is therefore vitally suggested on behalf of the Union on the strength of the Greaves Cotton's case referred to above, that the region part of the industry-cum-region formula should assume importance, particularly when in the case of clerical and subordinate staff, there is not much difference in the work of these classes of employees in different industries. The award of Shri Sarkar ignored this aspect, and as such revision of the grades and scales of pay may be claimed by the Union, provided that the Union succeeds in proving that there should be a revision. This brings us to Annexure B to the Union's written statement. In Annexure B the Union stated that some other Companies having offices in the same region are paying higher scales of pay to their workmen. In the written statement of the Company, the scales as laid down in Annexure B to the Union's written statement, are not denied. I can, therefore, safely assume that Annexure B lays down the correct scales of the Companies listed therein. On behalf of the Company it is urged that the Companies listed in Annexure B to the Union's written statement are Managing Agency concerns and are engaged in different industries. This is no doubt a fact. But though they are engaged in different industries and are Managing Agency concerns, they being located in the same region can come into the picture for comparison in view of the fact that the present Company does not plead any financial incapacity to bear the burden of increased pay structure. The Company is financially very prosperous, and I had occasion to observe in another award that the Company paid 200 per cent. dividend to its shareholders. The Company is undoubtedly possessed of considerable finance to bear the burden of increased pay structure. In that view of the matter, it will not be a serious defect if the trading results of the present Company are not disclosed along with the Companies listed in Annexure B to the Union's written statement. Annexure B includes Voltas Ltd having four grades for clerks, Brooke Bond Ltd. having three grades for clerks and India Tyre & Rubber Co. Ltd. having three grades for the clerical staff. Besides, the grades and scales of pay for clerks as prevalent in Bird & Co., Andrew Yule and Co., Shaw Wallace and Co. and Imperial Chemical Industries are also mentioned in this Annexure B to the Union's written statement. On a perusal of Annexure B, it will be seen that the Junior Grade Clerks in all those Companies are getting more than Rs. 170 which is the highest in this Company, and the Senior Grade Clerks are getting more than Rs. 250 which is the highest in the instant Company. The grades vary in different Companies, and it would not be fair to adopt the highest scale for the workmen of this Company available therefrom. The increase in the scale of the instant Company should be reasonable and it should not be a big jump from the present scale and also it should compare reasonably with the scale of the Companies listed in Annexure B. In fixing the scale of pay, the total wage packet including dearness allowance should also be taken into consideration. The Tribunal should not only consider basic wages, but also dearness allowance in considering the total wage packet. The present Company pays dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. A statement has been filed by the Company showing the said scale in accordance with the varying rise in the cost of living. According to the Union, the cost of living index is between 491 and 500 since April 1963 up to December 1963 and January 1964. According to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale, dearness allowance is given at Rs. 160 for the first Rs. 100 (basic), 80 per cent. on the second Rs. 100 (basic) and 40 per cent. on the third (basic). The Companies listed in Annexure B to the Union's written statement also pay dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. Bird & Co. pays dearness allowance on the basis of an award made on 30th April 1949, Shaw Wallace and Andrew Yule on the basis of an award, dated 30th May 1949, while Imperial Chemical Industries pays dearness allowance on the same rate under the Mercantile Award, dated 2nd August 1949. Thus a large majority of the concerns listed in Annexure B pay dearness allowance on the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. It is not in dispute that Voltas Ltd. is an engineering concern, while the other Companies listed in Annexure B are not. But the fact remains that they are also Companies having their office in the same region. So far as the clerical staff is concerned, the work in all those concerns would be of the same nature. It does not matter if the other Companies listed in Annexure B are not engineering concerns. Even though Voltas Ltd. is an engineering concern, it cannot be said that it carries on the same industry like the present Company (Avery Company). Voltas Ltd. and the present Company are engaged in the manufacture of two different kinds of machineries, and as such they are not engaged in the same industry, and so there can also be no competition between the two. On the strength of the observation made by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the Greaves Cotton case, I should take into consideration the scales of pay prevalent in the concerns listed in Annexure B in the matter of revision of the scales of pay of the clerical staff of the present Company. On the side of the Company, it is urged that the scales fixed by the Third Major Engineering Omnibus Award should be the standard. It is true that that is the general standard for all the engineering industries. But it cannot be considered as a rigid standard for an industry having capacity to pay higher scales. Moreover, in the Third Engineering Omnibus Award, the question of region did not acquire much importance, the very nature of the award being omnibus. I am not unmindful of the fact that the concerns listed in Annexure B to the Union's written statement, are Managing Agency concerns and are expected to earn considerable profits as Managing Agents. Their trading results are not, however, disclosed. I cannot, therefore, saddle the present Company with the wage structure of those Managing Agency concerns in toto. But the scale which I should revise in respect of the present Company, should approach the wage structure of those Companies as nearly as practicable. Having regard to the fact that those concerns are paying positively higher scales for their clerical staff, I am inclined to raise the scales of the clerical staff of the present Company to some extent keeping in view the Company's present scale and taking note that the increase which is given is only reasonable and proper.

First of all, I will consider the Junior Grade (Grade I). The claim is that it should go up to Rs. 260. I am in favour of raising the scale up to Rs. 200 in the following manner: Efficiency Bar remains at Rs. 150 as before. But after the E.B. is crossed, the increment will be at Rs. 10 per year up to Rs. 200 instead of Rs. 170. With regard to Graduates, they will get higher start at Rs. 90 as before.

With regard to Senior Grade (Grade II), the maximum of the scale would be Rs. 300 in place of Rs. 250. The usual increment of Rs. 10 will carry on up to Rs. 300 and end there, instead of stopping at Rs. 250.

I have taken into consideration the total pay packet in this respect. Dearness allowance is paid according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme. On this basis of that scheme, basic salary up to Rs. 100 gets the maximum benefit of neutralisation. Basic salary of the second Rs. 100 does not get full neutralisation of the cost of living, but neutralisation is effected to a certain percentage. That is why I have raised the maximum of the Junior Grade from Rs. 170 to Rs. 200. The third Rs. 100 of the basic salary gets lesser percentage of neutralisation, and taking this into consideration, the highest scale of the senior grade clerks has been raised from Rs. 250 to Rs. 300.

With regard to stenographers, the claim is for higher start by Rs. 20 with the maximum of Rs. 340. I have compared the scales of stenographers as mentioned in Annexure B to the Union's written statement. The present scale of the Company does not compare very much unfavourably with the scales shown in Annexure B. The stenographers will, therefore, start at Rs. 100 and I am not willing to disturb it. There are two grades for stenographers in Brooke Bond Ltd. In the present case, the Union does not claim multiplication of the grades for stenographers, and I do not intend to disturb the grade of the stenographers as it stands. On the side of the Union it is urged that the female stenographers are getting higher scale. But there is no record before me in this respect.

Now I will consider the claim of the subordinate staff. The bearers and peons have a scale which ends at Rs. 54. The claim is that it should go up to Rs. 86. Having considered the scales of bearers in Annexure B, I raise the scale of bearers and peons to Rs. 60. The increment of Rs. 1.50 nP. will continue until the maximum of Rs. 60 is reached. It may be mentioned here that the subordinate staff do not get dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. They get dearness allowance at a different scale as disclosed in the comparative statement filed by the Company (Ext. A). Dearness allowance neutralises the cost of living to a considerable extent. But there was rise in the cost of living in recent times, and the industry has capacity to pay as already found by me. I have compared the scales of pay of the subordinate staff of the Company with the scales of pay of similar staff in different Companies as listed in Annexure B to the Union's written statement. I am in favour of raising the scale to some extent in order to bring it in conformity with the scales of pay available to the subordinate staff in other Companies with an eye to avoid putting in any serious burden upon the finance of the Company. In this view of the matter, I raise the scale of pay of bearers and peons to Rs. 60 from Rs. 54 as existing.

Similarly, the scale of pay of head bearers should also go up to Rs. 89 instead of Rs. 85, the increment remaining the same.

In the case of drivers, the maximum of the scale would go up to Rs. 100 instead of Rs. 96.

Now I come to the case of sweepers. They start at Rs. 30. The claim is that they should start at Rs. 35. I think the claim is justified in view of the fact that Rs. 35 is the minimum start for bearers and durwans. The job of sweepers is no less onerous. The maximum of the scale of sweepr is raised to Rs. 50 instead of Rs. 45. The increment will be Re. 1 as usual.

With regard to durwans, they start at Rs. 35 and end at Rs. 54. I raise the maximum to Rs. 60 in the same manner as in the case of bearers and peons.

With regard to head durwan, the maximum is fixed at Rs. 89 instead of Rs. 85. The usual increment of Rs. 2 will continue.

In this manner, the scales and grades of pay of the clerical and subordinate staff are revised. Now the question is at what point of time, the new revised scales of pay should come into operation. The reference was made on 6th November 1963. The learned representative for the Company submits that increment is paid to all categories of employees on 1st January every year. In my considered opinion, the new revised scales should be given effect to from 1st January 1964 and the Company is directed accordingly.

Coming to the question of adjustment, the case of sweepers should be clarified. Since their initial start would be at Rs. 35 with effect from 1st January 1964, all the sweepers who were getting less than Rs. 35 on 1st January 1964 would be entitled to have their pay fixed at Rs. 35 on the said date and they would not be entitled to any further advantage.

Issue No. 2—Privilege leave and sick leave

Now I will come to the Union's case with regard to privilege leave and sick leave. The Company grants privilege leave for 14 days cumulative up to 28 days for employees of less than 10 years' service, and 28 days a year cumulative up to 42 days in the case of employees serving for more than 10 years. The Union claims that there should be one month's privilege leave every year cumulative up to three months. The Union in this respect relies on the leave facilities granted by the Companies listed in Annexure C to the Union's written statement. The Company denies the correctness of this Annexure C. The witness for the Union stated that he collected the figures of Annexure C from the Unions concerned and from some of his friends working in different Companies. The correctness of the figures is challenged, and it will appear from the cross-examination of Shri Sunil Kumar Roy that the correctness of the figures are successfully assailed on the part of the Company. It would, therefore, be unsafe to rely upon those figures of Annexure C. With regard to privilege leave, the Company makes a distinction between employees serving for less than 10 years and for more than 10 years. I see no point in maintaining this distinction. I am in favour of removing this distinction, and privilege leave would be enjoyed by every one of the clerical staff for 28 days per year cumulative up to a maximum of 42 days. Privilege leave is accordingly revised by me in this case.

With regard to sick leave, the Company grants 15 days' sick leave on full salary per year, subject to a maximum of 12 months in the whole service career. The Union claims 21 days sick leave in place of 15 days. I do not think there is any reason for enlarging the period of sick leave. The sick leave will remain the same for the clerical staff.

With regard to subordinate staff, they enjoy privilege leave for 14 days in a year and there is no reason for revising the same. Regarding sick leave, there is no claim by the Union so far as the subordinate staff is concerned.

Subject to the modifications indicated above, the leave rules remain unchanged. Revision in the leave rules will take effect from 1st January 1964.

This is my award.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A Industrial Disputes Act by Shrimati Subhasini Pathak, Midwife, Purulia Municipality (represented by Shri Balai Chatterjee, General Secretary, West Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation, 213KL Traffic Quaters, Asansol), against the Purulia Municipality represented by the Administrator of that Municipality. (Case No. 152|63 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the applicant: Shri B. Chatterjee, LL.B., General Secretary, West Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation.

For the Municipality: Shri S. Roy, of the West Bengal Municipal Association.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, made by Shrimati Subhasini Pathak, formerly employed as a Midwife under the Purulia Municipality, which is the O.P. in the present case, complaining that she was illegally, unjustly and unreasonably dismissed or discharged from service on some vague, unfounded and unreasonable grounds by the Administrator in charge of the Municipality by his Order, dated 27th October 1960, in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, though the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Municipality and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3623-I.R., dated 19th July 1960, were then pending before this Tribunal.

It is alleged by the applicant that she was a permanent worker of the Municipality and had put in about 10 years of honest and sincere service to the Municipailty before her discharge or dismissal complained of in the present case. She was thrown out of employment for no fault on her part. Her discharge or dismissal was against the provisions of Industrial Disputes Act and also the provisions of Bengal Municipal Act. She claims reinstatement with back wages.

The application is opposed by the Municipality. The contention urged on behalf of the Municipality before this Tribunal are as follows. The present application under section 33A is not maintainable in law or on facts. The Board of Municipal Commissioners was superseded and the Municipality was placed in charge of an official Administrator. On or about 27th October 1960 the then official Administrator found that the retention of the post of Midwife held by the present applicant was no longer necessary in view of the facilities provided for maternity cases in the Government Hospital and so he abolished the post and terminated the service of this applicant with effect from 1st December 1960 by his Order, dated 27th October 1960. In doing so, the Administrator also took into consideration the poor financial condition of the Municipality. The fact of termination of service of Shrimati Subhasini Pathak was duly intimated to the Assistant Labour Commissioner with reasons for not paying any compensation. No intimation was received from the Assistant Labour Commissioner and the matter was treated as disposed of by the Administrator. The termination of service of Shrimati Subhasini Pathak was justified on the grounds that retention of her post was no longer necessary and the financial condition of the Municipality was also very poor. There was no breach of any provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The undisputed facts of the present case are as follows. At the time of her discharge or dismissal, the applicant was a permanent worker in confirmed service and had put in about 10 years' service. No charge-sheet was given to her for any misconduct or neglect of duty. She was straightaway informed by the Administrator's letter, dated 27th October 1960, that her service would terminate with effect from 1st December 1960, because the Municipality had no longer any necessity for retaining a Midwife and the post of Midwife that she was holding would be abolished with effect from that date. Exhibit B is a copy of that letter. This letter was given effect to and her service was terminated from 1st December 1960. No compensation was paid to her for such termination of her service. It is now contended on behalf of the Municipality that it was a case of retrenchment and not a case of discharge or dismissal by way of punishment and as such, it could not come under the purview of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, though the adjudication proceedings of another dispute referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3623-I.R., dated 19th July 1960, were pending at the time of the discharge or dismissal. It is next urged that this being the position, there was no contravention of any relevant provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, and so the present application under section 33A is not maintainable. It is proved by evidence and it is not also disputed that the only duty of this applicant when she held the post of Midwife was to attend to maternity cases in the houses of rate-payers on calls given to her and for attending such calls at the rate-payers' houses, she was entitled to a maximum remuneration of Rs. 5 from the party calling her and she was to get this remuneration in addition to her pay and other allowances from the Municipality. So, she was not appointed as a Midwife attached to any hospital or establishment run by the Municipality, but the Municipality kept her in service for the purpose of providing help in maternity cases at the residential houses of the rate-payers. Exhibit D is the copy of the proceedings, dated 21st October 1960, relating to the subject of the post of Midwife. It appears from Ext. D that the Administrator considered that the Municipality had no longer any necessity for retaining a Midwife on the following recorded grounds:

> "Records do not show that her services were even requisitioned by any rate-payer unable to pay her fees. Nor is there any record to show what work she had been doing. There is a first class Government Hospital here besides maternity clinics. Rich and poor people can easily utilise these institutions. Hence retention of a midwife is no longer necessary and would amount to waste of Municipal funds."

I have already indicated above that the post of Midwife held by the present applicant was not attached to any Municipal Hospital or other establishment, but it was created for the purpose of giving aid to maternity cases at the rate-payers' houses on their requisitions. So, the existence of a first class Government Hospital and other maternity clinics could not be a sufficient ground for discharging her. The evidence is that the Government Hospital is in existence since before the creation of this post of Midwife. There is nothing to prove that the Midwife was to keep any record of works done in private houses by her. When there was no rule for maintaining such a record, the absence of any record to show that work she had been doing could not also be a reasonable ground for discharging her. At least, she should have been given some time to show her work by a direction for keeping a record of her work and submitting the record monthly to the Municipal authorities. It appears that she was summarily discharged on a personal view of the Administrator and no opportunity was given to her to explain the circumstances which apparently weighed with the Administrator in discharging her. In the above view of the patent facts and circumstances of the case, it cannot but be held that it was an arbitrary discharge of the Midwife by the Administrator simply on the basis of some personal views held by him. Even if it was a case of retrenchment on the ground that her services were no longer necessary, it may be stated at once that no sufficient grounds for retrenchment have been established. The personal views of the Administrator expressed in the proceedings, Ext. D, cannot, in my view, amount to sufficient legal grounds for retrenchment of this woman worker. I have already indicated above that she was employed as an independent Midwife unattached to any Hospital or other establishment simply for the purpose of giving aid to maternity cases at the houses of rate-payers and so the existence of Government Hospital and other maternity homes would not be a sufficient ground for abolishing her post as unnecessary. It is also to be noted that she was not paid any compensation. If the Administrator treated it to be a case of retrenchment, certainly she would have been paid some compensation. The conduct of the Administrator shows that he did not treat it as a case of retrenchment. Payment of compensation is one of the essential pre-conditions of retrenchment under section 25F, Industrial Disputes Act. In this view of the matter, I cannot accept the present contention of the Municipality that her discharge was a case of retrenchment and as such it could not fall under the purview of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, and consequently the present application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, would not be maintainable. No doubt, a case of retrenchment for reasons other than by way of punishment would not come under the scope of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act. This principle has been decided in the case of Silver Cloud Estate vs. Labour Court, Coimbatore & Ors. [LLJ 1960(II), 571]. I fully accept the principle laid down in this case. But, this principle cannot affect the present application. I am unable to hold that it was a case of bona fide retrenchment. No doubt, there is nothing to show that she was discharged or dismissed by way of punishment for any misconduct. It is contended on this position on behalf of the Municipality that her discharge or dismissal complained of in the present case cannot also come under the purview of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, as it was not effected for any misconduct unconnected with the dispute in respect of which adjudication proceedings were pending before this Tribunal at that time. The correct legal position appears to me to be that section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, covers not only a case of discharge or dismissal by way of punishment for some misconduct unconnected with the dispute but also a case of a discharge simpliciter, which is not by way of punishment. This has been laid down by the Bombay High Court in the case of National Machinery Manufacturers Ltd. vs. Vyas P. D. & another [LLJ 1961(II), 274]. In my view of the facts and circumstances of the case relating to the termination of service of this applicant, it was nothing but a case of discharge simpliciter. I have already indicated above that it was not and could not be a bona fide retrenchment, nor was it a case of discharge or dismissal by way of punishment. The simple position was that the Administrator had some notions of his own about the necessity for retaining the post held by this worker and on the basis of such notions, he discharged or terminated the services of this worker in exercise of the inherent right of the employer to terminate the service of a worker whom the employer did not like to keep in service. As a case of discharge simpliciter, it certainly fell within the purview of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, and the employer was bound to comply with the requirements of the proviso to that section because of the pendency of the adjudication proceeding of another dispute, already referred to this Tribunal. The employer did not comply with these requirements and as such, there was contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in the present case. So, the present worker is legally entitled to maintain the present application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act. The application cannot, therefore, fail on the ground that it does not lie under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act. As to the merits of the case, I have indicated and held above that it was a case of arbitrary discharge of the worker by the Administrator and the discharge was not justified and the grounds for discharge given by the Administrator were not tenable. The applicant is, therefore, entitled to appropriate relief against such discharge. As it is a case under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, it is to be treated as a reference under section 10 and disposed of accordingly. As to the reliefs admissible to this worker, I am of the view that having regard to the overall facts and circumstances of the case, she should get some compensation but not reinstatement. The fact remains that the post has been abolished by the Administrator and it is no longer in existence. Another very pertinent fact is that the present application under section 33A was made after much delay. In fact, it was made more than two and half years from the date of the impugned discharge. Although law has not provided for any limitation of time for an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, still the application should be made within a reasonable time. It is contended that the application was delayed, as the matter was referred to the local Assistant Labour Commissioner and this worker was expecting that the Assistant Labour Commissioner would take some steps, but when after waiting for a long time, it was found that no step was taken by the Assistant Labour Commissioner, she made the present application. No doubt, it is an undisputed position that the matter of her discharge was intimated to the local Assistant Labour Commissioner by the Administrator, but thereafter nothing was done by the local Assistant Labour Commissioner. Even assuming that there was unreasonable inaction on the part of the local Assistant Labour Commissioner, the worker should not have delayed so much in making the present application. This delay, though it would not by itself lead to the failure of this application on the ground of limitation, would certainly be taken into consideration in granting relief to this worker. Having come with this application with such inordinate delay, she is not, in my view, entitled to the relief of reinstatement, though her discharge has been found to be arbitrary and unjustified. She should get compensation and I think that it would be sufficient to allow her compensation in the nature of retrenchment compensation. She had put in more than 10 years' service at the time of her discharge. I would allow her five months' full wages at the rate last drawn by way of compensation.

In the result, I allow this application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, and award that the discharge of this applicant with effect from 1st December 1960 was really a discharge simpliciter by the then Administrator of the Municipality, but the discharge was arbitrary and not justified and she would get only compensation for the arbitrary and unjustified discharge without reinstatement in service and the compensation would be equivalent to five months' full wages at the rate last drawn by her. I further award that the Municipality shall pay her this compensation within 15 days from the publication of this award.

2. An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

3. A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point.

(3) Fee: Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal Order, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commissioner of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

Note: A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(4) Address: Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(5) Canvassing: Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(6) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e. g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected

(8) In any suit or other proceeding in which a record-of-rights revised or prepared and finally published under this Chapter, or a duly certified copy of the record or an extract therefrom, is produced, such record-of-rights shall be presumed to have been finally published unless such publication is expressly denied.

(9) Every entry in the record-of-rights finally published under sub-section (2) including an entry revised under sub-section (4) or corrected under section 51B shall, subject to any modification by an order on appeal under sub-section (5), be presumed to be correct until it is proved by evidence to be incorrect.

Correction of entry in record-of-rights.

51B. Any Revenue Officer specially empowered by the State Government in this behalf may, of his own motion at any time or on application within one year from the date of certificate of the final publication of the record-of-rights under sub-section (2) of section 51A, correct any entry in such record-of-rights which he is satisfied has been made owing to a bona fide mistake:

Provided that no such correction shall be made if an appeal affecting such entry has been made under sub-section (5) of section 51A or until reasonable notice has been given to the parties concerned to appear and be heard in the matter.

Bar to jurisdiction of Civil Court in respect of certain matters.

51C. When an order has been made under sub-section (1) of section 51 directing revision or preparation of a record-of-rights, no Civil Court shall entertain any suit or application for the determination of revenue or the incidents of any tenancy to which the record-of-rights relates, and if any suit or application in which any of the aforesaid matters is in issue, is pending before a Civil Court on the date of such order, it shall be stayed and it shall, on the expiry of the period prescribed for an appeal under sub-section (5) of section 51A or when such an appeal has been filed under that sub-section, as the case may be, on the disposal of such appeal, abate so far as it relates to any of the aforesaid matters.

Explanation.—In this section "suit" includes an appeal.

Appointment of Special Judge.

51D. The State Government may appoint a person who is or has been a District Judge or an Additional District Judge to be a Special Judge for the purpose of sub-section (5) of section 51A.".

Amendment of section 59.

21. In section 59 of the said Act,—

(i) for the words "The following", the words "Without prejudice to the provisions of clause (p) of section 2 of the West Bengal Estates Acquisition Act, 1953, the following" shall be substituted, and West Ben. Act I of 1954.

(ii) the proviso shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The provisions of the West Bengal Land Reforms Act, 1955, except those relating to bargadars and a few other related matters, could not be enforced so long because of the delay in the preparation of the record-of-rights. The preparation of the record-of-rights has now been completed except in a few small areas in some districts. It is, therefore, necessary to give effect to the remaining provisions of the Act.

2. Before this is done, it is considered necessary to make better provisions for certain matters and to remove some lacunae in the Act. It is accordingly proposed to amend the Act:—

(i) to exclude tea-gardens from the purview of the Act;

(ii) to restrain a raiyat from digging or using earth and clay of his holding for the manufacture of bricks or tiles, except for his own use, without the permission in writing of the State Government;

(iii) to define certain rights of the raiyat in respect of his holding;

(iv) to preclude accrual of the right of a raiyat in land gained by gradual accession to his holding from the recess of a river or sea;

(v) to provide for the resumption and resettlement of land abandoned by a raiyat without notice to the State Government and without arranging for payment of revenue;

(vi) to make comprehensive provisions regarding alienation of land by a raiyat belonging to a Scheduled Tribe;

(vii) to prescribe a time-limit for filing of an application by an owner claiming his arrear share of the produce from a bargadar;

(viii) to empower an officer or authority mentioned in sub-section (2) of section 18 to allow time to bargadar to deliver the share of the produce due to the owner or to pay the price thereof by annual instalments in cases where the bargadar made default in the delivery of such share due to doubt as to whether the land had vested in the State under the West Bengal Estates Acquisition Act, 1953;

(ix) to empower a Munsif hearing an appeal under sub-section (1) of section 19 to make, for sufficient cause, an order staying execution of the order appealed against;

(x) to revise the existing principles of assessment of revenue;

(xi) to make comprehensive provisions for revision of record-of-rights; and (xii) to provide for other ancillary matters.

3 The Bill has been framed with the above objects in view.

Member-in-charge.

NOTIFICATION

No. P.H./2007/21B-40/64.—7th July 1964.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the city of Calcutta is threatened with an outbreak of small-pox;

Now, therefore in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe for a period of six months the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of small-pox, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from or suspected of being infected with small-pox in the said city:—

Regulations

1. (1) These regulations shall apply to Calcutta as described in Schedule I to the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951 (West Bengal Act XXXIII of 1951), as deemed to have been amended under section 594 of that Act.

(2) They shall come into force at once.

Definitions

2. In these regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the Calcutta Corporation.

(b) "District Health Officer" means the Health Officer of the district appointed by the Corporation of Calcutta.

(c) "Assistant Sanitary Officer" means an Inspector appointed by the Calcutta Corporation.

(g) "Medical practitioner" means any person practising the medical profession.

Notices

4. If any measure which the Director of Health Services, West Bengal, or the Health Officer, or District Health Officer has, by a notice issued under regulation 20, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice, the Director of Health Services, West Bengal, or the Health Officer, or a District Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation

5. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the Corporation of Calcutta except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by such person:

Provided that where the conditions, which led the Director of Health Services, West Bengal, or the Health Officer, or a District Health Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the person in possession of the property, the Corporation may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Corporation of Calcutta may recover all expenses incurred by the Director of Health Services, West Bengal, or the Health Officer, or a District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

6. The Corporation shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

No. 1830L.—14th July, 1964.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 66 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE LAND ACQUISITION (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1964.

A

to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, in its application to West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, in its application to West Bengal, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; 1 of 1894.

It is hereby enacted in the Fifteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Land Acquisition (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1964.

Application of the Act. 2. The Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), shall, in its application to West Bengal, be amended for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter provided.

The Land Acquisition (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1964.

(Clauses 3, 4.)

Insertion of new section 32A in Act 1 of 1894.

3. After section 32 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"Compensation awarded to minors and lunatics to be paid.

32A. If, according to an award made by the Collector under this Act, the person interested entitled to any compensation or costs awarded (hereafter in this section referred to as the payee) is a minor or a lunatic, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Act or in any other law, the amount of such compensation or costs may be paid by the Collector before it is deposited in the Court under sub-section (2) of section 31 or by the Court after it is so deposited but before it is invested under section 32,—

(a) where the payee is a minor, to the guardian of the minor, and (b) where the payee is a lunatic, to the manager of the estate of the lunatic appointed under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912: 4 of 1912.

Provided that except in the case of the following classes of guardians, that is to say,

(i) a natural guardian,

(ii) a guardian appointed by the will of a minor's father or mother,

(iii) a guardian appointed or declared by a Court, and

(iv) a person empowered to act as or exercise the powers of a guardian by or under any enactment relating to court of wards, no payment as aforesaid shall be made unless the guardian furnishes security in accordance with prescribed rules.".

Amendment of section 33.

4. In section 33 of the said Act, for the words "the last preceding section", the word and figures "section 32" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 31 read with section 32 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (1 of 1894), payment of compensation awarded for acquisition of lands cannot be made to persons who are not competent to alienate such lands. The moneys payable to such persons have, therefore, to be deposited in Court whereupon the Court makes suitable investment of the moneys. The moneys so deposited and invested are paid to the interested persons on their becoming absolutely entitled thereto. Withholding of payment of such compensation to minors and lunatics, who are not competent to alienate their lands, is causing them much hardship. In order to mitigate their hardship, it is proposed to amend the Act to provide for earlier and expeditious payment of compensation to them under certain circumstances.

2. The Bill has been framed with the above object in view.

Calcutta,
The 7th July, 1964.

Member-in-charge.
